Letters from an Actor William Redfield, 2024-03-05 The legendary 1964 Broadway run of Hamlet directed by John Gielgud is one of the most famous productions of Shakespeare's most important play Audacious for its time in concept and execution it placed the actors in everyday clothes within an unassuming rehearsal set with the Ghost of Hamlet's father projected as a shadow against the rear wall and voiced by the director himself It was also a runaway critical and financial success breaking the then record for most performances of a Broadway show This was in no small part due to the starring role played by Richard Burton whose romance with Elizabeth Taylor was the object of widespread fascination Present throughout and ever attentive to the backstage drama and towering egos on display was the actor William Redfield who played Guildenstern During the three months of the play's preparation from rehearsals through out of town tryouts to the gala opening night on Broadway Redfield wrote a series of letters describing the daily happenings and his impressions of them In 1967 they were collected into Letters from an Actor a brilliant and unusual book that has since become a classic behind the scenes account that remains an indispensable contribution to theatrical history and lore This new edition at last brings Redfield's classic back into print as The Motive and the Cue the Sam Mendes directed play about the Gielgud production that is based in part on the book continues its successful run in London's West End Report of the Director to the Board of Trustees - Chicago. Natural History Museum Chicago Natural History Museum, 1926 Moving Pictures and Renaissance Art History Patricia Emison, 2025-10-01 Film like the printed imagery inaugurated during the Renaissance spread ideas not least the idea of the power of visual art across not only geographical and political divides but also strata of class and gender Moving Pictures and Renaissance Art History examines the early flourishing of film from the 1920s to the mid 1960s as partly reprising the introduction of mass media in the Renaissance allowing for innovation that reflected an art free of the control of a patron though required to attract a broad public Rivalry between word and image between the demands of narrative and those of visual composition spurred new ways of addressing the compelling nature of the visual The twentieth century also saw the development of the discipline of art history transfusions between cinematic practice and art historical postulates are part of the story told here The Nonmarine Triassic Spencer G.
