Shared Responsibility Families And Social Policy:

Shared Responsibility Robert Moroney, One of the fundamental issues confronting those who create analyze or work within the framework of modern American social welfare policy is the relationship of the family and the state in the delivery of social care through social services Dr Moroney develops the idea of the family as both recipient and dispenser of social services Simply and effectively he paints the landscape with respect to American families He focuses on two special cases families with frail elderly and families with severely mentally handicapped children The notion of shared responsibility between the family and state the nature of social welfare response through government programs and the professional response of social workers to families in need and some of the dilemmas inherent in formulating family policy in a multicultural pluralistic society are examined

Shared Responsibility Robert M. Moroney,1986-11 Families, Social Services, and Social Policy Robert Moroney,1980 Families and Social Policy Linda Haas,Steven K.

Wisensale,2006-11-01 Empirical research that describes ways to best handle social problems concerning families Leading authorities studies show that from the effects of globalization many social and family problems and their solutions tend to be similar in nations world wide Families and Social Policy National and International Perspectives explores Families, Social Services, and Social Policy Robert Moroney,1980 Family-Centered Policies and Practices Katharine Briar-Lawson,Hal

A. Lawson,Charles B. Hennon,2001-02-22 Analyzing the critical juncture of family centered policy and practice this book places the universal institution of the family in a global context By including a conceptual framework as well as practice components the authors offer an original multimodal approach toward understanding family centered policy practice from an international perspective It provides grassroots strategies for activists and practical guides for both students and practitioners and includes cutting edge interpretations of the impact of globalization on families social workers and other helping professionals and advocates

Serving the Elderly Paul Kim,2017-07-12 Broadly speaking there are two kinds of professional practice skills relevant to the burgeoning field of gerontological human service clinical modalities and macro strategies This book identifies seven essential approaches to clinical gerontology including five of the most important macro skills that all professionals in the field will need to acquire and it presents each of them in a single collection intended to serve as a basic text and reference work for academic and in service training Each contributor to this volume speaks with recognized expertise on his her preferred subject while mindful of the larger purpose of the collection as a whole In a concluding chapter Dr Kim draws on his own long and successful experience in obtaining financial support for his programs and provides a wealth of useful information on the preparation of grant proposals and the conduct of other fundraising activities Serving the Elderly is adaptable to the uses of a wide variety of geriatric health care providers from students and trainees in social work clinical psychology and other care giving professions to already established practitioners who are branching out in gerontology

Social Policy in Post-Industrial Singapore Kwen Fee Lian,Chee-Kiong Tong,2008-03-27 The contributors to this edited volume covering a range of social issues ranging from family and aging to sexuality and culture and the arts critically examine the relevance of social policy as it is understood in the West and addresses the question of whether Singapore's response is unique

Family Relations Timothy H. Brubaker, 1992-10-26 As the social world of American families feverishly changes single parent families dual career couples and blended families have quickly become the norm rather than the exception In Family Relations a distinguished group of leading family researchers including Joan Huber David Olson Hamilton McCubbin and Marilyn Coleman examines the social changes that have gripped society and explains their impact on family relationships and functioning Initial chapters address principal theories of change the remainder of the volume addresses the predominant challenges facing contemporary families such as work family interface violence family dysfunction family crisis divorce and the transition to marriage and parenthood The contributors make suggestions for change in family policy family therapy and family life education and conclude with an overview of the current state of families and future directions This comprehensive and interesting volume is for students family researchers sociologists psychologists counselors family life educators and policy analysts True to its aim it informs about the latest understandings and tools of intervention to help overcome the formidable challenges to the family there is some worthy scholarship to be found in this volume chapter 3 on gender and role change is a lively and readable summary British Journal of Social Work This volume has much to offer For example the volume contains demographic information often needed by practitioners and policymakers at a moment's notice Literature reviews not only summarize research on a particular topic but also are organized around a theoretical framework Well known authors have contributed scholarly insightful commentaries on current family issues and challenges for the future In short this book provides information that practitioners and policymakers could use to do the following establish the need and rationale for programming and applied research justify the expenditure of funds for children and families ground their work in theory and research conduct in service education and consider program evaluation strategies This book is well written and provides a valuable resource for the intended readership I look forward to the second volume Journal of Marriage and the Family Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications ,
