Sychev, Nikolai M. Dronin, Frank Eulenstein, 2021-06-14 The book informs about agricultural landscapes their features functions and regulatory mechanisms It characterizes agricultural production systems trends of their development and their impacts on the landscape Agricultural landscapes are multifunctional systems coupled with all nexus problems of the 21st century This has led to serious discrepancies between agriculture and environment and between urban and rural population The mission key topics and methods of research in order to understanding monitoring and controlling processes in rural landscapes is being explained Studies of international expert teams many of them from Russia demonstrate approaches towards both improving agricultural productivity and sustainability and enhancing ecosystem services of agricultural landscapes Scientists of different disciplines decision makers farmers and further informed people dealing with the evolvement of thriving rural landscapes are the primary audience of this book Ethnobotany of the Mountain Regions of Eastern Europe Rainer W. Bussmann, Narel Y. Paniagua-Zambrana, Zaal Kikvidze, 2025-04-23 Natural resources and associated biological diversity provide the basis of livelihood for humans particularly in the rural areas and mountain regions around the world Over centuries indigenous peoples traditional societies and local communities have developed their own specific knowledge regarding plant use management and conservation The history of plant use by humans as food and to treat diverse ailments dates back to ancient civilizations Even though the advent of allopathic medicine has somehow minimized the role of medicinal plants in favor of synthetic drugs a number of modern drug discoveries have been based on medicinal plants used by indigenous peoples Ethnobiology is the burgeoning interdisciplinary scientific field which covers all types of interactions between plants and people and Eastern Europe is recognized as a plant diversity hot spot This new Major Reference Work on the Ethnobotany of Mountain Regions of Eastern Europe Carpathians covers in detail the mountains and valleys of this region which are known to be rich in unique medicinal and food plant species Local communities residing in the mountain regions of Eastern Europe possess unique knowledge of surrounding resources which is the result of many years of interaction with and selection of the most desirable and pervasive plant species present In this context this major reference work provides comprehensive information on cross culture variation in the traditional uses of plants as food medicine and for cultural purposes among these diverse communities residing in Eastern Europe The key areas of focus include plant diversity in the Carpathians cross cultural variation in traditional uses of plant species by these communities high value medicinal and food plant species and threats and conservation status of plant species and traditional knowledge Competitive

Authoritarianism Steven Levitsky, Lucan A. Way, 2010-08-16 Based on a detailed study of 35 cases in Africa Asia Latin America and post communist Eurasia this book explores the fate of competitive authoritarian regimes between 1990 and 2008 It finds that where social economic and technocratic ties to the West were extensive as in Eastern Europe and the Americas the external cost of abuse led incumbents to cede power rather than crack down which led to democratization Where ties to the West were limited external democratizing pressure was weaker and countries rarely democratized In these cases regime outcomes hinged on the character of state and ruling party organizations Where incumbents possessed developed and cohesive coercive party structures they could thwart opposition challenges and competitive authoritarian regimes survived where incumbents lacked such organizational tools regimes were unstable but rarely democratized
