Possible Urban Worlds Richard Wolff,1998      Urban Nightscapes Paul Chatterton,Robert Hollands,2003-09-02 In many western cities urban nightlife is experiencing a McDonaldisation where big branded names are taking over large parts of downtown areas leaving consumers with an increasingly standardised experience This book takes a new look at this rapidly changing aspect of urban life examining the relationships between young adults nightlife and city spaces It focuses on what the authors call urban nightscapes both mainstream and alternative youthful cultural activities in bars pubs night clubs and music venues which occur against a backdrop of increasing corporate influence in the night time economy      Dark Fiber Geert Lovink,2002 The Internet is being closed off by businesses and governments intent on creating an environment free of dissent In this text the author covers concerns and issues of navigation and usability without losing sight of the agenda of those who control hardware software content design and delivery      Multicultures and Cities Gösta Arvastson,Tim Butler,2006 In the planning of city development it is important that different groups should be able to live in peaceful coexistence This is how the concept multicultural came about During the 1970s multiculturalism was developed into a model of political democracy a strategy for society s rapid change The term multiculturalism suggests that contemporary urban cultures somehow co exist in a condition of mutual respect and possible equality The new multiculturalism seems very different from the migration that took place in the 1960s and 1970s The essays in this collection address the general themes of ethnicity and contemporary European urbanism in many different ways examining a wide variety of cities and city pairings The common bond in these writings is the impact that a contemporary merging of ethnicity and culture is having on the new urbanity that is now widely accepted as driving the new Europe The effect is far greater than might be predicted from the relative social powerlessness of many of the bearers of these cultures At the same time existing urban processes continue to ensure the marginality of these groups      Industrial Heritage Sites in Transformation Harald A. Mieg,Heike Oevermann,2014-08-07 The management of industrial heritage sites requires rethinking in the context of urban change and the issue of how to balance protection preservation conservation and development becomes all the more crucial as industrial heritage sites grow in number This brings into play new challenges not only through the known conflicts between monument preservation and contemporary architecture but also with the increasing demand for economic urban development by reusing the built heritage of former industrial sites This book explores the conservation and change of industrial heritage sites in transformation presenting and examining ten European and Asian case studies The interdisciplinary approach of the book connects a diversity of rationales and discourses including monument protection World Heritage conventions urban regeneration urban planning and design architecture and politics This is the first book to deepen the understanding of industrial heritage site management as a networked multi dimensional task involving diverse social agents and societal discourses      The Handbook of Peer Production Mathieu O'Neil,Christian Pentzold,Sophie Toupin,2021-02-02 The

Whose Urban Renaissance? Libby Porter, Kate Shaw, 2009-01-13 The desire of governments for a renaissance of their cities is a defining feature of contemporary urban policy From Melbourne and Toronto to Johannesburg and Istanbul government policies are successfully attracting investment and middle class populations to their inner areas Regeneration or gentrification as it can often become produces winners and losers There is a substantial literature on the causes and unequal effects of gentrification and on the global and local conditions driving processes of dis and re investment But there is little examination of the actual strategies used to achieve urban regeneration what were their intents did they succeed and if not why not and what were the specific consequences Whose Urban Renaissance asks who benefits from these urban transformations The book contains beautifully written and accessible stories from researchers and activists in 21 cities across Europe North and South America Asia South Africa the Middle East and Australia each exploring a specific case of urban regeneration Some chapters focus on government or market strategies driving the regeneration process and look closely at the effects Others look at the local contingencies that influence the way these strategies work Still others look at instances of opposition and struggle and at policy interventions that were used in some places to ameliorate the inequities of gentrification Working from these stories the editors develop a comparative analysis of regeneration strategies with nuanced assessments of local constraints and counteracting policy responses The concluding chapters provide a critical comparison of existing strategies and open new directions for more equitable policy approaches in the future Whose Urban Renaissance is targeted at students academics planners policy makers and activists The book is unique in its geographical breadth and its constructive policy emphasis offering a succinct critical and timely exploration of urban regeneration strategies throughout the world Henri Lefebvre on Space Lukasz Stanek, 2011 Shows how Lefebvre's theory of space developed out of direct engagement with architecture urbanism and urban sociology Activist Planning Case Studies 1990-2020 Tore Sager, 2023-05-10 Activist planning shows how communities neighbourhoods and social movements use their own alternative spatial planning to oppose interventions from the government This book is a systematic overview of scholarly reported activist planning cases It includes descriptions of the various kinds of activist planning and contains a comprehensive bibliography of academic publications related to the 164 cases The book informs the planning community what activist planning is in practice and offers a classification scheme where all reported cases fit in This text is needed because no comprehensive collection of activist planning cases exists nor does a classification comprising all types of activist planning There is to date no database of cases and associated literature providing researchers and students with an authoritative source The search for cases in the English language has been global and the cases and 122 supplementary examples are sorted by country and world region Australasia Europe the Global South and North America Contemporary Movements in Planning Theory Patsy Healey, 2017-03-02 Planning Theory has a history of common debates about ideas and practices and is rooted in a critical concern for the improvement of human and environmental well being particularly as pursued through interventions which seek to shape environmental conditions and place qualities The third and final volume in this series covers Contemporary Movements in Planning Theory and topics include communicative practices and the negotiation of meaning networks institutions and relations and the complexity turn The articles selected represent the most influential and controversial recent work in planning theory and are supplemented by detailed introductions by the editors Dynamics of Critical Internet Culture (1994-2001) Geert Lovink, 2009 This study examines the dynamics of critical Internet culture after the medium opened to a broader audience in the mid 1990s It is Geert Lovink's PhD thesis submitted late 2002 written in between his two books on the same topic Dark Fiber 2002 and My First Recession 2003 The core of the research consists of four case studies of non profit networks the Amsterdam community provider The Digital City DDS the early years of the nettime mailinglist community a history of the European new media arts network Syndicate and an analysis of the streaming media network Xchange The research describes the search for sustainable community network models in a climate of hyper growth and increased tensions and conflict concerning moderation and ownership of online communities The Global Cities Reader Neil Brenner, Roger Keil, 2006 This book
