Mutes Soliloquy:

The Mute's Soliloquy Pramoedya Ananta Toer, 1999-04-28 An Indonesian novelist's autobiography written from prison In a collection of essays and letters smuggled during his 14 year sentence for human rights activity he describes various stages of his life and how he lost his hearing from beatings by guards American Annals of the Deaf and Dumb, 1879

American Annals of the Deaf, 1889 The International People's Tribunal for 1965 and the Indonesian Genocide Saskia Wieringa, Jess Melvin, Annie Pohlman, 2019-01-21 The International People's Tribunal addressed the many forms of violence during the period of the massacres of 1965-1966 in Indonesia It was held in The Hague The Netherlands in November 2015 to commemorate fifty years since the killings began The Tribunal as a people's court holds no jurisdiction and was an attempt to achieve symbolic justice for the crimes of 1965 This book offers new and previously unpublished insights into the types of crimes committed in the 1965 genocide and how these crimes were prosecuted at the International People's Tribunal for 1965 Divided thematically each chapter analyses a different crime enslavement sexual violence torture perpetrated during the Indonesian killings The contributions consider either general patterns across Indonesia or a particular region of the archipelago The book reflects on how crimes were charged at the International People's Tribunal for 1965 and focuses on questions relating to the place of people's tribunals in truth seeking and justice claims and the prospective for transitional justice in contemporary Indonesia Positioning the events in Indonesia in 1965 within the broader scope of comparative genocide studies the book is an original and timely contribution to knowledge about the dynamics of the Indonesian killings It will be of interest to academics in the field of Asian studies in particular Southeast Asia Genocide Studies Criminology and Criminal Justice and Transitional Justice Studies Mute Speech Jacques Rancière, 2011 Jacques Rancière has continually unsettled political discourse particularly through his questioning of aesthetic distributions of the sensible which configure the limits of what can be seen and said Widely recognized as a seminal work in Rancière's corpus the translation of which is long overdue Mute Speech is an intellectual tour de force proposing a new framework for thinking about the history of art and literature Rancière argues that our current notion of literature is a relatively recent creation having first appeared in the wake of the French Revolution and with the rise of Romanticism In its rejection of the system of representational hierarchies that had constituted belles lettres literature is founded upon a radical equivalence in which all things are possible expressions of the life of a people With an analysis reaching back to Plato Aristotle the German Romantics Vico and Cervantes and concluding with brilliant readings of Flaubert Mallarmé and Proust Rancière demonstrates the uncontrollable democratic impulse lying at the heart of literature's still vital capacity for reinvention Publisher description

