Sharing Child Care In Early Parenthood:

Sharing Child Care in Early Parenthood Malcolm Hill, 2023-02-13 Originally published in 1987 Malcolm Hill examines the different ways in which parents share responsibility for looking after their pre school children with other people whether members of their social networks formal groups or paid carers He also looks at the reasons parents give for choosing and changing their particular arrangements In this way he provides insights into a range of ideas which ordinary members of the public have about children s needs the rights and responsibilities of mothers and fathers and how children think and feel Marked differences are described in the social relationships of families and in notions about who is acceptable as a substitute carer for children in what circumstances and for what purpose Several of these contrasts are linked to attitudes and life conditions which are affected by social class The book identifies possible consequences for individual children s social adaptability resulting from these patterns of care It suggests that people working with the under fives could profit from adapting their activities and services to children s previous experiences of shared care and families differing expectations about groups for children

Growing Up in a Changing Society Ronnie Carr, Paul Light, Martin Woodhead, 2014-02-04 The final reader in the Child Development in Social Context series shows how the study of child development is inevitably bound up in more ephemeral cultural ideas about the nature and needs of children and in the educational practices that rise from these ideas Some readings point to the dangers which can arise from the meeting of science and cultural values using for illustration studies of the role of psychological theory in reinforcing social attitudes to child care inside and outside the family Other readings look at children s initiation into that relatively recent cultural invention the school and the relationship with their learning at home There are studies of their social development in classroom and playground with particular emphasis on ethnic relationships

Feminist Dilemmas in Qualitative Research Jane Ribbens, Rosalind Edwards, 1997-12-12 How can researchers produce work with relevance to theoretical and formal traditions and requirements of public academic knowledge while still remaining faithful to the experiences and accounts of research participants based in private settings Feminist Dilemmas in Qualitative Research explores this key dilemma and examines the interplay between theory epistemology and the detailed practice of research It does this across the whole research process access data collection and analysis and writing up research It goes on to consider ways of achieving high standards of reflexivity and openness in the strategic choices made during research examining these issues for specific projects in an open and accessible style Particular themes examined are the research dilemmas that occur from feminist perspectives in relation to researching private and personal social worlds the position of the researcher as situated between public knowledge and private experience and the dilemmas raised for researchers seeking to contribute to academic discourse while remaining close to their knowledge forms

Equal Parenthood and Social Policy Linda Haas, 1992-01-01 Sweden is the only society in the world that has as an official goal the equal participation of fathers and mothers in childcare Equal Parenthood and Social Policy analyzes the government program which best symbolizes this commitment to equal parenthood parental leave With return to one s original job being assured a Swedish couple has twelve months to divide between them so that one parent can stay home to care for their new offspring While a few other countries mostly in Scandinavia have paid parental leave available to fathers Sweden s program is the oldest and most generous as well as the one most closely committed to realizing complete equality between men and women in every sphere of social life In analyzing this unique social program Haas describes the social political and economic circumstances which led Sweden to take such a revolutionary stance on the issue of shared parenthood Haas also discusses the extent to which Swedish fathers take advantage of their right to parental leave barriers to fathers participation and fathers experiences while on leave along with the effects that leavetaking has on mothers and fathers later labor market involvement and participation in childcare This study of the Swedish program raises important questions about future prospects for equal parenthood in Sweden and other industrial societies and more significantly about the potential effectiveness of social policy for bringing about the end of such a cultural universal as women s responsibility for infants

Sociology for Social Workers and Probation Officers Vivienne E. Cree,2012-10-12 How does a social work student make the connection between sociological knowledge and day to day social work procedures Sociology for Social Workers provides an introduction to sociological ideas and research and places it firmly into the context of social work practice It takes the issues that sociology addresses and uses them to show how social work can be better informed and improved Each chapter provides full referencing so that students and social work practitioners can follow up on primary sources to pursue and develop the most useful specific themes and ideas

Sharing Care Rachel Brooks,Paul Hodkinson,2021-10-13 This timely study explores the experiences of fathers who take on equal or primary care responsibilities for young children

Children and Society Malcolm Hill,Kay Tisdall,2014-09-25 Provides a comprehensive overview of the issues research and debates relating to children and the experience of childhood in late twentieth century Britain This volume will address key issues such as juvenile crime poverty child protection and children s rights and their implications for the development of policy and services for children Presents first hand accounts from children and parents
