There are several factors that are not measured by this or different intelligence tests. These factors include motivation, curiosity, creative talent, work habits, study skills, and achievement in particular subjects. These factors should be taken into account when interpreting the results of testing.

Standard Scores (SD) or Composite Scores have a mean of 100 and a standard deviation of 15; therefore, scores of 90-100 fall within the average range (25-75%). Scaled Scores (SS) have a mean of 10 and a standard deviation of 3; scores in a range of 6-12 are considered low to high average (25-75%). Percentile scores range from 0% to 100%, with a mean of 50%. A percentile score indicates that a student exceeds approximately that percent of their entire peer group.

The Universal Nonverbal Intelligence Test - Second Edition (UNIT-2) is a collection of individually administered, specialized cognitive tests that are administered nonverbally to assess the general intelligence abilities of children and adolescents between the ages of 5 years and 21 years, 11 months. Because the UNIT-2 is administered in a totally nonverbal format (i.e., no spoken language is used by the examinee or examiner), it provides a fair, equitable, and comprehensive assessment of general intelligence for students with speech and/or language impairments, hearing impairments, vision deficiencies, culturally and/or linguistically diverse backgrounds, or are verbally uncommunicative (e.g., selectively/mutely mute, excessively shy/timid).
