Sculptures from the North Palace of Ashurbanipal at Nineveh (668-627 B.C.) Richard David Barnett, 1976-01-01

Book Review of Sculptures from the North Palace of Ashurbanipal at Nineveh (668-627 B.C.), by R.D. Barnett and Assyrian Sculpture in the British Museum, by R.D. Barnett Edith Porada, 1980 Book Reviews of Sculptures from the North Palace of Ashurbanipal at Nineveh (668-627 B.C.), and of Assyrian Sculpture in the British Museum, by R.D. Barnett Edith Porada, 1980 The Architecture of Late Assyrian Royal Palaces David Kertai, 2015

The Late Assyrian Empire c 900 612 BCE was the first state to rule over the major centres of the Middle East and the Late Assyrian court inhabited some of the most monumental palaces of its time The Architecture of Late Assyrian Royal Palaces is the first volume to provide an in depth analysis of Late Assyrian palatial architecture offering a general introduction to all key royal palaces in the major centres of the empire Assur Kaluhu Dur Sharruken and Nineveh Where previous research has often focused on the duality between public and private realms this volume redefines the cultural principles governing these palaces and proposes a new historical framework analysing the spatial organization of the palace community which placed the king front and centre It brings together the architecture of such palaces as currently understood within the broader framework of textual and art historical sources and argues that architectural changes were guided by a need to accommodate ever larger groups as the empire grew in size War and Ethics in the Ancient Near East C. L.

Crouch, 2010-01-13 The monograph considers the relationships of ethical systems in the ancient Near East through a study of warfare in Judah Israel and Assyria in the eighth and seventh centuries BCE It argues that a common cosmological and ideological outlook generated similarities in ethical thinking In all three societies the mythological traditions surrounding creation reflect a strong connection between war kingship and the establishment of order Human kings military activities are legitimated through their identification with this cosmic struggle against chaos begun by the divine king at creation Military violence is thereby cast not only as morally tolerable but as morally imperative Deviations from this point of view reflect two phenomena the preservation of variable social perspectives and the impact of historical changes on ethical thinking The research begins the discussion of ancient Near Eastern ethics outside of Israel and Judah and fills a scholarly void by placing Israelite and Judahite ethics within this context as well as contributing methodologically to future research in historical and comparative ethics Couched in Death Elizabeth P. Baughan, 2013

In Couched in Death Elizabeth P Baughan offers the first comprehensive look at the earliest funeral couches in the ancient Mediterranean world These sixth and fifth century BCE klinai from Asia Minor were inspired by specialty luxury furnishings developed in Archaic Greece for reclining at elite symposia It was in Anatolia however in the dynastic cultures of Lydia and Phrygia and their neighbors that klinai first gained prominence not as banquet furniture but as burial receptacles For tombs wooden couches were replaced by more permanent media cut from bedrock carved from marble or limestone or even cast in bronze The rich archaeological findings of funerary

klinai throughout Asia Minor raise intriguing questions about the social and symbolic meanings of this burial furniture Why did Anatolian elites want to bury their dead on replicas of Greek furniture Do the klinai found in Anatolian tombs represent Persian influence after the conquest of Anatolia as previous scholarship has suggested Bringing a diverse body of understudied and unpublished material together for the first time Baughan investigates the origins and cultural significance of kline burial and charts the stylistic development and distribution of funerary klinai throughout Anatolia She contends that funeral couch burials and banqueter representations in funerary art helped construct hybridized Anatolian Persian identities in Achaemenid Anatolia and she reassesses the origins of the custom of the reclining banquet itself a defining feature of ancient Mediterranean civilizations Baughan explores the relationships of Anatolian funeral couches with similar traditions in Etruria and Macedonia as well as their afterlife in the modern era and her study also includes a comprehensive survey of evidence for ancient klinai in general based on analysis of more than three hundred klinai representations on Greek vases as well as archaeological and textual sources

The Queens of the Arabs During the Neo-Assyrian Period Ellie Bennett, 2024-05-14 The title Queen of the Arabs is applied in Neo Assyrian texts to five women from the Arabian Peninsula These women led armies offered tribute and held religious roles in their communities from 738 to approximately 651 BCE This book discusses what the title meant to the women who carried it and to the Assyrians who wrote about them Whereas previous scholarship has considered the Queens of the Arabs in relation to the military and economic history of the Neo Assyrian empire Eleanor Bennett focuses on identity using gender theory to locate points of the women s alterity in Assyrian sources and to analyze how Assyrian cultural norms influenced the treatment of the Queens of the Arabs

This kind of analysis shows how Assyrian perceptions of the Queens of the Arabs and of Arabian populations more generally changed over time As the Queens of the Arabs were located on the periphery of the Assyrian Empire Bennett incorporates data from the Arabian Peninsula The shift from an Assyrian lens to an Arabian one highlights inaccuracies in the Assyrian material which brings into focus Assyrian misunderstandings of the region The Arabian Peninsula also offers comparative models for the Queens of the Arabs based on Arabian cultures

Tales of Royalty Elisabeth Wagner-Durand, Julia Linke, 2020-07-20 The volume sheds light on Ancient Near Eastern kingship by focusing on its constant urge for legitimation Thus it highlights specific aspects like royal building activities warfare and wisdom and frames these into material and textual expressions that take the powerful form of narratives The contributions made in this volume look for specific topoi of kingship and examine which shapes they took and why The publication determines which narrative topoi have once been selected to legitimize kingship which media have been chosen to transmit these narratives and what kind of narrative strategies have been applied To consider both texts and images in the same margin the book is based on a dual approach referring to certain narrative themes both philological and archaeological material will be presented By joining diverse perspectives of scholars of material culture and texts and their various approaches the publication promises new and special insight into the connection of narration and legitimation in Mesopotamia It reflects Ancient Near Eastern kingship and its narrative strategies from a interdisciplinary and transmedial point of view and gives new insights into the matter of royal legitimation

