Anthropologists and Their Traditions Across National Borders Regna Darnell, Frederic W. Gleach, 2014-11-01 Volume 8 of the Histories of Anthropology Annual series the premier series published in the history of the discipline explores national anthropological traditions in Britain the United States and Europe and follows them into postnational contexts Contributors reassess the major theorists in twentieth century anthropology including the work of luminaries such as Franz Boas Claude Lévi Strauss Bronisław Malinowski A. R. Radcliffe Brown and Marshall Sahlins as well as lesser known but important anthropological work by Berthold Laufer A. M. Hocart Kenelm O. L. Burridge and Robin Ridington among others These essays examine myriad themes such as the pedagogical context of the anthropologist as a teller of stories about indigenous storytellers the colonial context of British anthropological theory and its projects outside the nation state the legacies of Claude Lévi Strauss's structuralism regarding culture specific patterns cognitive universals reflected in empirical examples of kinship myth language classificatory systems and supposed universal mental structures and the career of Marshall Sahlins and his trajectory from neo evolutionism and structuralism toward an epistemological skepticism of cross cultural miscommunication

The Correspondence of Ezra Pound and the Frobenius Institute, 1930-1959 Ezra Pound, 2024-02-22 Collecting in full for the first time the correspondence between Ezra Pound and members of Leo Frobenius Forschungsinstitut für Kulturmorphologie in Frankfurt across a 30 year period this book sheds new light on an important but previously unexplored influence on Pound's controversial intellectual development in the Fascist era. Ezra Pound's long-term interest in anthropology and ethnography exerted a profound influence on early 20th-century literary Modernism. These letters reveal the extent of the influence of Frobenius' concept of Paideuma on Pound's poetic and political writings during this period and his growing engagement with the culture of Nazi Germany. Annotated throughout, the letters are supported by contextualising essays by leading Modernist scholars as well as relevant contemporary published articles by Pound himself and his leading correspondent at the Institute, the American Douglas C. Fox.

Doing Anthropology in Wartime and War Zones Reinhard Johler, Christian Marchetti, Monique Scheer, 2014-04-09 World War I marks a well-known turning point in anthropology and this volume is the first to examine the variety of forms it took in Europe. Distinct national traditions emerged and institutes were founded partly due to collaborations with the military. Researchers in the cultural sciences used war zones to gain access to informants: prisoner of war and refugee camps, occupied territories even the front lines. Anthropologists tailored their inquiries to aid the war effort, contributed to interpretations of the war as a struggle between races and assessed the warlike nature of the Balkan region whose crises were key to the outbreak of the Great War.

Embodied Nation Simon Creak, 2017-08-31 This strikingly original book examines how sport and ideas of physicality have shaped the politics and culture of modern Laos. Viewing the country's extraordinary transitions from French colonialism to royalist nationalism to revolutionary socialism to the modern development state through the lens of physical culture, Simon Creak's lively and incisive narrative illuminates a nation that has no reputation in sport and is typically viewed even from within as a country of cheerful but lazy people. Creak argues that sport and related physical practices including physical education, gymnastics and military training have shaped a national consciousness by locating it in everyday experience. These practices are popular, participatory, performative and above all physical in character and embody ideas and ideologies in a symbolic and experiential way. Embodied Nation takes readers on a brisk ride through more than a century of Lao history from a nineteenth-century game of tikhi, an indigenous game resembling field hockey, to the country's unprecedented outpouring of nationalist sentiment when hosting the 2009 Southeast Asian Games. En route we witness a Lao-Vietnamese soccer brawl in 1936, the fascist-inspired body ethic of the early 1940s, the novel modes of military masculinity that blossomed with national independence, the spectacular state theatrics of power represented by Olympic-inspired sports festivals and the high hopes and frequent failures of socialist sport in the 1970s and 1980s. Of central concern in Creak's narrative are the twin motifs of gender and civilization. Despite increasing female participation since the early twentieth century, he demonstrates the major role that sport and physical culture have played in forming hegemonic masculinities in Laos. Even with limited national sporting success, Laos has never won an Olympic medal; the healthy, toned and muscular form has come to symbolize material development and prosperity. Embodied Nation outlines the complex ways in which these motifs, through sport and physical culture, articulate with state power. Combining cultural and intellectual history with historical thick description Creak draws on a creative array of Lao and French sources from previously unexplored archives newspapers and magazines and from ethnographic writing war photography and cartoons More than an imagined community or geobody he shows that Laos was also a body at work making substantive theoretical contributions not only to Southeast Asian studies and history but to the study of the physical culture nationalism masculinity and modernity in all modern societies

