Roots Of Rural Poverty In Central And Southern Africa:

The Roots of Rural Poverty in Central and Southern Africa Robin H. Palmer, Neil Parsons, 1977-01-01 The roots of rural poverty in Central and Southern Africa. Ed. by R. Palmer [and] N. Parsons ,1977 The Roots of Rural Poverty in Central and Southern Africa ,1977 The Katangese Gendarmes and War in Central Africa Erik Kennes, Miles Larmer, 2016-07-04 A history of the 1960s unrecognized state's army and their role in Central Africa's political and military conflicts Erik Kennes and Miles Larmer provide a history of the Katangese gendarmes and their largely undocumented role in many of the most important political and military conflicts in Central Africa Katanga located in today's Democratic Republic of Congo seceded in 1960 as Congo achieved independence and the gendarmes fought as the unrecognized state's army during the Congo crisis Kennes and Larmer explain how the ex gendarmes then exiled in Angola struggled to maintain their national identity and return home They take readers through the complex history of the Katangese and their engagement in regional conflicts and Africa's Cold War Kennes and Larmer show how the paths not taken at Africa's independence persist in contemporary political and military movements and bring new understandings to the challenges that personal and collective identities pose to the relationship between African nation states and their citizens and subjects A fascinating story which is tied to the colonial development of Katanga province cold war politics in Central Africa the crisis of the postcolonial state in the Congo and the interregional politics in the Great Lakes area Georges Nzongola Ntalaja University of North Carolina A major contribution to our understanding of postcolonial politics in Africa more broadly and sheds light on the survival of militias over time and forms of subnationalism emerging from regional consciousness M Crawford Young University of Wisconsin Madison Studies in the Economic History of Southern Africa Z.A. Konczacki, Jane L. Parpart, Timothy M. Shaw, 2016-04-15 First Published in 1990 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Agricultural Commercialization And Government Policy In Africa J. Hinderink, J.J. Sterkenburg, 2022-03-26 First published in 1987 The object of this book is to show the nature and the constraints of the commercialization of agriculture in one of the world's major problem areas Sub Saharan Africa Agricultural commercialization started here centuries ago albeit in small pockets It expanded sharply during the colonial period when the sub continent became integrated into the world's economy After independence the nature of this integration did not structurally change and the basic characteristics of agricultural commercialization remained unaltered After an analysis of this process during the colonial period the study focuses on post colonial government policies and on spatial variation in the commercialization of Africa's agriculture Differences in environmental and socio economic conditions production performance and government policy are dealt with on two geographical scales in the first at the level of macro regions and individual countries and the second by means of case studies at the regional village and project level The field work based studies each centre on a specific aspect of commercialization process in a wide variety of countries viz Swaziland Sudan Botswana Ivory Coast Mali and Kenya The final part of the book relates the subject of commercialization and rural development to Africa's present agricultural crisis Ethnography and the Historical Imagination John Comaroff, Jean Comaroff, 2019-04-02 Over the years John and Jean Comaroff have broadened the study of culture and society with their reflections on power and meaning In their work on Africa and colonialism they have explored some of the fundamental questions of social science delving into the nature of history and human agency culture and consciousness ritual and representation How are human differences constructed and institutionalized transformed and sometimes effaced empowered and sometimes resisted How do local cultures articulate with global forms How is the power of some people over others built sustained eroded and negated How does the social imagination take shape in novel yet collectively meaningful ways Addressing these questions the essays in this volume several never before published work toward an imaginative sociology demonstrating the techniques by which social science may capture the contexts that human beings construct and inhabit In the introduction the authors offer their most complete statement to date on the nature of historical anthropology Standing apart from the traditional disciplines of social history and modernist social science their work is dedicated to discovering how human worlds are made and signified forgotten and remade Pastoralists at the Periphery Claudia Chang, Harold A. Koster, 1994-05-01 A Baluch tribesman follows his goats as they search for a bit of vegetation a Turkana youth guards his father's cattle against theft by raiders These pastoral inhabitants of mountain and desert waste are considered to be among the most geographically economically and politically peripheral of peoples yet they are not entirely isolated from broader sociopolitical and economic forces The lives of modern pastoralists are greatly affected by the policies of nations and the demands of world markets They may face military control forced settlement stock reduction programs or even efforts at development by governments claiming sovereignty over the lands they roam The authors of this collection of essays examine the impact of capitalism on nineteenth and early twentieth century pastoralists and discuss the historical transformations that have occurred in the lives and societies of herding peoples around the world They argue that pastoralists were not simply passive recipients of change imposed by capitalist polities and that historical and economic factors impinging on their societies were as important as ecological ones Collectively these papers demonstrate that twentieth century pastoralists and their nineteenth century predecessors should not be seen as immutably locked in a pastoral mode of production but rather as actively negotiating encounters between themselves and the expanding power of capitalist states Of Revelation and Revolution, Volume 2 John L. Comaroff, Jean Comaroff, 2009-02-15 In the second of a proposed three volume study John and Jean Comaroff continue their exploration of colonial evangelism and modernity in South Africa Moving beyond the opening moments of the encounter between the British Nonconformist missions and the Southern Tswana peoples Of Revelation and Revolution Volume II explores the complex transactions both epic and ordinary among the various dramatis personae along this colonial frontier The Comaroffs trace many of the major themes of twentieth century South African history back to these formative encounters The relationship between the British evangelists and the Southern Tswana engendered complex exchanges of goods signs and cultural markers that shaped not only African existence but also bourgeois modernity back home in England We see in this volume how the colonial attempt to civilize Africa set in motion a dialectical process that refashioned the everyday lives of all those drawn into its purview creating hybrid cultural forms and potent global forces which persist in the postcolonial age This fascinating study shows how the initiatives of the colonial missions collided with local traditions giving rise to new cultural practices new patterns of production and consumption new senses of style and beauty and new forms of class distinction and ethnicity As noted by reviewers of the first volume the Comaroffs have succeeded in providing a model for the study of colonial encounters By insisting on its dialectical nature they demonstrate that colonialism can no longer be seen as a one sided relationship between the conquering and the conquered It is rather a complex system of reciprocal determinations one whose legacy is very much with us today

