Armstrong, M. Catherine de Zegher, 2006 More than thirty years after the birth of the modern women's movement and the beginnings of feminist art making and art history the time is ripe to examine the legacies of those revolutions In Women Artists at the Millennium artists art historians and critics examine the differences that feminist art practice and critical theory have made in late twentieth century art and the discourses surrounding it In 1971 when Linda Nochlin published her essay Why Have There Been No Great Women Artists in a special issue of Art News there were no women's studies no feminist theory no such thing as feminist art criticism there was instead a focus on the mythic figure of the great male artist through history Since then the woman artist has not simply been assimilated into the canon of greatness but has expanded art making into a multiplicity of practices with new parameters and perspectives In Women Artists at the Millennium artists including Martha Rosler and Yvonne Rainer reflect upon their own varied practices and art historians discuss the innovative work of such figures as Louise Bourgeois Lygia Clark Mona Hatoum and Carrie Mae Weems And Linda Nochlin considers changes since her landmark essay and looks to the future writing We will need all our wit and courage to make sure that women's voices are heard their work seen and written about Schizogenesis Katherine Guinness, 2019-12-10 A deep analysis of an enigmatic artist whose oeuvre opens new spaces for understanding feminism the body and identity Popular and pioneering as a conceptual artist Rosemarie Trockel has never before been examined at length in a dedicated book This volume fills that gap while articulating a new interpretation of feminist theory and bodily identity based around the idea of schizogenesis central to Trockel's work Schizogenesis is a fission like form of asexual reproduction in which new organisms are created but no original is left behind Author Katherine Guinness applies it in surprising and insightful ways to the career of an artist who has continually reimagined herself and her artistic vision Drawing on the philosophies of feminists such as Simone de Beauvoir Shulamith Firestone and Monique Wittig Guinness argues that Trockel's varied output of painting fabric sculpture film and performance is best seen as opening a space that is peculiarly feminist yet not contained by dominant articulations of feminism Utilizing a wide range of historical and popular knowledge from Baader Meinhof to Pinocchio poodles NASA and Brecht Katherine Guinness gives us the associative and ever branching readings that Trockel's art requires With a spirit for pursuing the surprising and the obscure Guinness delves deep into a creator who is largely seen as an enigma revealing Trockel as a thinker who challenges and transforms the possibilities of bodily representation and identity