The Triumph of the Symbol Tallay Ornan, 2005 This book analyzes the history of Mesopotamian imagery from the mid second to mid first millennium BCE It demonstrates that in spite of rich textual evidence which grants the Mesopotamian gods and goddesses an anthropomorphic form there was a clear abstention in various media from visualizing the gods in such a form True divine human shaped cultic images existed in Mesopotamian temples But as a rule non anthropomorphic visual agents such as inanimate objects animals or fantastic hybrids replaced these figures when they were portrayed outside of their sacred enclosures This tendency reached its peak in first millennium Babylonia and Assyria The removal of the Mesopotamian human shaped deity from pictorial renderings resembles the Biblical agenda not only in its avoidance of displaying a divine image but also in the implied dual perception of the divine according to the Bible and the Assyro Babylonian concept the divine was conceived as having a human form yet in both cases anthropomorphism was also concealed or rejected though to a different degree In the present book this dual approach toward the divine image is considered as a reflection of two associated rather than contradictory religious worldviews The plausible consolidation of the relevant Biblical accounts just before the Babylonian Exile or more probably within the Exile in both cases during a period of strong Assyrian and Babylonian hegemony points to a direct correspondence between comparable religious phenomena It is suggested that far from their homeland and in the absence of a temple for their god the Judahite deportees adopted and intensified the Mesopotamian avoidance of anthropomorphic pictorial portrayals of deities While the Babylonian representations remained confined to temples the exiles would have turned a cultic reality i e the nonwritten Babylonian custom into a written articulated law that explicitly forbade the pictorial representation of God

Late Bronze-Age Metal Artifacts off Hahotrim, Israel Shelley Wachsmann, 2025-05-30 During an inspection dive in 1980 along Israel s Mediterranean coast off of Kibbutz Hahotrim Shelley Wachsmann then Inspector of Antiquities for the Israel Department of Antiquities and Museums now the Israel Antiquities Authority discovered artifacts on a section of seabed swept clear of sand by a storm Scattered around two large stone anchors the finds consisted primarily of small broken or damaged pieces of metal artifacts and ingots Late Bronze Age Metal Artifacts off Hahotrim Israel comprises the careful analysis of the materials by Wachsmann and ten collaborators Examination of the artifacts along with the context in which they were found suggests that rather than being all that remains of an undiscovered ancient wreck the artifacts may have found their way to the seabed as jetsam dumped overboard by a crew hoping to extricate their vessel from a sand bar or other obstruction As Wachsmann notes the discovery and study of this humble group of artifacts provides evidence of a vibrant culture of maritime commerce that existed in the Late Bronze Age Mediterranean world prior to its collapse. Positing the existence of a dynamic international period when a system of land and sea trade routes stretched from Sardinia in the west to Iran in the east spanning roughly a tenth of the earth's circumference, this careful analysis adds important context to our evolving understanding of the interconnectedness of the Mediterranean world at a pivotal moment in history.

Prehistoric, Ancient Near Eastern & Aegean Textiles and Dress Mary Harlow, Cécile Michel, Marie-Louise

Nosch, 2014-09-30 Textile and dress production from raw materials to finished items has had a significant impact on society from its earliest history. The essays in this volume offer a fresh insight into the emerging interdisciplinary research field of textile and dress studies by discussing archaeological, iconographical, and textual evidence within a broad geographical and chronological spectrum. The thirteen chapters explore issues such as the analysis of textile tools, especially spindle whorls and textile imprints, for reconstructing textile production in contexts as different as Neolithic Transylvania, the Early Bronze Age North Aegean, and the Early Iron Age Eastern Mediterranean; the importance of cuneiform clay tablets as a documentary source for both drawing a detailed picture of the administration of a textile industry and for addressing gender issues such as the construction of masculinity in the Sumerian kingdoms of the 3rd millennium BC; and discussions of royal and priestly costumes and clothing ornaments in the Mesopotamian kingdom of Mari and in Mycenaean culture. Textile terms testify to intensive exchanges between Semitic and Indo-European languages, especially within the terminology of trade goods. The production and consumption of textiles and garments are demonstrated in 2nd millennium Hittite Anatolia; from 1st millennium BC Assyria, a cross-disciplinary approach combines texts, realia, and iconography to produce a systematic study of golden dress decorations; and finally, the important discussion of fibres, flax, and wool in written and archaeological sources is evidence for delineating the economy of linen and the strong symbolic value of fibre types in 1st millennium Babylonia and the Southern Levant. The volume is part of a pair, together with Greek and Roman Textiles and Dress: An Interdisciplinary Anthology, edited by Mary Harlow and Marie-Louise Nosch.

Gender and Aging in Mesopotamia Rivkah Harris, 2003

Rivkah Harris's cross-cultural and multidisciplinary approach breaks new ground in assessing Mesopotamian attitudes toward youth and mature adulthood, aging, and the elderly; generational conflict; gender differences in aging relationships between men and women; women's contributions to cultural activities; and the ideal woman. To uncover Mesopotamian perspectives, Harris combed through primary sources including literature and myth, letters, economic and legal texts, and visual materials. Even such pivotal cultural influences as the Gilgamesh Epic and Enuma Elish are reinterpreted in an original manner.
