Recounting Migration Christina R. Clark-Kazak, 2011 Christina Clark Kazak a former international aid worker uses extensive interviews done in Kampala and Kyaka II refugee settlement Uganda to present the narratives of ten young people living as refugees Their accounts reveal both political awareness and individual agency in everyday and extraordinary circumstances The author shows how refugee youth seek to influence decision making processes in families communities and at policy levels through formal and informal mechanisms as well as through non political channels such as education and music She juxtaposes their interpretations of the situations with the discourse and bureaucracy of international aid organizations showing the sometimes radical differences between these perspectives Clark Kazak not only provides insight into the politics of labelling but offers recommendations for future research policy and programs for refugee young people A remarkable and compelling look at the lives of young refugees Recounting Migration challenges stereotypes by giving these migrants a long overdue opportunity to speak for themselves Crisis of Legitimacy and Political Violence in Uganda, 1890 to 1979 Ogenga Otunnu,2016-12-26 This book demonstrates that societies experiencing prolonged and severe crises of legitimacy are prone to intense and persistent political violence The most significant factor accounting for the persistence of intense political violence in Uganda is the severe crisis of legitimacy of the state its institutions political incumbents and their challengers This crisis of legitimacy which is shaped by both internal and external forces past and present accounts for the remarkable continuity in the history of political violence since the construction of the state UNMIK as an International Governance in Post-war Kosova Blerim Reka,2003 Redefining European Security Carl C.
