Reimer, 2019-07-15 The History of German film is diverse and multi faceted This volume can only suggest the richness of a film tradition that includes five distinct German governments Wilhelmine Germany the Weimar Republic the Third Reich the Federal Republic of Germany West Germany and the German Democratic Republic East Germany s well as a reunited Germany two national industries Germany and Austria and a myriad of styles and production methods Paradoxically the political disruptions that have produced these distinct film eras as well as and the natural inclination of artists to rebel and create new styles allow for construction of a narrative of German film Disjuncture generates distinct points of separation and yet also highlights continuities between the ruptures This second edition of Historical Dictionary of German Cinema contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 200 cross referenced entries on directors actors films cinematographers composers producers and major historical events that greatly affected the direction and development of German cinema This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about German cinema The University of Missouri Studies, 1928 Gerhard Hauptmann and the Naturalist Drama John Osborne, 2005-06-27 What was German Naturalism

What were its achievements How does it compare with its counterparts in other European countries These are some of the difficult questions addressed by John Osborne in Gerhart Hauptmann and the Naturalist Drama a revised and updated version of his The Naturalist Drama in Germany now widely acknowledged as the standard introduction to the subject The debates to which he contributed and in some cases initiated on Naturalism in the German theatre Naturalist theory in Germany and the development of the Naturalist movement to the contemporary Social Democrat movement have remained central issues This revised edition preserves the structure and approach of the original including its emphasis on the early dramas of Hauptmann while taking full account of subsequent scholarship which provides the context in which this Naturalist playwright s work can be placed Spatial Turns Jaimey Fisher, Barbara Caroline Mennel, 2010 The phrase spatial turns signals the growing importance of space as an analytical as well as representational category for culture. The volume addresses such emerging modes of inquiry by bringing together for the first time essays that engage with spatial turns, spatiality and the theoretical implications of both in the context of German culture history and theory. Migrating from fields like geography, urban studies and architecture, the new centrality of space has transformed social science fields as diverse as sociology, philosophy and psychology. In cultural studies, productive analyses of space increasingly cut across the studies of literature, film, popular culture and the visual arts. Spatial Turns brings together essays that apply a spatial analysis to German literature and other media and engages with specifically German theorizations of space by such figures as Siegfried Kracauer and Walter Benjamin. The volume is organized in four sections. Mapping Spaces addresses cartography in all forms and in its intersection with culture. Spaces of the Urban takes up one of the key sites of spatial studies, the city. Spaces of Encounter considers how Germany has become a contact zone for multiple ethnicities and Visualized Spaces concerns the theorization of space in film and new media studies.

Correct English, 1921 The Dial Francis Fisher Browne, Waldo Ralph Browne, Scofield Thayer, Marianne Moore, 1922 Studien Zur Literatur Der Gegenwart Adolf Stern, 1905 Modern Drama and Opera, 1915 Mitteilungen Der Literarhistorischen Gesellschaft Bonn, 1908 The History of German Literature on Film Christiane Schönfeld, 2023-06-15

A 2024 CHOICE OUTSTANDING ACADEMIC TITLE. This book tells the story of German language literature on film, beginning with pioneering motion picture adaptations of Faust in 1897 and early debates focused on high art as mass culture. It explores, analyzes and contextualizes the so-called golden age of silent cinema in the 1920s, the impact of sound on adaptation practices, the abuse of literary heritage by Nazi filmmakers and traces the role of German language literature in exile and postwar films across ideological boundaries in divided Germany in New German Cinema and in remakes and movies for cinema as well as television and streaming services in the 21st century. Having provided the narrative core to thousands of films since the late 19th century, many of German cinema's most influential masterpieces were inspired by canonical texts, popular plays and even children's literature. Not being restricted to German adaptations, however, this book also traces the role of literature originally written in German in international film productions, which sheds light on the interrelation between cinema and key historical events. It outlines how processes of adaptation are shaped by global catastrophes and the emergence of nations, by materialist conditions, liberal economies and capitalist imperatives, political agendas, the mobility of individuals and sometimes by the desire to create reflective surfaces and perhaps even art. Commercial cinema's adaptation practices have foregrounded economic interest, but numerous filmmakers throughout cinema history have turned to German language literature not simply to entertain but as a creative contribution to the public sphere, marking adaptation practice at least potentially as a form of active citizenship.