Body of Power, Spirit of Resistance Jean Comaroff, 2013-11-15 In this sophisticated study of power and resistance Jean Comaroff analyzes the changing predicament of the Barolong boo Ratshidi a people on the margins of the South African state Like others on the fringes of the modern world system the Tshidi struggle to construct a viable order of signs and practices through which they act upon the forces that engulf them Their dissenting Churches of Zion have provided an effective medium for reconstructing a sense of history and identity one that protests the terms of colonial and post colonial society and culture

General Labour History of Africa Stefano Bellucci, Andreas Eckert, 2019 The first comprehensive and authoritative history of work and labour in Africa a key text for all working on African Studies and Labour History worldwide

Poverty and Wealth in East Africa Rhiannon Stephens, 2022-10-24 Rhiannon Stephens offers a conceptual history of how people living in eastern Uganda have sustained and changed their ways of thinking about wealth and poverty over the past two thousand years

Handbook of Land and Water Grabs in Africa John Anthony Allan, 2013 Four other themes will be addressed politics economics the environment and the history of land investments in sub Saharan Africa

Mfecane Aftermath Carolyn Hamilton, 1995 The idea that the period of social turbulence in the nineteenth century was a consequence of the emergence of the powerful Zulu kingdom under Shaka has been written about extensively as a central episode of southern African history Considerable dynamic debate has focused on the idea that this period the mfecane left much of the interior depopulated thereby justifying white occupation One view is that the time of troubles owed more to the Delagoa Bay Slave trade and the demands of the labour hungry Cape colonists than to Shaka's empire building But is there sufficient evidence to support the argument The Mfecane Aftermath investigates the very nature of historical debate and examines the uncertain foundations of much of the previous historiography

King Solomons Mines William Minter, 1988-05-31

Political Power and Colonial Development in British Central Africa 1938-1960s Alan Cousins, 2022-12-30 This book focuses on the late colonial history of Zambia and Malawi which between 1953 and 1963 were part of the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland Although there were many links in their history and between their populations the two territories British protectorates under Colonial Office control contrasted greatly in power structures in their economies and in their development Europeans living in Northern Rhodesia with a power base in the mining economy were able to establish a dominant position in the territory after the Second World War By the 1950s it looked as though they would have with Southern Rhodesian Europeans a long hegemony gaining independence from Britain as a new Dominion which would mean control over both Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland through the Federation Thus white ethnicity and ideology are essential factors in this book relating to the struggle for power from just before the Second World War up to the 1960s However crises in 1959 and 1960 led to the collapse of the Federation A second focus is on issues of social and economic development For Africans in Nyasaland and in rural parts of Northern Rhodesia there was a relatively weak economy in this period a pattern of limited cash crop production while many people became caught up in labour migration subordinate to powerful European dominated economic forces within southern Africa This meant that colonial policies aimed at rural development were fundamentally flawed The book also looks at the actual nature of rural economic change as opposed to colonial policies and discusses alternative visions of the future which were put forward The argument is put that historians have often concentrated on the activities of the main nationalist movements in Nyasaland and Northern Rhodesia seeing them as bringing progress away from colonialism and towards independence Here there is an attempt to draw out the complexities of life and a variety of responses in the colonial situation progress coming in a number of forms but not always being achieved

A Survey of Agricultural Economics Literature Lee R. Martin,1992 The Routledge Companion to Postcolonial African Historiography Thula Simpson,Immanuel R. Harisch,2025-05-09 The Routledge Companion to Postcolonial African Historiography explores history s fortunes in Modern Africa south of the Sahara from the discipline s Golden Age as a handmaiden in struggles against colonialism to difficult decades when its survival has been threatened by capricious political and economic conditions and the uncertain present where the continent s historians struggle to justify their value to frequently sceptical publics In exploring the discipline s practical role in past struggles for African emancipation the volume speaks directly to these challenging but changing circumstances The chapters feature contributions from leading experts on historiographical traditions of different regions of the continent They collectively demonstrate how the process of instrumentalizing the past to advance lay struggles has influenced the choices historians have made regarding sources methodology interpretation audiences and platforms This practical application has strongly shaped the diverse forms that African historiography has assumed as reflected in this book The themes discussed offer a platform for inserting Africa into comparative studies of global historiographical traditions whilst also contributing to contemporary debates on decolonization In offering accessible insights from leading historians this is an essential handbook for students and scholars of African history and historiography as well as all those interested in postcolonial studies Europe and the Third World Bernard Waites,1999-07-13 Europe and the Third World provides a schematic historical analysis of the relations between

Europe and the extra European periphery within the twin contexts of global economic inequality and global disparities in political power The colonial and imperial relationships between western Europe and the wider world since the late fifteenth century and the course and consequences of decolonization form the substance of the discussion which concludes with a glance at the links between the European Union and the world's poorest states most of which are former colonies

Families Divided Colin Murray, 1981-08-27 Describes the process of change from agricultural tribal society to one supplying migrant labor for mines and industry in South Africa and the concomitant effects on the economy government and families of Lesotho
