

My House

Above my house
are stars glittering
in the night sky.

Beside my house
are birds singing
in the trees.

Around my house
there are paintings
hanging on the wall.

Inside my house
is all my family
and ME!

Excess Karen Jackson Ford, 2011-02-25 The argument posed in this analysis is that the poetic excesses of several major female poets excesses that have been typically regarded as flaws in their work are strategies for escaping the inhibiting and sometimes inimical conventions too often imposed on women writers The forms of excess vary with each poet but by conceiving of poetic excess in relation to literary decorum this study establishes a shared motivation for such a strategy Literary decorum is one instrument a culture employs to constrain its writers Perhaps it is the most effective because it is the least definable The excesses discussed here like the criteria of decorum against which they are perceived cannot be itemized as an immutable set of traits Though decorum and excess shift over time and in different cultures their relationship to one another remains strikingly stable Thus nineteenth century standards for women s writing and late twentieth century standards bear almost no relation Emily Dickinson s do not anticipate Gertrude Stein s or Sylvia Plath s or Ntozake Shange s Yet the charges of indecorousness leveled at these women poets repeat a fixed set of abstract grievances Dickinson Stein Plath Jayne Cortez and Shange all engage in a poetics of excess as a means of rejecting the limitations and conventions of female writing that the larger culture imposes on them In resisting conventions for feminine writing these poets developed radical new poetries yet their work was typically criticized or dismissed as excessive Thus Dickinson s form is classified as hysterical and her figures tortured Stein s works are called repetitive and nonsensical Plath s tone is accused of being at once virulent and confessional Cortez s poems violent and vulgar Shange s work vengeful and self righteous The publishing history of these poets demonstrates both the opposition to such an aesthetic and the necessity for it Listen Here Sandra L. Towers in the Void S. E. Kile, 2023-05-30 The maverick cultural entrepreneur Li Yu survived the tumultuous Ming Qing dynastic transition of the mid seventeenth century through a commercially successful practice founded on intermedial experimentation He engaged an astonishingly broad variety of cultural forms from theatrical performance and literary production to fashion and wellness from garden and interior design to the composition of letters and administrative documents Drawing on his nonliterary work to reshape his writing he translated this wide ranging expertise into easily transmittable woodblock printed form Towers in the Void is a groundbreaking analysis of Li Yu s work across these varied fields It uses the concept of media to traverse them revealing Li Yu s creative enterprise as a remaking of early modern media forms S E Kile argues that Li Yu s cultural experimentation exploits the seams between language and the tangible world He draws attention to the materiality of particular media forms expanding the scope of early modern media by interweaving books buildings and bodies Within and across these media Li Yu s cultural entrepreneurship with the technology of the printed book embraced its reproducibility while retaining a personal touch His literary practice informed his garden design and conversely he drew on garden design to transform the vernacular short story Ideas for extreme body modification in Li Yu s fiction remade the possibilities of real human bodies in his nonfiction writing Towers in the Void calls for seeing books bodies and buildings as interlinked media forms both in early modern China and in today s media saturated world positioning the Ming and Qing as a crucial site of global early modern cultural change This is My House Ethel Humphrey, 197?
