Creation, Evolution, and Theology Fernando Canale, 2013-06-11 Should Christian theology accommodate the six day account of biblical creation to deep time several billion years evolution The prestige of empirical science has convinced many theologians and entire denominations that evolution is the true account of the history of life on earth For them evolution is just as true and certain as the fact that apple trees produce apples This conviction has compelled theologians to reinterpret Scripture and rearrange their beliefs to fit the new fact of evolutionary history In Creation Evolution and Theology An Introduction to the Scientific and Theological Methods Fernando Canale presents the basic structure of scientific methodology and its application to the construction of evolutionary history He shows the popular belief in the absolutely certain results of scientific methodology to be a myth something already acknowledged by scientific philosophers and postmodern critics Canale then explains how because of past historical accommodations in their theologies Roman Catholic and protestant theologies are now able to coherently adapt their beliefs to include evolution However Canale argues when Christians choose to develop their theologies from Scripture alone Christian theology cannot accommodate its beliefs to deep time evolutionary history without losing its essence and inner coherence Canale hopes that in the heated debate between Biblical Creationism and Evolutionism contenders will finally recognize the critical and foundational role methodologies play in the formation of evolutionary theory and Christian creationism The focus on methodology will unmask the fact of evolution as mere theory and help Christians understand that the accommodation of evolution hinges solely on the theological method they choose to follow

Scientific Theology: Theory Alister E. argues that theory is to be conceived in terms of the communal beholding of reality The many theoretical issues to be addressed in this volume include the manner in which closure is secured in theological theorizing the implications of the stratification of reality for its representation the place of metaphysics in Christian theology and the nature of revelation itself Viewed as a whole Theory represents a fresh evaluation of the origins and place of theory in Christian theology which is certain to provoke discussion and debate This third volume completes the A Scientific Theology series A Scientific Theology is a groundbreaking work of systematic theology in three volumes Nature Reality and Theory Now available as a three volume set Scientific theology Thomas Walter Barber,1884 Science and Religion Alister E. The Merging of Theology and Spirituality

Larry S. McDonald, 2006-07-29 While acknowledging the inherent tension between evangelicals who emphasize theological propositions and those who emphasize personal experience Alister McGrath believes that spirituality represents the interface between ideas and life between Christian theology and human existence The book explores the centrality of McGrath's theology in the development of his views on spirituality McGrath does not approach spirituality from a theological void but instead uses his theological perspective as the foundation Through detailed examination of McGrath's previous work and the writing of other evangelicals The Merging of Theology and Spirituality offers an overview of a unique thinker's contributions and a guide for future theological and spiritual exploration Natural and Cosmic Theodicy Jongseock James

Shin, 2022-10-21 This book presents a third way to envision the Creatorship of the Triune God who is both compassionate and eschatologically redemptive in providential presence rather than biasedly gravitating toward the openness of a self-limiting God or God's all-determining sovereignty Not only is God in with and under creation God's kenotic presence invites creatures to participate in the self-giving love of God through both general and special divine action in a top-down through bottom-up mode Creatio continua is God's own journey of fulfilling the eschatological promise for creation This redemptive presence of God in creation is a Trinitarian co-protesting against the power of death sin and evil considering the cosmic dimensions of the eschatological hope promised in the resurrection of Jesus The new creation is the ultimate fulfillment of creaturely freedom and contingency divinely granted in creatio ex nihilo In arguing this Shin engages in a comparative and critical study of natural and cosmic theodicy advanced by Catherine Keller Arthur Peacocke Wolfhart Pannenberg and Robert Russell An Introductory Essay to the Science of Comparative Theology; with a Tabular Synopsis of Scientific Religion ... Edward Webster (of Ealing.), 1870
