Ruahine Mythic Women:

Ruahine Ngahuia Te Awakotuku, 2003 A collection of traditional Maori stories presented alongside retellings that are beautiful and fresh and sometimes shocking in their audaciousness Decolonising Animals Dr Rick De Vos, 2023-04-01 The lives of non human animals their ways of being and seeing their experiences and knowledge and their relationships with each other continue to be ignored discounted written over and destroyed by anthropocentric practices and endeavours Within the vestiges of colonialism this silence and occlusion co opts and consumes animals physically and culturally into the servitude of human interests and selective narratives of history and progress Decolonising Animals brings together critical interrogations case studies and creative explorations that identify and examine how non human animals are affected by and respond to colonial structures and processes This collection includes the perspectives of Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars artists and activists detailing the ways in which they question colonial ways of knowing engaging with and representing animals Importantly the book offers suggestions for how we might decolonise our relationships with non human animals and with each other Women in Relationships with Bisexual Men Maria Pallotta-Chiarolli, 2016-03-08 Framed by a comprehensive review of international research literature and film this book is an intimate journey into the experiences and insights of 79 Australian women in relationships with bisexual men It takes us into the daily lives sexual intimacies and families of MOREs mixed orientation relationships that span the gamut from extremely oppressive experiences with bi misogynist men to extremely liberating with bi profeminist men Aged 19 to 65 the women are in monogamous open and polyamorous relationships with bisexual identifying and or bisexual behaving men The women themselves are bisexual lesbian heterosexual while others refuse to categorize their own sexualities The book addresses the discovery or disclosure of the man s bisexuality how the relationships work and where they flounder how the partners negotiate and establish new rules and boundaries to maintain their relationship and the impact of class rural urban setting ethnicity indigeneity race religion and education on these relationships But this book isn t only about MOREs The research revelations and reflections in this book tell us much about current and shifting global constructions and understandings of intimate relationships sexual desires and love and the socio cultural representations and labeling of genders and sexualities The Postcolonial Short Story Maggie Awadalla, Paul March-Russell, 2012-10-23 This book puts the short story at the heart of contemporary postcolonial studies and questions what postcolonial literary criticism may be Focusing on short fiction between 1975 and today the period in which critical theory came to determine postcolonial studies it argues for a sophisticated critique exemplified by the ambiguity of the form Encyclopedia of Goddesses and Heroines Patricia Monaghan, 2009-12-18 This two volume set provides a comprehensive guide to the vast array of feminine divine figures found throughout the world Drawn from a variety of sources ranging from classical literature to early ethnographies to contemporary interpretations the Encyclopedia of Goddesses and Heroines provides a comprehensive introduction to the ways goddess figures have been viewed through the ages This unique encyclopedia of over thousands of figures of feminine divinity describes the myths and attributes of goddesses and female spiritual powers from around the world The two volume set is organized by culture and religion exploring the role of women in each culture s religious life and introducing readers to the background of each pantheon as well as the individual figures who peopled it Alternative names for important divinities are offered as are lists of minor goddesses and their attributes Interest in women s spirituality has grown significantly over the last 30 years both among those who remain in traditional religions and those who explore spirituality outside those confines This work speaks to them all

Decolonizing Research Jo-ann Archibald Q'um Q'um Xiiem, Jenny Bol Jun Lee-Morgan, Jason De Santolo, 2019-05-15 From Oceania to North America Indigenous peoples have created storytelling traditions of incredible depth and diversity The term Indigenous storywork has come to encompass the sheer breadth of ways in which Indigenous storytelling serves as a historical record as a form of teaching and learning and as an expression of Indigenous culture and identity But such traditions have too often been relegated to the realm of myth and legend recorded as fragmented distortions or erased altogether Decolonizing Research brings together Indigenous researchers and activists from Canada Australia and New Zealand to assert the unique value of Indigenous storywork as a focus of research and to develop methodologies that rectify the colonial attitudes inherent in much past and current scholarship By bringing together their own indigenous perspectives and by treating Indigenous storywork on its own terms the contributors illuminate valuable new avenues for research and show how such reworked scholarship can contribute to the movement for Indigenous rights and self determination

Mau Moko: The World of Maori Tattoo Ngahua Te Awakotuku, 2025-05-06 Very likely to become the definitive work on the subject a big beautiful important book Warwick Roger North and South Taia o moko hei hoa matenga mou Take your moko as a friend forever In the traditional Maori world the moko or facial or body tattoo was part of everyday life everyone had some patterning on their skin Men wore elaborate designs on their faces women s were usually less complex but elegant and both sexes had extensive body work After almost dying out in the twentieth century Maori skin art is now experiencing a powerful revival with many young urban Maori displaying the moko as a spectacular gesture of ethnic pride and identity This hugely popular and magnificently illustrated book compiled by a group of Maori scholars from the University of Waikato is the closest there has ever been to a complete book on moko Mau Moko examines the use of moko by traditional Maori notes historical material including manuscripts and unpublished aural sources and links the art to the present day It explores the cultural and spiritual issues surrounding moko and relates dozens of stories many of them powerful and heart warming from wearers and artists Mau Moko is superbly enhanced by images from early European encounters traditional Maori representations and new colour photography commissioned for the book by Becky Nunes Tirohia he moko Look and wonder at the beauty of this art form Papers form a formal symposium which convened in February 2005 during the annual meetings of ASAO on Lihue Kauai Island Hawaii Writing at the Edge of the Universe Mark Williams,2004 WRITING AT THE EDGE OF THE UNIVERSE looks at New Zealand literature at a time when it is thriving as never before For many years a marginal activity in a country where sheep and rugby concentrated the national vision writing is now generously supported by the government promoted with festivals and showered with awards Writers are made national treasures their manuscripts acquired by libraries their lives made the subjects of biographies When our major writers die the whole nation mourns This book celebrates the maturity that places writing at the centre rather than the outskirts of national life and marks the coming of age of New Zealand literature But it also examines and questions the contentious issues about the state of our writing the power of the creative writing programme the globalising influence of the publishing industry and international styles the directions of Maori writing the place of nationalism in creative activity the importance of state funding It marks the broadening of the literary scene with examinations of children s writing and comics Lively various contentious considered the essays in this book will deepen and extend the debates about our literary culture provide considered information for teachers students and writers and enrich the production of that literature Goddess Lost Rachel S. McCoppin,2023-02-03 Drawing upon historical archaeological and mythical examples from around the world this book reveals how societal views of female empowerment and authority can be directly traced to the reverence once directed towards female warriors priestesses healers queens pharaohs and goddesses Communities which revered women as sacred idols of their belief systems were far more likely to place women in prominent positions of social or political influence since their members were quite used to envisioning power in the hands of a strong or divine woman The book also explores how goddesses were purposefully devalued during the rise of patriarchal civilizations thus restricting the social importance of earthly women and their accompanying rights One such instance can be found in Greek mythology s Gaia once revered as a dominant earth mother she was replaced by a division of less powerful figures with more socially acceptable feminine roles such as Aphrodite the goddess of love typically held up as an object of male lust Hera the goddess of marriage and childbirth often portrayed as obsessed with jealousy over the extramarital exploits of her husband and the mostly silent goddess of the hearth Hestia The devaluing of once revered goddesses appeared in quite distinct ways across different cultures thus this book breaks down its chapters by global region including Europe the Middle East the Mediterranean India Asia Africa the Americas and Oceania
