Baja California Adventures Froylan Tiscareo, Froylan Tiscareño, 2012-10

The stories featured in Baja California Adventures take place during a span of almost sixty years of travel in the rugged parched yet hauntingly attractive peninsula The author kept detailed notes on most of his trips then fleshed out this skeleton in a narrative which places the reader in the role of participant in the adventure Thus one feels the bite of the 4WD tires into the desert sand newly hard packed by the moisture of a quick moving thunderstorm The author describes the excitement of finding Indian petroglyphs arrowheads or clay ollas in remote canyons Because Mr Tiscare o is also a pilot many of the trips included here involve mention of the special immigration rules for private fly in tourists Finally there are Baja Adventures in the pine clad granite fortress that is the Sierra de San Pedro Martir in the northern part of the peninsula Here the author joined other veteran Bajeros in hoof and boot or horse assisted explorations In short this book should be inspiration to those readers who want to visit Baja California particularly the less tourist trod destinations Arm chair travelers will derive vicarious pleasure without the effort of going there themselves

Reclaiming John Steinbeck Gavin Jones, 2021-06-10 John Steinbeck is a towering figure in twentieth century American literature yet he remains one of our least understood writers This major reevaluation of Steinbeck by Gavin Jones uncovers a timely thinker who confronted the fate of humanity as a species facing climate change environmental crisis and a growing divide between the powerful and the marginalized Driven by insatiable curiosity Steinbeck's work crossed a variety of borders between the United States and the Global South between human and nonhuman lifeforms between science and the arts and between literature and film to explore the transformations in consciousness necessary for our survival on a precarious planet Always seeking new forms to express his ecological and social vision of human interconnectedness and vulnerability Steinbeck is a writer of urgent concern for the twenty first century even as he was haunted by the legacies of racism and injustice in the American West

Katherine Larson, 2011-04-26 Katherine Larson is the winner of the 2010 Yale Series of Younger Poets Competition With Radial Symmetry she has created a transcendent body of poems that flourish in the liminal spaces that separate scientific inquiry from empathic knowledge astute observation from sublime witness Larson's inventive lyrics lead the reader through vertiginous landscapes geographical phenomenological psychological while always remaining attendant to the speaker's own fragile creaturely self An experienced research scientist and field ecologist Larson dazzles with these sensuous and sophisticated poems grappling with the powers of poetic imagination as well as the frightful realization of the human capacity for ecological destruction The result is a profoundly moving collection eloquent in its lament and celebration Metamorphosis an excerpt We dredge the stream with soup strainers and separate dragonfly and damselfly nymphs their eyes like inky bulbs jaws snapping at the light as if the world was full of tiny traps each hairpin mechanism tripped for transformation Such a ricochet of appetites insisting life life life against the watery dark the tuberous reeds

The World in Which We Occur Neil W. Browne, 2007-10-31 Understanding our environment American philosopher John Dewey considered all human endeavors to be continuous with the natural world In his writings particularly Art as Experience 1934 Dewey insists on the primacy of the environment in aesthetic experience Dewey's conception of environment includes both the natural and the man made Neil Browne highlights this notion in order to define what he terms pragmatist ecology a practice rooted in the interface of the cultural and the natural which he finds to be a significant feature of some of the most important ecological writing of the last century To fully understand human involvement in the natural world Browne argues disciplinary boundaries must be opened up This is primarily important between the arts and science with profound implications for the practice of democracy The degradation of the physical environment and democratic decay for Browne are rooted in the same problem our persistent belief that humans are somehow separate from their physical environment Browne probes the work of a number of major American writers through the lens of Dewey's philosophy Among other texts he examines John Muir's My First Summer in the Sierra 1911 Sea of Cortez 1941 by John Steinbeck and Edward Ricketts Rachel Carson's three books about the sea Under the Sea Wind 1941 The Sea Around Us 1951 and The Edge of the Sea 1955 John Haines's The Stars the Snow the Fire 1989 Tarry Lopez's Arctic Dreams 1986 and Terry Tempest Williams's Refuge 1991 Together these texts with their combinations of scientific observation and personal meditation challenge the dichotomies to which we've become accustomed and affirm the values of a pragmatist ecology one in which ecological and democratic values go hand in hand
