Science Education John Gilbert, 2004 This Reader brings together a wide range of material to present an international perspective on topical issues in science education today In order to identify what themes should be addressed in the book thirty eight science educators from around the world responded to the question What issues are currently important in science education in your country The outcome is this lively and authoritative Reader which features topics as varied as globalisation assessment pupil s views on science education environmental education teaching approaches teacher development multimedia and ICT constructivism With a specially written introduction from the editor providing a much needed context to the current education climate students of science education will find this Reader an important route map to further reading and understanding Digital Literacies Victoria Carrington, Muriel Robinson, 2009-06-17 Facebook blogs texts computer games instant messages The ways in which we make meanings and engage with each other are changing Are you a student teacher trying to get to grips with these new digital technologies Would you like to find ways to make use of them in your classroom Digital technologies are an everyday part of life for students and Understanding Digital Literacies explores the ways in which they can be used in schools Carrington and Robinson provide an insight into the research on digital technologies stressing its relevance for schools and suggest ways to develop new more relevant pedagogies particularly for social learning literacy and literate practices With a practical focus the examples and issues explored in this book will help you to analyse your own practice and to carry out your own small scale research projects Explaining the theoretical issues and demonstrating their practical implementation this topical book will be an essential resource to new student teachers on undergraduate and PGCE courses and those returning to postgraduate study The RoutledgeFalmer

Reader in Gender & Education , Sense-making: Problematizing Constructs of Literacy for 21st Century

Education Marilyn J. Narey, Kelli Jo Kerry-Moran, 2021-03-15 This book is a rich yet highly accessible volume that details an exciting and much needed inquiry into the notion of literacy what it is why it is and how it might be framed most effectively for 21st century education The chapters unfold in a creative interplay of practice and theory Narey s insightful questioning into the socio historical cultural implications of literacy as empowerment establishes the critical context while Kerry Moran s examination of the burgeoning literacy landscape reveals challenges for teacher education Drawing upon classic and cutting edge theories Narey builds a provocative and powerful case for a 21st century construct of literacy as sense making sense as relative to the senses i e sight hearing and sense as making meaning Her innovative model of the literacy event opens up a range of potential foci for analysis and facilitates her teasing out of two critical areas for instruction sensory perception and aesthetic knowledge This theoretical sense making lens is applied to Kerry Moran s teacher education classroom as the authors reflect upon further development As a timely original and thought provoking work this slim volume of big ideas promises to be a valuable resource for teacher educators and other scholars who seek a clear and cohesive frame for literacy in 21st century education This is a very well written scholarly text that provides a new and important theory of 21st century literacy Narey s sketches of literacy as sense making are laid out in logical form building upon researched and referenced sources to ground her ideas and offering the reader information examples and new insights In addition to providing many significant perspectives underpinning her new theory Narey provides excellent historical and current explanations about literacy from highly respected researchers in the field The inclusion of a practical application of Narey s conceptual theoretical framework to Kerry Moran s example of an instructional unit in a teacher education course is helpful to understanding the theory in practice The references throughout the work are extensive comprehensive and very well documented This text Sense making Problematising Constructs of Literacy for 21st Century Education contributes original thinking to the field of literacy and learning and would be an excellent resource for literacy and language professors or instructors in a post graduate or professional development program Penny Silvers Professor of Education Dominican University USA

Assessing New Literacies Anne Burke, Roberta F. Hammett, 2009 New literacies globally popular among children and adolescents in and out of school contexts are challenging educators and institutions to rethink pedagogies As educators begin to embrace the pedagogical possibilities of multimodal texts and digital practices they are exploring the complexities of assessing these new literacies The essays in this book explore what it means to assess the sophisticated textual engagements of new literacies including reading and writing online social networking gaming multimodal composing and creating virtual identities Chapters offer practical examples of new literacies and examine how assessment provides insight into the diverse ways in which language is conceived valued and used to inform the literate lives of its twenty first century users Scholars and educators will find this collection full of rich understanding of the assessment concerns raised by new communication practices youth culture digital engagements and semiotic diversification
