Masters of the Post Duncan Campbell-Smith, 2011-11-03 The origins of the Post Office go back to the early years of the Tudor monarchy Brian Tuke a former King's Bailiff in Sandwich was acknowledged as the first Master of the Posts by Cardinal Wolsey in 1512 and went on to build up a network of postmasters across England for Henry VIII Over the following five hundred years the Royal Mail expanded to an unimaginable degree to become the largest employer in the country and the face of the British state for most people in their everyday lives But it also faced the demands of an increasingly commercial marketplace With the election of Margaret Thatcher in 1979 the possibility of privatising the Royal Mail has prompted passionate arguments and has added immeasurably to the difficulties of running it In charting the whole of this extraordinary story Duncan Campbell Smith recounts a series of remarkable tales including how postal engineers built the first programmable computer for the wartime code breakers of Bletchley Park and how the Royal Mail managed to successfully continue delivering post to the front lines during two world wars but also how they failed to avert the Great Train Robbery of 1963 He brings to life many of the dominant personalities in the Royal Mail's history from Rowland Hill who imposed a uniform penny post and set the great Victorian expansion on its way to Tony Benn who championed the modernisation of the service in the 1960s and Tom Jackson who led the postal workers biggest union through fifteen frequently stormy years up to 1982 This is the first complete history of the Royal Mail up to the present day based on its comprehensive archives and including the first detailed account of the past half century of Britain's postal history made possible by privileged access to confidential records Today's debate over the future of the Royal Mail is shown to be just the latest chapter in a centuries old conflict between its roles raising revenue and serving the public Will its employees remain like Brian Tuke's postmasters servants of the Crown This book could hardly appear at a more timely moment     The Routledge Handbook of Information History Toni Weller, Alistair Black, Bonnie Mak, Laura Skouvig, 2025-07-02 The Routledge Handbook of Information History offers a definitive inclusive and far reaching study of how information practices have influenced and have been influenced by society politics culture and technology over millennia Information is often considered a defining characteristic of modern society but it is far from a modern phenomenon In the last decades historians have started to ask new questions about how information was understood in the past suggesting that it has a history which is long complex and multifaceted This influential volume is the first large scale collection to use the term Information History as its titular focus situating information within the historiography of the field The book showcases a diverse assembly of over forty international contributors who explore information practices from antiquity to the contemporary world with geographical coverage ranging across Europe Africa Asia as well as North and South America Including overview chapters alongside a wide range of in depth empirical studies this ground breaking collection will appeal to scholars and students across the arts humanities and social sciences offering readers unique insights into how historical practices have influenced the understanding and role of information in our modern world Chapter 28 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license Forty Years at the Post-office Frederick Ebenezer Baines, 1895 Writing the Stage Coach Nation Ruth Livesey, 2016 Many Victorian novels take place not in the steam powered railway present of that era but in the recent past a world moving by stage and mail coach Ruth Livesey explores the historical consciousness of such works by Dickens Bronte Eliot and Hardy and explains how they convey an idea of a national belonging through a sense of local place Sessional Papers of the Dominion of Canada Canada.
