Nursing The Dying:

Nursing Support for Families of Dying Patients Rosemary McIntyre, 2001-11-28 When a patient has an advanced disease considerable demands are placed on the whole family Whilst coping with their own profound emotions close relatives commonly have to support their loved ones through a range of treatments as the disease progresses through stages of remission and recurrence until finally a shift to a palliative mode of treatment must be faced In such situations family roles and relationships are likely to be disrupted and family members coping resources can be stretched to the limit It is clear from this that by the time the terminal stage of the patient's illness is reached the family may have travelled a long and difficult road and close relatives are likely to be emotionally vulnerable and in need of support This study explores the needs of relatives of terminally ill patients and the concerns of nurses who provide care in the hospital The research data is used to design implement and evaluate clinical standards for improved family support

Nursing the Dying Patient John Costello, 2004-08-27 This text introduces the reader to the key issues surrounding care of the dying patient as well as highlighting the importance of context in the social management of dying Written in a pragmatic style it provides a foundation from which to consider the theoretical and practical concerns that are central to terminal care in institutional as well as community based settings Illustrated with case studies that demonstrate how the themes of the book can be applied in practice this text encourages readers to reflect on research findings so that they are stimulated to formulate their own ideas about caring for dying patients

Compassionate Person-Centered Care for the Dying Bonnie Freeman, 2015-02-23 This groundbreaking reference for palliative care nurses is the first to provide realistic and achievable evidence based methods for incorporating compassionate and humanistic care of the dying into current standards of practice It builds on the author's research based CARES Tool a reference that synthesizes five key elements demonstrated to enable a peaceful death as free from suffering as possible Comfort Airway Management Management of Restlessness and Delirium Emotional and Spiritual Support and Self Care for Nurses The book describes step by step how nurses can easily implement the basic tenets of the CARES Tool into their end of life practice It provides a clearly defined plan that can be individualized for each patient and tailored to specific family needs and facilitates caring for the dying in the most respectful and humane way possible

Final Moments Deborah Witt Sherman, 2009-01-06 What was it like the first time a nurse witnessed death How do nurses cope with death when it becomes almost routine What lessons can we learn from their experiences Twenty five nurses from hospitals private practices and in home health care tell about their experiences with death Hear from people new to the field as well as those who have been in nursing for decades about how they deal with grief the controversies about end of life decisions the challenges of caring for people as they die and the harrowing experience of telling their family members Edited and introduced by a registered nurse the book is a resource for both nurses and anyone who wants to better understand death and dying
