My Life In The Silver Screen:

My Life in the Silver Screen Gerald Kaufman, 1985-01-01 The Silver Screen Maureen Howard, 2005-07-26 Maureen Howard deepens her inquiry into the meeting place of history and family in this stunning and accessible novel Isabel Murphy renounced silent film stardom to raise a family in Rhode Island Now she is dead at 90 and her children are trying to break free of the lives she has dealt them Joe a Jesuit priest has failed at love and the healing of souls Stodgy Rita has found late happiness with a gangster who has turned state's evidence And Gemma Isabel's honorary child has grown up to experience a strange celebrity as a photographer A darkly comic story of guilt love and forgiveness The Silver Screen is luminous in its intelligence and empathy My Life at Corriganville Movie Ranch Edwin Colin, 2019-06-15 This book covers the early life of a boy who led a storybook life growing up at Corriganville Western Movie Ranch During his life there he was befriended by stuntman Shorty Shea who would be killed at the hands of the Manson family An Amorous History of the Silver Screen Zhang Zhen, 2005 Shanghai in the early twentieth century was alive with art and culture With the proliferation of popular genres such as the martial arts film the contest among various modernist filmmakers and the advent of sound Chinese cinema was transforming urban life But with the Japanese invasion in 1937 all of this came to a screeching halt Until recently the political establishment has discouraged comprehensive studies of the cultural phenomenon of early Chinese film and this momentous chapter in China's history has remained largely unexamined The first sustained historical study of the emergence of cinema in China An Amorous History of the Silver Screen is a fascinating narrative that illustrates the immense cultural significance of film and its power as a vehicle for social change Named after a major feature film on the making of Chinese cinema only part of which survives An Amorous History of the Silver Screen reveals the intricacies of this cultural movement and explores its connections to other art forms such as photography architecture drama and literature In light of original archival research Zhang Zhen examines previously unstudied films and expands the important discussion of how they modeled modern social structures and gender roles in early twentieth century China The first volume in the new and groundbreaking series Cinema and Modernity An Amorous History of the Silver Screen is an innovative and well illustrated look at the cultural history of Chinese modernity through the lens of this seminal moment in Shanghai cinema My Life in Clothes Summer Brenner, 2010 Despite my mother's efforts to tame me I resisted holding onto my creature nature until the day she informed me I would no longer be running naked in the yard or showering with my dad It took a few scoldings before I was transformed from colt to show pony a proper reflection of whichever laundered starched pressed brushed straightened zippered tied and buttoned garment was placed upon me From the foreword of Summer Brenner's new collection of short stories My Life in Clothes These stories explore the charm tyranny and preoccupation of clothes on and off bought made or found fashion or function projection or expression body and soul turned inside out My Life in Focus Gianni Bozzacchi, 2017-01-10 When Gianni Bozzacchi accepted an assignment as a photographer on the set of The Comedians 1967

he didn't know that his life was about to change forever. His ability to capture the beauty of candid moments drew the attention of the film's star Elizabeth Taylor and prompted her to hire him as her personal photographer. Not only did he go on to enjoy a jet set life as her friend and confidant preserving unguarded moments between the violet-eyed beauty and Richard Burton as they traveled the world, but Bozzacchi also became an internationally renowned photographer and shot some of the biggest celebrities of the 1960s and 1970s. In My Life in Focus, Bozzacchi traces his journey from humble beginnings to the sphere of the rich and famous. As a child, he cultivated his skills by working with his father, a photographer for the Italian government. Following in his parent's footsteps was not something Bozzacchi had foreseen for his future, but his passion for taking pictures and his ability to put his subjects at ease enabled him to capture stunning images of some of the greatest stars of the twentieth century, including Audrey Hepburn, Steve McQueen, Raquel Welch, Mia Farrow, Clint Eastwood, and the royal family of Monaco. Beautifully illustrated with many of the photographer's most iconic images, this lively memoir reveals private moments in the Taylor-Burton love story and provides an invaluable behind-the-scenes look at the business of filmmaking and the perils of celebrity.
