the Sciences: A Reappraisal F.R. Amrine, Francis J. Zucker, H. Wheeler, 2012-12-06 of him in like measure within myself that is my highest wish This noble individual was not conscious of the fact that at that very moment the divine within him and the divine of the universe were most intimately united So for Goethe the resonance with a natural rationality seems part of the genius of modern science Einstein's cosmic religion which reflects Spinoza also echoes Goethe's remark Ibid Item 575 from 1829 Man must cling to the belief that the incomprehensible is comprehensible Else he would give up investigating But how far will Goethe share the devotion of these cosmic rationalists to the beautiful harmonies of mathematics so distant from any pure and direct observation Kepler Spinoza Einstein need not and would not rest with discovery of a pattern within behind as a source of the phenomenal world and they would not let even the most profound of descriptive generalities satisfy scientific curiosity For his part Goethe sought fundamental archetypes as in his intuition of a Urpflanze basic to all plants infinitely plastic When such would be found Goethe would be content for as he said to Eckermann Feb 18 1829 to seek something behind the Urphänomenon is futile Here is the limit But as a rule men are not satisfied to behold an Urphänomenon They think there must be something beyond They are like children who having looked into a mirror turn it around to see what is on the other side

Kant, Herder, and the Birth of Anthropology John H. Zammito, 2002 If Kant had never made the critical turn of 1773 would he be worth more than a paragraph in the history of philosophy Most scholars think not But this text challenges that view by revealing a precritical Kant who was immensely more influential than the one philosophers think they know

Kant as Philosophical Anthropologist F.P. van de Pitte, 2012-12-06 This work is the product of several years of intense study of the various aspects of Kant's work and the attempt to provide insights for students both with respect to the details of the Kantian system and into the development and implications of the system as a whole During that time many individuals have contributed to its ultimate formulation and I would like to express my appreciation at least to the more generous contributors For a careful reading of the manuscript in its earlier forms and suggestions which helped in many ways to improve the work and to crystalize its thesis I would like to thank Professors Wilbur Long A C Ewing and Richard Bosley For their interest and encouragement in the later stages of the project I must thank Professor Lewis White Beck and the many students who have taken my Kant seminar at the University of Alberta especially Mr Dieter Hartmetz And finally I acknowledge with pleasure my longstanding debt to Professor William H Werkmeister for his years of critical advice and encouragement Perhaps only Kant and my wife have contributed more to my philosophic development Acknowledgment must also be made of the permission kindly granted by various publishers for the use of material from the following works under their copyright Kant's Critique of Practical Reason translated by Lewis White Beck copyright 1956 by The Liberal Arts Press Inc

The Brain-Eye Eric Alliez, 2015-12-11 A detailed and inventive study of the thinking at work in modern painting drawing on a formidable body of scholarly evidence to challenge modernist and phenomenological readings of art history The Brain Eye presents a series of interlinked case studies in which philosophical thought encounters the hallucinatory sensations unleashed by painter researchers Rather than outlining a new philosophy of art The Brain Eye details the singular problems pursued by each of its protagonists Striking readings of the oeuvres of Delacroix Seurat Manet Gauguin and C zanne recount the plural histories of artists who worked to free the differential forces of colour discovered by Goethe in his Colour Theory in the name of a true hallucination and of a logic proper to the Visual A rigorous renewal of the philosophical thinking of visual art The Brain Eye explores the complex relations between concept and sensation theory and practice the discursive and the visual and draws out the political and philosophical stakes of the aesthetic revolution in modern painting
