No one saw it being built and the residents of River Bend, Arkansas, never got acquainted with the builder before he just disappeared, but he left his tiny, strictly one-man cabin behind on property that belonged to no one. The land had once belonged to the river, and someday it might be taken back, but in the 1900s hill country, it had one more purpose, and the angels would see that the purpose came about. Young Jefferson Masters was a master logger, being the link between the massive trees on the hillside and the lovely, durable furniture created from oak, pecan, and walnut logs. He was also skillful at turning logs into cabins and would create one for himself just as soon as he found someone to occupy it with him. For a young man who is slow in finding a mate, the best path to take is toward a girl who knows how it's done, and again, it may take the services of an angel or maybe a sick old man.

The Old Man's Revenge Joseph Schwarz, 2005-05. The Old Man's Revenge takes place in a university art department in the South. The principals are four painters coping with their artistic legitimacy and their personal and professional lives. The department is in crisis as the long-time founder and head is retiring. There ensues, as often happens in academe, a political struggle for leadership with an unexpected culmination. The four painters too find deserved resolution in their work and in their personal lives. A Old Man's Secret; a Novel Frank Trollope, 1866 The Old Man's Boy Grows Older Robert