Amitav Ghosh's Culture Chromosome, 2021-11-01 An Indian Bengali by birth Amitav Ghosh has established himself as a major voice in what is often called world literature addressing issues such as the post colonial and neo colonial predicaments the plight of the subalterns the origin of globalisation and capitalism and lately ecology and migration The volume is therefore divided according to the four domains that lie at the heart of Ghosh's writing practice anthropology epistemology ethics and space In this volume a number of scholars from all over the world have come together to shed new light on the works and poetics of Amitav Ghosh according to the epistemic frameworks that form the bedrock of his fiction Contributors Safoora Arbab Carlotta Beretta Lucio De Capitani Asis De Lenka Filipova Letizia Garofalo Swapna Gopinath Evelyne Hanquart Turner Sabine Lauret Taft Carol Leon Kuldeep Mathur Fiona Moolla Sambit Panigrahi Madhsumita Pati Murari Prasad Luca Raimondi Pabitra Kumar Rana Ilaria Rigoli Sneharika Roy John Thieme Alessandro Vescovi

Cold War Anthropology David H. Price, 2016-03-26 David H Price uses information from CIA FBI and military records to map the connections between academia and the strategic use of anthropological research to further the goals of the U S military and outline the major influence the American security state has had on the field of anthropology

Nation-Building in Indian Anthropology Abhijit Guha, 2022-10-06 Researches on the history of anthropological studies in India unlike in western countries has not yet been an established tradition despite the fact that courses on the growth and development of anthropology in India are being taught at the graduate and postgraduate levels in the Indian universities and are strongly recommended by the University Grants Commission Indian anthropologists however in the early decades after the independence made inspiring and solid research contributions on the major problems encountered by the new nation which has been described and analysed in detail in this book These problems include rehabilitation of refugees after the 1947 Partition and displacement of people from their homes and land caused by the big dams industrialization and famines This book result of years of painstaking research by the author critically reviews the existing works and their gaps in the history of Indian anthropology and makes a new and valuable addition in the field of the history of academic disciplines in the context of nation building It should be read not only as a text by the students of anthropology and sociology but also as a reference work for researchers interested in the history of social sciences and development studies in India Guide to Reference in Genealogy and Biography Mary K. Mannix,Fred Burchsted,2015-01-14 Profiling more than 1400 print and electronic sources this book helps connect librarians and researchers to the most relevant sources of information in genealogy and biography

Out of the Study and Into the Field Robert Parkin,Anne de Sales,2010-06-01 Outside France French anthropology is conventionally seen as being dominated by grand theory produced by writers who have done little or no fieldwork themselves and who may not even count as anthropologists in terms of the institutional structures of French academia This applies to figures from Durkheim to Derrida Mauss to Foucault though there are partial exceptions such as L vi Strauss and Bourdieu It has led to a contrast being made especially perhaps in the Anglo Saxon world between French theory relying on rational inference and British empiricism based on induction and generally skeptical of theory While there are contrasts between the two traditions this is essentially a false view It is this aspect of French anthropology that this collection addresses in the belief that the neglect of many of these figures outside France is seriously distorting our view of the French tradition of anthropology overall At the same time the collection will provide a positive view of the French tradition of ethnography stressing its combination of technical competence and the sympathies of its practitioners for its various ethnographic subjects

A Day in a Working Life Gary Westfahl,2015-04-21 Ideal for high school and college students studying history through the everyday lives of men and women this book offers intriguing information about the jobs that people have held from ancient times to the 21st century This unique book provides detailed studies of more than 300 occupations as they were practiced in 21 historical time periods ranging from prehistory to the present day Each profession is examined in a compelling essay that is specifically written to inform readers about career choices in different times and cultures and is accompanied by a bibliography of additional sources of information sidebars that relate historical issues to present day concerns as well as related historical documents Readers of this work will learn what each profession entailed or entails on a daily basis how one gained entry to the vocation training methods and typical compensation levels for the job The book provides sufficient specific detail to convey a comprehensive understanding of the experiences benefits and downsides of a given profession Selected accompanying documents further bring history to life by offering honest testimonies from people who actually worked in these occupations or interacted with those in that field

