Route To Modernism:

A Route to Modernism R. Sumner, 2000-05-03 The question What is modernism has provoked intense critical discussion A Route to Modernism explores this area it focuses on the strange and dangerous journey taken by Hardy Lawrence and Woolf towards unknown regions of the mind and the universe In a discussion of these novelists both individually and in relation to one another a radical reconsideration of modernism is developed Woolf envisaged her contemporaries flashing past on another railway line A Route to Modernism shows the hypothetical train of Hardy Lawrence and Woolf not following an existing track but tunnelling beneath surfaces following routes which are spasmodic fragmentary sometimes taking off like a rocket into the cosmos Their fragmented modernist works deny us the comfort of a single meaning either in works of art or in the world This book offers new approaches to modernism while insisting on books being left open no conclusion come to

André Biéler David Karel, André Charles Biéler, 2004 Contient une biographie d'André Biéler p 187 200 Modernism and the Theater of Censorship Adam Parkes, 1996-02-22 Adam Parkes investigates the literary and cultural implications of the censorship encountered by several modern novelists in the early twentieth century He situates modernism in the context of this censorship examining the relations between such authors as D H Lawrence James Joyce Radclyffe Hall and Virginia Woolf and the public controversies generated by their fictional explorations of modern sexual themes These authors located obscenity at the level of stylistic and formal experiment The Rainbow Lady Chatterley's Lover Ulysses and Orlando dramatized problems of sexuality and expression in ways that subverted the moral political and aesthetic premises on which their censors operated In showing how modernism evolved within a culture of censorship Modernism and the Theater of Censorship suggests that modern novelists while shaped by their culture attempted to reshape it Fundamentalism Versus Modernism Eldred Cornelius Vanderlaan, 1925 Time Frames Scott Nygren, 2007 Building the Post-war World Nicholas Bullock, 2002 Building the Post War World offers for the first time an overall account of Modern Architecture in the decade after the Second World War Translocated Modernisms Emily Ballantyne, Marta Dvořák, Dean Irvine, 2016-10-04 Translocated Modernisms is a collection of ten chapters partitioned into sections and framed by an introduction by the editors and a coda by Kit Dobson which is interested in those who thronged to the vibrant streets cafés and salons of Montparnasse those who stayed such as Brion Gysin and Mavis Gallant those who returned home such as Morley Callaghan John Glassco David Silverberg and Sheila Watson and those who galvanized local cultural practices by appropriating and translating them from elsewhere While for some Paris becomes a permanent home for others it is simply a temporary excursion which can last for months or for many years The collection opens up the Lost Generation to include multiple generations and broadens its ambit to encompass modernist writers placed under erasure by dominant narratives of Anglo American modernism Instead of limiting the category to a single group based on a collective identity this volume considers lost generations as a particular type of modernist identity attributable to multiple and disparate collectivities These lost generations include those excluded from canonical narrativizations of expatriate modernisms among which we spy the glimmer of other modernists living in the shadows of luminaries long recognized in the Anglo American tradition Hip to the Trip Peter B.
