to read this Dent's pivotal earlier work which now joins the sequel in our catalog Enfleshing Theology Michele Saracino, Robert J. Rivera, 2018-10-31 Enfleshing Theology honors and engages the life work of M. Shawn Copeland whose theology is groundbreaking and prophetic, traversing the fields of Catholic Theology, Black Theology, Womanist Thought, and Semiotics. The book opens with a brief introduction and then moves to an interview with Copeland which connects her theology to her life stories. The conversation with Copeland also provides a backdrop to the seventeen essays that follow, extending Copeland's theological worldview. The contributions are divided according to the following sections: embodiment, discipleship, and politics. The essays in the section entitled Engaging Embodiment critically reflect on the importance of embodiment in Christian theology and contemporary culture. Following Copeland's lead, authors in this section theorize and theologize the body, particularly but not limited to Black women's bodies as a locus theologicus that reveals, mediates, and shapes the splendor and suffering reality of human existence. The next section entitled Engaging Discipleship focuses on the concrete challenges of following Jesus in today's world. The essays included in this section reflect on Copeland's focus on Jesus' particularity in terms of his solidarity with and for others. Discipleship is about modeling and mentoring, so scholars in this section also comment on Copeland's contribution to teaching and pedagogy. The last section entitled Engaging the Political interrogates the political implications of the theological. It is noteworthy that there are two trajectories of the political here: one is Copeland's development of political theology through the lens of Canadian Jesuit theologian Bernard Lonergan. The other trajectory focuses on the work of theology in contemporary art and politics. These three sections are fluid and overlap with one another. Several of the articles on embodiment speak to questions of solidarity, and a few of the essays on discipleship clearly present as political. The ways in which each of the contributions in this volume overlap with each other attests to the complex nature of doing constructive theology today, and even more, how Copeland's work is at the forefront of that multi-layered, polyvalent, intersectional theological work. Transformed Lives Cynthia S. W. Crysdale, 2016-06-10 Even theologians have had different ideas about the theology of atonement; how are the rest of us supposed to understand it? This book is a good place to start. Crysdale, whose background in both psychology and theology gives her a unique perspective, presents an overview of the history of the theology of atonement, addressing clearly the difficulties around this concept and bringing us with her to a contemporary understanding. My Only Friend is Darkness Barbara Dent, 1988 This wise and widely acclaimed book is written for those who have advanced far enough in love to God to enter the Night of Faith and feel the need of explanation, guidance, and reassurance. Drawing upon Scripture, classic spiritual authors, especially St. John of the Cross, and her own deep personal experience, author Barbara Dent examines the deep purifications we undergo as God cleanses us of sinful inclinations and transforms us in love. Using poetry and prose, image and parable, she guides us through the sufferings, temptations, upheavals, and workings of grace at the deepest levels of our being as we journey through the darkness of faith to new life in Christ. This book is concerned with what I learned experientially and from reading the works of various fellow travellers especially John of the Cross during the two periods when the grain of wheat fell into the ground and died Then my only friend was darkness the darkness of faith that would not give up affirming what it believed yet in that darkness wonders of grace happened Barbara Dent My Only Friend is Darkness Barbara Dent is a retired English teacher in New Zealand and the mother of three A Secular Carmelite she has published numerous articles and books throughout the English speaking world and now spends much of the time in prayer and study writing and giving spiritual and psychological guidance to those who turn to me for it

Beginning Contemplative Prayer Kathryn J. Hermes, 2019-03-25 In this practical guide best selling author Kathryn J Hermes FSP demonstrates how to begin a life of contemplative prayer You don't have to be a mystic to learn this type of prayer just a person who is seeking a deeper communion with God Sr Kathryn has helped thousands of people through difficult times Now let her guide you in this timeless form of meditative prayer

The Practice of Contemplation According to John of the Cross James W. Kinn, 2018-07-23 This book is for anyone who now meditates regularly or who practiced meditation in the past As we grow in our prayer life John of the Cross is an excellent and encouraging guide to show us the way to the practice of contemplative prayer Many of us learned about meditation from spiritual directors or books We practiced a reliable form of meditation for some years with varying degrees of success Over time however our prayer slowed down and became simplified We didn't find many new ideas to occupy our intellect and our emotions quieted down In time many of us experienced a crisis in our prayer life our prayer became so simple that it almost disappeared We tried different forms of prayer but we seemed to be reaching a dead end Throughout all of this we were never told that our prayer was developing naturally and positively What we were experiencing was not a dead end but the threshold of a new way of prayer What we needed was an experienced guide to show us the road ahead Enter John of the Cross He encourages us to see that the place we came to is a necessary state of our progress in prayer John teaches us that we come to contemplation not by struggling harder to pray but by calming remaining quiet before God He encourages us to realize that we have not come to the end of the road but are being made ready to be transported on a wonderful journey There is no better or more encouraging guide for us on this journey than John of the Cross The entire focus of this book is quite narrow it concentrates on John's teaching about the beginning of contemplation

My Only Friend is Darkness Barbara Dent, 1992-12-01 This wise and widely acclaimed book is written for those who have advanced far enough in love to God to enter the Night of Faith and feel the need of explanation guidance and reassurance Drawing upon Scripture classic spiritual authors especially St John of the Cross and her own deep personal experience author Barbara Dent examines the deep purifications we undergo as God cleanses us of sinful inclinations and transforms us in love Using poetry and prose image and parable she guides us through the sufferings temptations upheavals and workings of grace at the deepest levels of our being as we journey through the darkness of faith to new life in Christ This book is concerned with what I learned experientially and from reading the works of various fellow travellers especially John of the Cross during the two periods
