The Scholarship of Engagement at RMIT It discusses innovative curricula and assessments examines transformative student experiences and showcases examples of curricular and extra curricular activities to promote and develop intercultural awareness and competence The book showcases high quality innovative papers on promising new directions in tertiary education representing the breadth and depth of teaching and learning at a leading global Australian university Authors from Australian and offshore campuses address compelling questions related to curricula technology and assessment Further they employ a variety of methodological approaches to illustrate 21st century global perspectives on learning and teaching Readers will be introduced to the complex interrelationships between scholarship and practice innovative learning design and learning outcomes and the shifting scholarship roles of the university the teacher and the learner I'm Sorry for

What I've Done M. Catherine Gruber, 2014-04-01 This book examines 52 apologetic allocutions produced during federal sentencing hearings The practice of inviting defendants to make a statement in their own behalf is a long standing one and it is understood as offering defendants the opportunity to impress a judge or jury with their remorse which could be a factor in the sentence that is imposed Defendants raised the topics of the offense mitigation future behaviour and the sentence in different ways and this book explores the pros and cons associated with the different strategies that they used Because there is no way of ascertaining exactly how effective or ineffective an individual allocution is case law sociolinguistic and historical resources and judges final remarks are used to develop hypotheses about defendants communicative goals as well as what might constitute an ideal defendant stance from a judge s point of view The corpus is unique because unlike official transcripts the transcripts used for this study include paralinguistic features such as hesitations wavering voice and crying while talking Among its highlights the book proposes that although a ritualized apology formula e g I m sorry or I apologize would appear to be a good fit for the context of allocution and even appears to be expected the use of these formulas carries implications in this context that do not serve defendants communicative goals I argue that the application of Austin s 1962 performative constative continuum reveals that offense related utterances that fall closer to the constative end are more consistent with the discursive constraints on the speech event of allocution Further I propose that the ideologies associated with allocution in particular the belief that allocution functions as a protection for defendants obscures the ways in which the context constrains what defendants can say and how effectively they can say it Dreams Achieved and Denied Robert

Courtney Smith, 2024-08-01 U S born Mexicans in New York City have achieved perhaps the biggest single generation jump in mobility in American immigration history In 2020 42 percent of second generation U S born Mexican men and 49 percent of U S born Mexican women in New York City had graduated from college versus a 13 14 percent second generation college graduation rate for most places for most studies done in recent decades How did U S born Mexicans in New York City achieve such remarkable mobility In Dreams Achieved and Denied sociologist Robert Courtney Smith examines the laws policies and individual and family practices that promoted and inhibited their social mobility For over twenty years Smith followed the lives and mobility of nearly one hundred children of Mexican immigrants in New York City Smith's longitudinal ethnographic data enabled him to intimately describe how specific mechanisms blocked or promoted mobility for years as his participants moved from adolescence through early adulthood and into established adulthood Smith documents how having or gaining legal status made certain New York City or New York State policies and practices more efficacious in supporting individual and family efforts and strategies for mobility Such immigrant inclusive and mobility promoting measures include enabling undocumented people to attend public colleges at in state tuition rates and later to get driver's licenses offering healthcare to all in New York City and the City's subway and school choice systems which enabled students to attend better schools or take opportunities outside their neighborhoods Smith finds that keeping the immigrant bargain whereby children of immigrants redeem their parents sacrifice by doing well in school helping their parents and siblings and becoming good people in their parents words helped them towards better adult outcomes and lives Having mentors picking academically stronger schools and friends and using second chance mechanisms also promoted more adult mobility However lacking legal status blocked mobility by preventing them from benefiting from these same mobility promoting city and state policies from mentors or from working hard and keeping the immigrant bargain Dreams Achieved and Denied deeply analyzes the historic upward mobility of U S born Mexicans in New York City It counters the dominant story research and public discourse tell about Mexican mobility in the U S and shows how thoughtful public policy can improve the lives of young immigrants and families

Charlie were typical children until the untimely death of their mother. They were young when she passed and her death was a forbidden topic of conversation in their home. When a beautiful woman named Doris enters their lives seemingly by accident, they are all too accepting. Never really grieving the loss of their mother, Doris seems an adequate substitute. All begins well, but soon Tina and Charlie discover Doris has a dark side, contrary to the loving mother-like facade she put on during their father's courtship of her. Behind her extravagant beauty, a murderous cannibalistic being was emerging. Doris's true nature was subtle in the beginning, but after their father's death would become the violent reality they would mature with. After a deliberate, opportune, and tragic fire consumes their home, the secrets buried within would reveal itself. Along with the fire comes a sense of relief that their nightmare has ended. Tina manages to move on with her life, becoming a caregiver for the elderly. She takes on her last client, Ms. Turner, a feeble old burn victim. Strange events start happening in her client's home. Tina wonders if the unexplained events at Ms. Turner's are somehow related to her past. One day while snooping around Ms. Turner's house, the truth is discovered. Now Tina must survive the influence Doris left on her physical safety and mental well-being.

Hell's Alley, STEM Education in US Prisons, 2024-03-18. Renewal of higher education programs in US prisons creates a need for science education. This is the first book to address STEM education in prisons in the United States. It calls on activist science teachers to develop innovative ways to teach in challenging carceral settings. Over the last fifty years, science education and prison education have moved in different directions, one expanding and the other contracting. This book brings these educational endeavors into cooperative engagement. Democratic citizenship opens opportunities for all people, irrespective of civil status, to study science. The book presents student narratives and case studies emphasizing the achievements of STEM education behind prison walls. STEM education equity can help address the deep social inequities that mass incarceration creates and magnifies. Contributors are Cassandra Barrett, Andrew Bell, George Bogner, Adrian Borealis, Drew Bush, Kelli Bush, Sandy Chang, Kelle Dhein, Amalia Handler, Steven Hart, Steven Henderson, Tiffany Hensley, McBain Paul, Kazelis, Joe Lockard, Edward Mei, Tsafrir Mor, Rob Scott, Laura Taylor, Joslyn Rose, Trivett, and Emily Webb.

The King of Lies, John Hart, 2010-04-01. John Hart creates a literary thriller that is as suspenseful as it is poignant, a riveting murder mystery layered beneath the southern drawl of a humble North Carolina lawyer. When Work Pickens finds his father murdered, the investigation pushes a repressed family history to the surface, and he sees his own carefully constructed facade begin to crack. Work's troubled sister, her combative girlfriend, his gold-digging socialite wife, and an unrequited lifelong love join a cast of small-town characters that create no shortage of drama in this extraordinary, fast-paced suspense novel. Hart's mastery of prose and plot belie his newcomer status as he explores the true heart of a man. An illuminating anatomy of a murder and the ripple effect it produces within a family and a community. The King of Lies is a stunning debut. Now with an excerpt from John Hart's next book, The Hush, available February 2018.
