Bowker Company. Department of Bibliography, 1978 Book Presence in a Digital Age Kiene Brillenburg Wurth, Kári Driscoll, Jessica Pressman, 2018-06-28 Contrary to the apocalyptic pronouncements of paper media's imminent demise in the digital age there has been a veritable surge of creative reimaginings of books as bearers of the literary From typographic experiments Mark Z Danielewski's House of Leaves Steven Hall's The Raw Shark Texts to accordion books Anne Carson's Nox from cut-ups Jonathan Safran Foer's Tree of Codes to collages Graham Rawle's Woman's World from erasures Mary Ruefle's A Little White Shadow to mixups Simon Morris's The Interpretations of Dreams print literature has gone through anything but a slow inevitable death. In fact it has re-invented itself materially. Starting from this idea of media plurality Book Presence in a Digital Age explores the resilience of print literatures, book art and zines in the late age of print from a contemporary perspective while incorporating longer term views on media archeology and media change. Even as it focuses on the materiality of books and literary writing in the present Book Presence also takes into consideration earlier 20th century moments of media transition developing the concepts of presence and materiality as analytical tools to perform literary criticism in a digital age. Bringing together leading scholars, artists and publishers Book Presence in a Digital Age offers a variety of perspectives on the past, present and future of the book as medium, the complex relationship of materiality to virtuality and of the analog to the digital. Subject Catalog Library of Congress, 1970

The Making of 2001: A Space Odyssey Stephanie Schwam, 2010-07-21 If 2001 has stirred your emotions, your subconscious, your mythological yearnings, then it has succeeded. Stanley Kubrick's extraordinary movie 2001 A Space Odyssey was released in 1969. The critics initially disliked it, but the public loved it. And eventually the film took its rightful place as one of the most innovative, brilliant and pivotal works of modern cinema. The Making of 2001: A Space Odyssey consists of testimony from Kubrick's collaborators and commentary from critics and historians. This is the most complete book on the film to date, from Stanley Kubrick's first meeting with screenwriter Arthur C. Clarke to Kubrick's exhaustive research to the actual shooting and release of the movie. McLuhan: A Guide for the Perplexed W. Terrence Gordon, 2010-02-25 Marshall McLuhan was dubbed a media guru when he came to prominence in the 1960s. The Woodstock generation found him cool, their parents found him perplexing. By 1963 McLuhan was Director of the Centre for Culture and Technology at the University of Toronto and would be a public intellectual on the international stage for more than a decade, then linked forever to his two best known coinages: the global village and the medium is the message. Taken as a whole, McLuhan's writings reveal a profound coherence and illuminate his unifying vision for the study of language, literature and culture grounded in the broad understanding of any medium or technology as an extension of the human body. McLuhan: A Guide for the Perplexed is a close reading of all of his work with a focus on tracing the systematic development of his thought. The overriding objective is to clarify all of McLuhan's thinking to consolidate it in a fashion which prevents misreading and to open the way to advancing his own program, ensuring that the world does not sleepwalk into the twenty-first century with nineteenth-century perceptions. The International Politics of Communication Alan Chong, 2025-03-18 In an era of globalization, international communication constantly takes place across borders, defying sovereign control as it influences opinion. While diplomacy between states is the visible face of international relations, this informal diplomacy is usually less visible but no less powerful. Information politics can be found in propaganda, Internet politics, educational exchanges, tourism and even popular film. The International Politics of Communication examines this informational dimension of international politics investigating how information is generated conveyed through channels and directed specifically at audiences While citizens are often portrayed as faithfully loyal supporters and beneficiaries of the modern nation state a fiction supported by passports identification papers and other notarized credentials they are subject to the pulls of loyalty from transnational tribal affiliations mythological and historical narratives of ethnicity as well as the transcendental claims of religion and philosophy Increasingly social media also enchants non state individuals providing new virtual communities as the center of loyalties rather than national affiliations By reinterpreting taken for granted concepts in journalism media political economy nationalism development and propaganda as information politics this book prepares serious minded scholars citizens politicians and social activists everywhere to understand the power plays in international communication and use alternatives to begin transforming power relations

Distant Early Warning Alex Kitnick, 2021-06-29 Marshall McLuhan 1911 1980 is best known as a media theorist many consider him the founder of media studies but he was also an important theorist of art Though a near household name for decades due to magazine interviews and TV specials McLuhan remains an underappreciated yet fascinating figure in art history His connections with the art of his own time were largely unexplored until now In Distant Early Warning art historian Alex Kitnick delves into these rich connections and argues both that McLuhan was influenced by art and artists and more surprisingly that McLuhan's work directly influenced the art and artists of his time Kitnick builds the story of McLuhan's entanglement with artists by carefully drawing out the connections among McLuhan his theories and the artists themselves The story is packed with big names Marcel Duchamp Niki de Saint Phalle Jasper Johns Andy Warhol Nam June Paik and others Kitnick masterfully weaves this history with McLuhan's own words and his provocative ideas about what art is and what artists should do revealing McLuhan's influence on the avant garde through the confluence of art and theory The illuminating result sheds light on new aspects of McLuhan showing him not just as a theorist or an influencer but as a richly multifaceted figure who among his many other accolades affected multiple generations of artists and their works The book finishes with Kitnick overlaying McLuhan's ethos onto the state of contemporary and post internet art This final channeling of McLuhan is a swift and beautiful analysis with a personal touch of art's recent transgressions and what its future may hold

The Poetics of Information Overload Paul Stephens, 2015-07-30 Information overload is a subject of vital ubiquitous concern in our time The Poetics of Information Overload reveals a fascinating genealogy of information saturation through the literary lens of American modernism Although technology has typically been viewed as hostile or foreign to poetry Paul Stephens outlines a countertradition within twentieth and twenty first century literature in which avant garde poets are centrally involved with technologies of communication data storage and bureaucratic control Beginning with Gertrude Stein and Bob Brown Stephens explores how writers have been preoccupied with the effects of new media since the advent of modernism He continues with the postwar writing of Charles Olson John Cage Bern Porter Hannah Weiner Bernadette Mayer Lyn Hejinian and Bruce Andrews and concludes with a discussion of conceptual writing produced in the past decade By reading these works in the context of information systems Stephens shows how the poetry of the past century has had as a primary focus the role of data in human life