contributors this Dictionary is destined to become the definitive one stop reference source for authoritative information on key figures in the field of anthropology      Encyclopedia of Modern French Thought Christopher John Murray, 2004 This work covers not only philosophy but also all the other major disciplines including literary theory sociology linguistics political thought theology and more The 240 analytical entries examine individuals such as Bergson Durkheim Mauss Sartre Beauvoir Foucault Levi Strauss Lacan Kristeva and Derrida specific disciplines such as the arts anthropology historiography psychology and sociology key beliefs and methodologies such as Catholicism deconstruction feminism Marxism and phenomenology themes and concepts such as freedom language media and sexuality and historical political social and intellectual context From publisher's description      The Nature of Endangerment in India Ezra Rashkow, 2023-01-30 This book is a study of the concepts of endangerment and extinction Examining interlinking discourses of biological and cultural diversity loss in western and central India it problematizes the long history of human endangerment and extinction discourse

Historical Companion to Postcolonial Literatures - Continental Europe and its Empires Prem Poddar, 2011-09-21 The first reference work to provide an integrated and authoritative body of information about the political cultural and economic contexts of postcolonial literatures that have their provenance in the major European Empires of Belgium Denmark France G      Anthropologist and Imperialist C. J. Fuller, 2023-10-05 Sir Herbert Hope Risley 1851 1911 H H Risley as he always signed himself was a member of the Indian Civil Service ICS from 1873 to 1910 who served in Bengal and became a senior administrator and policymaker in the colonial government as well as the pre eminent anthropologist in British India He was also an imperialist who was convinced of the rightness of civilising British rule and its benefits for both India and Britain and one of this book's objectives is to render his simultaneous commitment to anthropology and imperialism intelligible to present day readers More specifically Anthropologist and Imperialist H H Risley and British India 1873 1911 documents the two sides of Risley's career which is used as a case study to investigate first the production and circulation of colonial knowledge specifically anthropological knowledge and secondly its often loose and inconsistent connection with administration and policymaking and with the government and state overall Risley like other officials engaged in anthropology in India as well as the government itself insisted that ethnography and anthropology had both administrative and scientific value unlike previous works on Indian colonial anthropology this book carefully examines its scientific contributions in relation to contemporary metropolitan anthropology It does not attempt to reinvent greatman political or intellectual history but does demonstrate the importance of studying the powerful officials who ruled British India as well as the minor provincial politicians and subaltern subjects or the abstract forces such as colonialism and resistance that have dominated recent historical scholarship This book shows too that a detailed inquiry into Risley's career and his ideas and actions can open new perspectives on a variety of continuing debates including those over the colonial construction of caste and race in traditional India orientalism and forms of colonial knowledge Victorian anthropology's close relationship with the British empire and the modern discipline's uneasy links with its colonial past Print edition not for sale in South Asia India Sri Lanka Nepal Bangladesh Pakistan and Bhutan      The Law of Kinship Camille Robcis, 2013-04-19 In France as elsewhere in recent years legislative debates over single parent households same sex unions new reproductive technologies transsexuality and other challenges to long held assumptions about the structure of family and kinship relations have been deeply divisive What strikes many as uniquely French however is the extent to which many of these discussions whether in legislative chambers courtrooms or the mass media have been conducted in the frequently abstract vocabularies of anthropology and psychoanalysis In this highly original book Camille Robcis seeks to explain why and how academic discourses on kinship have intersected and overlapped with political debates on the family and on the nature of French republicanism itself She focuses on the theories of Claude Levi Strauss and Jacques Lacan both of whom highlighted the interdependence of the sexual and the social by positing a direct correlation between kinship and socialization Robcis traces how their ideas gained recognition not only from French social scientists but also from legislators and politicians who relied on some of the most obscure and difficult concepts of structuralism to enact a series of laws concerning the family Levi Strauss and Lacan constructed the heterosexual family as a universal trope for social and psychic integration and this understanding of the family at the root of intersubjectivity coincided with the role that the family has played in modern French law and public policy The Law of Kinship contributes to larger conversations about the particularities of French political culture the nature of sexual difference and the problem of reading and interpretation in intellectual history
