History of the Literary Cultures of East-Central Europe Marcel Cornis-Pope, John Neubauer, 2006-09-13 Continuing the work undertaken in Vol 1 of the History of the Literary Cultures of East Central Europe Vol 2 considers various topographic sites multicultural cities border areas cross cultural corridors multiethnic regions that cut across national boundaries rendering them permeable to the flow of hybrid cultural messages By focusing on the literary cultures of specific geographical locations this volume intends to put into practice a new type of comparative study Traditional comparative literary studies establish transnational comparisons and contrasts but thereby reconfirm however inadvertently the very national borders they play down This volume inverts the expansive momentum of comparative studies towards ever broader regional European and world literary histories While the theater of this volume is still the literary culture of East Central Europe the contributors focus on pinpointed local traditions and geographic nodal points Their histories of Riga Plovdiv Timișoara or Budapest of Transylvania or the Danube corridor to take a few examples reveal how each of these sites was during the last two hundred years a home for a variety of foreign or ethnic literary traditions next to the one now dominant within the national borders By foregrounding such non national or hybrid traditions this volume pleads for a diversification and pluralization of local and national histories A genuine comparatist revival of literary history should involve the recognition that treading on native grounds means actually treading on grounds cultivated by diverse people

Lisabee's love story, by the author of 'John and I'. Matilda Barbara Betham- Edwards, 1865 Tales of Travel, Life and Love George Payne Bent, 1924 George P Bent was born in 1854 at Dundee Illinois He was the son of George Bent born 1827 in Middleburg Vermont and Mary Priscilla Payne born in 1825 at Bridgeport Vermont He married Clara Ames Wingate and lived in Illinois Missouri and California Women and Men in Love Anthony Edward Waine, 2007 It has often been assumed that Europeans invented and had the exclusive monopoly over courtly and romantic love commonly considered to be the highest form of relations between men and women This view was particularly prevalent between 1770 and the mid twentieth century but was challenged in the 1960s when romantic love came to be seen as a universal sentiment that can be found in all cultures in the world However there remains the historical problem that the Europeans used this concept of love as a fundamental part of their self image over a long period traces of it still remain and it became very much caught up in the concept of marriage This book challenges the underlying Eurocentrism of this notion while exploring in a more general sense the connection between identity and emotions
