Thinking with Kierkegaard Arne Grøn, 2022-12-31 Arne Grøn's reading of Søren Kierkegaard's authorship revolves around existential challenges of human identity The 35 essays that constitute this book are written over three decades and are characterized by combining careful attention to the augmentative detail of Kierkegaard's text with a constant focus on issues in contemporary philosophy Contrary to many approaches to Kierkegaard's authorship Grøn does not read Kierkegaard in opposition to Hegel The work of the Danish thinker is read as a critical development of Hegelian phenomenology with particular attention to existential aspects of human experience Anxiety and despair are the primary existential phenomena that Kierkegaard examines throughout his authorship and Grøn uses these negative phenomena to argue for the basically ethical aim of Kierkegaard's work In Grøn's reading Kierkegaard conceives human selfhood not merely as relational but also a process of becoming the self that one is through the otherness of self experience that is the body the world other people and God This book should be of interest to philosophers theologians literary studies scholars and anyone with an interest not only in Kierkegaard but also in human identity Relational Psychoanalysis, Volume 3 Melanie Suchet, Adrienne Harris, Lewis Aron, 2013-04-15 Relational psychoanalysis has revived psychoanalytic discourse by attesting to the analyst's multidimensional subjectivity and then showing how this subjectivity opens to deeper insights about the experience of analysis Volume 3 of the Relational Psychoanalysis Book Series enlarges this ongoing project in significant ways Here leading relational theorists explore the cultural racial class conscious gendered and even traumatized anlagen of the self as pathways to clinical understanding Relational Psychoanalysis New Voices is especially a forum for new relational voices and new idioms of relational discourse Established writers Muriel Dimen Sue Grand and Ruth Stein among them utilize aspects of their own subjectivity to illuminate heretofore neglected dimensions of cultural experience of trauma and of clinical stalemate A host of new voices applies relational thinking to aspects of race class and politics as they emerge in the clinical situation The contributors to Relational Psychoanalysis New Voices are boldly unconventional in their topics in their modes of discourse and in their innovative and often courageous uses of self Collectively they convey the ever widening scope of the relational sensibility The relational turn keeps turning

Hensel, 2023-07-03 Co published with the Council on Undergraduate Research Undergraduate research has long been recognized as a high impact practice HIP but has unfortunately been offered only to juniors and seniors and to very few of them often in summer programs This book shows how to engage students in authentic research experiences built into the design of courses in the first two years thus making the experience available to a much greater number of students Research that is embedded in a course especially general education courses addresses the issue of how to expand undergraduate research to all students Research has shown that students who have early experiences in undergraduate research are more likely to pursue further research prior to and after graduation This is also an issue of social justice because it makes the benefits of undergraduate research available to students who must work during the academic year and in the summer It is widely accepted that the skills developed through undergraduate research help prepare students for their future careers The book addresses all aspects of the topic including What are appropriate expectations for research in the first two years How to design appropriate course based research for first and second year students How to mentor a class rather than individual students How students can disseminate the results of their research Possible citizen science projects appropriate for the first and second years Providing additional resources available to support course based research in the first two years Designed for faculty at four year and two year colleges and including examples from the sciences the social sciences and the humanities the strategies and methods described can be adapted to disciplines not specifically mentioned in the book Many faculty are hesitant to engage first and second year students in undergraduate research because they worry students don't know enough to conduct authentic research in their discipline because they worry about the time it will take to develop activities for these students and because they wonder how they can mentor a whole class of students doing research The authors have successfully dealt with these issues and provide examples of how it's done

Original essays on the metaphysics of time identity and the self written by distinguished scholars and important rising philosophers The concepts of time and identity seem at once unproblematic and frustratingly difficult Time is an intricate part of our experience it would seem that the passage of time is a prerequisite for having any experience at all and yet recalcitrant questions about time remain Is time real Does time flow Do past and future moments exist Philosophers face similarly stubborn questions about identity particularly about the persistence of identical entities through change Indeed questions about the metaphysics of persistence take on many of the complexities inherent in philosophical considerations of time This volume of original essays brings together these two essentially related concepts in a way not reflected in the available literature making it required reading for philosophers working in metaphysics and students interested in these topics The contributors distinguished authors and rising scholars first consider the nature of time and then turn to the relation of identity focusing on the metaphysical connections between the two with a special emphasis on personal identity The volume concludes with essays on the metaphysics of death issues in which time and identity play a significant role This groundbreaking collection offers both cutting edge epistemological analysis and historical perspectives on contemporary topics Contributors Harriet Baber Lynne Rudder Baker Ben Bradley John W Carroll Reinaldo Elugardo Geoffrey Gorham Mark Hinchliff Jenann Ismael Barbara Levenbook Andrew Light Lawrence B Lombard Ned Markosian Harold Noonan John Perry Harry S Silverstein Matthew H Slater Robert J Stainton Neil A Tognazzini