Extremely Violent Societies Christian Gerlach, 2010-10-14 In this groundbreaking book Christian Gerlach traces the social roots of the extraordinary processes of human destruction involved in mass violence throughout the twentieth century He argues that terms such as genocide and ethnic cleansing are too narrow to explain the diverse motives and interests that cause violence to spread in varying forms and intensities From killings and expulsions to enforced hunger collective rape strategic bombing forced labour and imprisonment he explores what happened before during and after periods of widespread bloodshed in countries such as Armenia Indonesia Bangladesh Nazi occupied Greece and in anti guerilla wars worldwide in order to highlight the crucial role of socio economic pressures in the generation of group conflicts By focussing on why so many different people participated in or supported mass violence and why different groups were victimized he offers us a new way of understanding one of the most disturbing phenomena of our times Public Health and National Reconstruction in Post-War Asia Liping Bu,Ka-che Yip,2014-08-13 This book based on extensive original research considers the transformation of public health systems in major East South and Southeast Asian countries in the period following the Second World War It examines how public health concepts policies institutions and practices were improved shows how international health standards were implemented sometimes through the direct intervention of transnational organisations and explores how indigenous traditions and local social and cultural concerns affected developments with in some cases the construction of public health systems forming an important part of nation building in post war and post independence countries Throughout the book relates developments in public health systems to people s health demographic changes and economic and social reconstruction projects The Killing Season Geoffrey B. Robinson,2019-10 The definitive account of one of the twentieth century s most brutal yet least examined episodes of genocide and detention The Killing Season explores one of the largest and swiftest yet least examined instances of mass killing and incarceration in the twentieth century the shocking antileftist purge that gripped Indonesia in 1965 66 leaving some five hundred thousand people dead and more than a million others in detention An expert in modern Indonesian history genocide and human rights Geoffrey Robinson sets out to account for this violence and to end the troubling silence surrounding it In doing so he sheds new light on broad enduring historical questions How do we account for instances of systematic mass killing and detention Why are some of these crimes remembered and punished while others are forgotten Based on a rich body of primary and secondary sources The Killing Season is the definitive account of a pivotal period in Indonesian history Reading Victorian Deafness Jennifer Esmail,2013-04-15 Reading Victorian Deafness is the first book to address the crucial role that deaf people and their unique language of signs played in Victorian culture Drawing on a range of works from fiction by Charles Dickens and Wilkie Collins to poetry by deaf poets and life writing by deaf memoirists Harriet Martineau and John Kitto to scientific treatises by Alexander Graham Bell and Francis Galton Reading Victorian Deafness argues that deaf people s language use was a public influential and contentious issue in Victorian Britain The Victorians understood signed languages in multiple and often contradictory ways they were objects of fascination and revulsion were of scientific import and literary interest and were considered both a unique mode of human communication and a vestige of a bestial heritage Over the course of the nineteenth century deaf people were increasingly stripped of their linguistic and cultural rights by a widespread pedagogical and cultural movement known as oralism comprising mainly hearing educators physicians and parents Engaging with a group of human beings who used signs instead of speech challenged the Victorian understanding of humans as the speaking animal and the widespread understanding of language as a product of the voice It is here that Reading Victorian Deafness offers substantial contributions to the fields of Victorian studies and disability studies This book expands current scholarly conversations around orality textuality and sound while demonstrating how understandings of disability contributed to Victorian constructions of normalcy Reading Victorian Deafness argues that deaf people were used as material test subjects for the Victorian process of understanding human language and by extension the definition of the human Tempo ,2002

The Soliloquies in Hamlet Alex Newell,1991 This work defines the dramatic rationale of the Hamlet soliloquies in their dramatic contexts thereby clarifying the tragic idea that organizes the play Placing Internationalism Stephen Legg,Mike Heffernan,Jake Hodder,Benjamin Thorpe,2021-11-04 Exploring how modern internationalism emerged as a negotiated process through international conferences this edited collection studies the spaces and networks through which states civil society institutions and anti colonial political networks used these events to realise their visions of the international Taking an interdisciplinary approach contributors explore the spatial paradox of two fundamental features of modern internationalism First internationalism demanded the overcoming of space transcending the nation state in search of the shared interests of humankind Second internationalism was geographically contingent on the places in which people came together to conceive and enact their internationalist ideas From Paris 1919 to Bandung 1955 and beyond this book explores international conferences as the sites in which different forms of internationalism assumed material and social form While international permanent institutions such as the League of Nations UN and Institute of Pacific Relations constantly negotiated national and imperial politics lesser resourced political networks also used international conferences to forward their more radical demands Taken together these conferences radically expand our conception of where and how modern internationalism emerged and make the case for focusing on internationalism in a contemporary moment when its merits are being called into question Mocking Bird Technologies Christopher GoGwilt,Melanie D. Holm,2018-01-02 Contributors Madeleine Brainerd Joe Conway Fraser Easton Christopher GoGwilt Shari Goldberg Melanie D Holm Sarah Kay Kaori T Kitao Holt V Meyer Isabel A Moore Fawzia Mustafa Gavin Sourgen Mocking Bird Technologies brings together a range of perspectives to offer an extended meditation on bird mimicry in literature the way birds mimic humans the way humans mimic birds and the way mimicry of any kind involves technologies that extend across as well as beyond languages and species The essays examine the historical poetic and semiotic problem of mimesis exemplified both by the imitative behavior of parrots starlings and other mocking birds and by the poetic trope of such birds in a range of literary and philological traditions Drawing from a cross section of traditional periods and fields in literary studies 18th century studies romantic studies early American studies 20th century studies and postcolonial studies the collection offers new models for combining
