Ideology and Identity Chris Featherman, 2015-03-24 In this monograph Chris Featherman adopts a discourse analytical approach to explore the ways in which social movement ideologies and identities are discursively constructed in new and old media In the context of his argument Featherman also considers current debates surrounding the role that technologies play in democracy building and global activist networks He engages these critical issues through a case study of the 2009 Iranian presidential election protests looking at both US legacy media coverage of the protests as well as activists use of social media Through qualitative analysis of a corpus of activists Twitter tweets and Flickr uploads Featherman argues that activists social media discourses and protesters symbolic and tactical borrowing of global English contribute to micronarratives of globalization while also calling into question master narratives about Iran commonly found in mainstream Western media accounts This volume makes a timely contribution to discussions regarding the relationship between cyber rhetoric and democracy and provides new directions for researchers engaging with the influence of new media on globalized vernaculars of English Cannabis Ernest Small, 2016-10-14 Cannabis sativa is best known as the source of marijuana the world s most widely consumed illicit recreational drug However the plant is also extremely useful as a source of stem fiber edible seed oil and medicinal compounds all of which are undergoing extremely promising research technological applications and business investment Indeed despite its capacity for harm as a recreational drug cannabis has phenomenal potential for providing new products to benefit society and for generating extensive employment and huge profits Misguided policies until recently have prevented legitimate research on the beneficial properties of cannabis but there is now an explosion of societal scientific and political support to reappraise and remove some of the barriers to usage Unfortunately there is also a corresponding dearth of objective analysis Towards redressing the limitation of information Cannabis A Complete Guide is a comprehensive reference summarizing botanical business chemical ecological genetic historical horticultural legal and medical considerations that are critical for the wise advancement and management of cannabis in its various forms This book documents both the risks and benefits of what is indisputably one of the world's most important species. The conflicting claims for medicinal virtues and toxicological vices are examined based mainly on the most recent authoritative scientific reviews. The attempt is made consistently to reflect majority scientific opinion although many aspects of cannabis are controversial. Aside from the relevance to specialists, the general public should find the presentation attractive because of the huge interest today in marijuana. Unfortunately, society has become so specialized and compartmentalized that most people have limited appreciation of the importance of science to their lives except when a topic like marijuana becomes sensationalized. This review of cannabis can serve as a vehicle for public education in the realm of science and technology. Indeed, towards the goal of disseminating the important information in this book to a wide audience, the presentation is user-friendly, concise, and well illustrated, in the hope that non-specialists will find the topics both informative and entertaining.

This is a poetic exploration of themes encountered in the academy's attempts to explicate reality including travel through various cultures times and circumstances. The goal of this unique book is both analytic and aesthetic. It is also humanistic, a commentary on the human condition of being and not being in a cross-cultural world. It will be of immediate interest to poets and writers who wish to explore anthropological poetics to ethnographers and teachers of ethnographic method and to instructors and students in creative and experimental writing Cannabis Botany and Marijuana Horticulture Ross Miriello, 2017-07-01 Available on Amazon in paperback format Establishing Industry Standards for Commercial and Recreational Producers The Cannabis Botany and Marijuana Horticulture book is an essential guide for anyone interested in indoor cannabis cultivation. multidisciplinary study of green and its significance from multiple perspectives aesthetic architectural environmental political and social It is centered on the Kingdom of Bahrain the smallest and greenest of the Arab states in the Persian Gulf where green has a long and deep history appearing cooling productive and prosperous and a radical contrast to the hot hostile desert As is the case with cities around the world green is often celebrated as a counter to gray urban environments yet green has not always been good for cities To have the color green manifested in arid environments is often in direct conflict with green from an environmental point of view this paradox is at the heart of the book Given the resources required to maintain green in arid areas including cities the provision of green often bears significant environmental costs In arid environments such as Bahrain this contradiction becomes extreme and even unsustainable Based on long term ethnographic fieldwork Gareth Doherty explores the landscapes of Bahrain where green represents a plethora of implicit human values and lives in dialectical tension with other culturally and environmentally significant colors and hues The book s six chapters focus on Blue Red Date palm Green Grass Green Beige and White Implicit in his book is the argument that concepts of color and object are mutually defining and thus a discussion about green becomes a discussion about the creation of space and place
