The Sea Voyages of Edward Beck in the 1820s Edward Beck, Kenneth Michael Hay, Joy Roberts, 1996-01-01 The Sea Voyage of Edward Beck in the 1820s Kenneth M. Hey and Joy Roberts, 1996 Maritime Animals Kaori Nagai, 2023-08-31

This volume explores nonhuman animals involvement with human maritime activities in the age of sail as well as the myriad multispecies connections formed across different geographical locations knitted together by the long history of global ship movement Far from treating the ship as a confined space defined by the sea Maritime Animals considers the ship's connections to broader contexts and networks and covers a variety of locations from the Canadian Arctic to the Pacific Islands Each chapter focuses on the oceanic experiences of a particular species from ship vermin animals transported onboard as food and animal specimens for scientific study to livestock companion and working animals deep sea animals that find refuge in shipwrecks and terrestrial animals that hunker down on flotsam and jetsam Drawing on recent scholarship in animal studies maritime studies environmental humanities and a wide range of other perspectives and storytelling approaches Maritime Animals challenges an anthropocentric understanding of maritime history Instead this volume highlights the ways in which species through their interaction with the oceans tell stories and make histories in significant and often surprising ways In addition to the editor the contributors to this volume include Anna Boswell Nancy Cushing Lea Edgar David Haworth Donna Landry Derek Lee Nelson Jimmy Packham Laurence Publicover Killian Quigley Lynette Russell Adam Sundberg and Thom van Dooren Shipboard Literary Cultures Susann Liebich, Laurence Publicover, 2022-01-01

The essays collected within this volume ask how literary practices are shaped by the experience of being at sea and also how they forge that experience Individual chapters explore the literary worlds of naval ships whalers commercial vessels emigrant ships and troop transports from the seventeenth to the twentieth first century revealing a rich history of shipboard reading writing and performing Contributors are interested both in how literary activities adapt to the maritime world and in how individual and collective shipboard experiences are structured through and framed by such activities In this respect the volume builds on scholarship that has explored reading as a spatially situated and embodied practice As our contributors demonstrate the shipboard environment and the ocean beyond it place the mind and body under peculiar forms of pressure and these determine acts of reading and of writing and performing in specific ways Imperial Beast Fables Kaori Nagai, 2020-07-28 This book coins the term imperial beast fable to explore modern forms of human animal relationships and their origins in the British Empire Taking as a starting point the long nineteenth century fascination with non European beast fables it examines literary reworkings of these fables such as Rudyard Kipling's Jungle Books in relation to the global politics of race language and species The imperial beast fable figures variably as a key site where the nature and origins of mankind are hotly debated an emerging space of conservation in which humans enclose animals to manage and control them a cage in which an animal narrator talks to change its human jailors and a vision of animal cosmopolitanism in which a close kinship between humans and other animals is dreamt of Written at the intersection of animal studies and postcolonial studies this book proposes that the beast fable embodies the ideologies and values of the British Empire while also covertly critiquing them It therefore finds in the beast fable the possibility that the multitudinous animals it gives voice to might challenge the imperial networks which threaten their existence both in the nineteenth century and today Whitaker's Books in Print,1998 Masters Under God Richard Woodman,2009 Masters Under God presents the third of five books in Richard Woodman's groundbreaking history of the British Merchant Navy covering the period from 1817 to 1884 from the end of the Napoleonic War to the first steam ships bound for Australia then in the throes of a great immigration boom It encompasses gold rush fuelled emigration as well as the Opium Wars and the breaking down of trade barriers with Imperial China including the opening of the Suez Canal the laying of submarine telegraph cables and the birth of cruise companies like Cunard and P O The 1860s was the era of the beautiful tea clippers but it was also a period which began with the social status of the merchant marine at low ebb blighted by inebriation and ineptitude prior to Samuel Plimsoll's safety reforms Alongside the continuing development of the sailing ship and the downfall of the East India Company's monopoly on eastern trade the first steamers started plying along the coasts of Europe and America before venturing across the Atlantic and eventually the world This dazzling book continues the story of the mercantile marine where the previous volume finished and will leave you anticipating the next with baited breath a terrific book tackling a vast subject with a perceptive eye Lots of surprising facts and a salutary reminder that the Merchant Navy often played a far more critical role in Britain's history than the Royal Navy Dr David Cordingley Hunting the Last Great Pirate Michael Edward Ashton Ford,2020-05-30 A true century spanning saga of terror at sea a dramatic trial and a mystery at long last solved In 1827 the Duke of Wellington former Commander in Chief of the British Army and British Prime Minister ordered the withdrawal of British soldiers from the island of Ceylon after years of bloody conflict there English cargo vessels including the unarmed English Quaker ship Morning Star were dispatched to sail to Colombo to repatriate wounded British soldiers and a cargo of sealed crates containing captured treasure By January 1828 Morning Star was anchored at Table Bay Cape Town before joining an armed British convoy of East Indiamen heading north Heavily laden she struggled to keep up with the ships ahead But a heavily armed pirate ship and its master the notorious Benito de Soto were lying in wait off Ascension Island in the mid Atlantic to pick off stragglers from passing convoys This book tells the full story of how Morning Star was easily overhauled by the pirate and stopped with cannon fire the bloody events that followed the long quest to hold de Soto to account and the remarkable discovery that was made nearly a century later Annual Bibliography of British and Irish History,1999 Bibliography of Nautical Books Alan Obin,1999
