Noszlopy, Fiona Waterhouse, 2005-01-01 The Black Country is an area historically known as the cradle of the Industrial Revolution a thriving region built around deep coal seams conjuring up images of fiery red furnaces by night and black sooty citadels by day Yet today the resource rich region also features many striking public sculptures This volume provides a comprehensive catalog to all of the historic sculptures and public monuments in Staffordshire and the Black Country George Noszlopy and Fiona Waterhouse catalog each individual sculpture in detail including information about the sculptor the sculpture's historical and artistic significance the commissioning agent and the date of installation The volume also features 350 black and white photographs that document the diverse and rich beauty of the region's public monuments The ninth volume in the widely acclaimed award winning Public Sculpture of Britain series Public Sculpture of Staffordshire and the Black Country is an invaluable resource for British historians art scholars and travelers alike The Wedding Present Louise Purbrick, 2016-02-17 In this fascinating work Louise Purbrick offers an alternative analysis of contemporary domestic consumption She investigates the ritualized presentation of objects upon marriage and their subsequent cycles of exchange within the domestic sphere Focusing on gift giving in Britain from 1945 to the present comparative context is provided by material from North America and Europe Presenting new material on the enactment of exchange relationships within everyday domesticity the book makes significant historical theoretical and methodological contributions to the analysis of contemporary consumption It also re evaluates consumption theory as well as examining the methodology of recent studies in consumption and domesticity pressing for a more rigorous approach to the use of case studies By considering how the specific contexts in which consumption occurs such as married domesticity can limit possible versions of selfhood The Wedding Present tests the assumption that consuming creates individual identities Thus the book argues consumption cannot be isolated as an explanation of individual or social formation
