Rosiebelle Lee Wildcat Tennessee Raymond Andrews, 1988 Bawdy and sometimes horrifying hilarious on the way to being tragic Raymond Andrews's Muskhogean County novels tell of black life in the Deep South from the end of the First World War to the beginning of the 1960s from the days of mules and white men with bullwhips to the moment when the pendulum began to swing This second novel in the trilogy begins in 1906 on the day when a beautiful acorn brown woman arrives in the small North Georgia community of Appalachee asking directions to the house of the richest white man living in this heah town Forty years one hundred acres four children numerous grandchildren and many legends later Rosiebelle Lee is on her deathbed and ready to reveal her secrets Rosibelle Lee Wildcat Tennessee Raymond Andrews, 1980-06-01

Contemporary Black Men's Fiction and Drama Keith Clark, 2001 Demonstrating the extraordinary versatility of African American men's writing since the 1970s this forceful collection illustrates how African American male novelists and playwrights have absorbed challenged and expanded the conventions of black American writing and with it black male identity From the John Henry Syndrome a definition of black masculinity based on brute strength or violence to the submersion of black gay identity under equations of gay with white and black with straight the African American male in literature and drama has traditionally been characterized in ways that confine and silence him Contemporary Black Men's Fiction and Drama identifies the forces that limit black male discourse including traditions established by iconic African American male authors such as James Baldwin Richard Wright and Ralph Ellison This thoughtful volume also shows how contemporary black male authors use their narratives to put forward new ways of being and knowing that foster a more complete sense of self and more humane and open ways of communicating with and relating to others In the work of Charles Johnson Ernest Gaines and August Wilson contributors find paths toward broader less rigid ideas of what black literature can be what the connections among individual and communal resistance can be and how black men can transcend the imprisoning models of hyper masculinity promoted by American culture Seeking greater spiritual connection with the past John Edgar Wideman returns to the folk rituals of his family while Melvin Dixon and Brent Wade reclaim African roots and traditions Ishmael Reed struggles with a contemporary cultural oppression that he sees as an insidious echo of slavery while Clarence Major's experimental writing suggests how black men might reclaim their own voices in a culture that silences them Taking in a wide range of critical theoretical cultural gender and sexual concerns Contemporary Black Men's Fiction and Drama provides provocative new readings of a broad range of contemporary writers Writers of Multicultural

Fiction for Young Adults M. Daphne Kutzer, 1996-01-09 Multicultural fiction is an essential part of the American literary landscape This reference helps scholars teachers and librarians choose significant texts from both the past and present and provides guidance in approaching multicultural issues as they are discussed in fiction for young adults Included are entries for 51 writers some of whom have nearly been forgotten others who are just emerging Each entry provides biographical critical and bibliographical information while a general bibliography of works on multicultural literature concludes the book. Authors included range from the nearly forgotten such as Laura Adams Armer to the newly discovered such as Graham Salisbury winner of the 1994 Scott O Dell Award for Historical Fiction. The breadth of authors covered ensures an historical context for the issues raised by multiculturalism and the sections on the critical reception of each author address such important issues as the authority and authenticity of the writer to comment on a different culture. Contributors are of many different ethnicities and include important scholars of children's literature lending authenticity and authority to the volume itself.

Remembering the Past in Contemporary African American Fiction Keith Byerman, 2006-05-18. With close readings of more than twenty novels by writers including Ernest Gaines, Toni Morrison, Charles Johnson, Gloria Naylor, and John Edgar Wideman, Keith Byerman examines the trend among African American novelists of the late twentieth century to write about black history rather than about their own present. Employing cultural criticism and trauma theory, Byerman frames these works as survivor narratives that rewrite the grand American narrative of individual achievement and the march of democracy. The choice to write historical narratives, he says, must be understood historically. These writers earned widespread recognition for their writing in the 1980s, a period of African American commercial success as well as the economic decline of the black working class and an increase in black on black crime. Byerman contends that a shared experience of suffering joins African American individuals in a group identity and writing about the past serves as an act of resistance against essentialist ideas of black experience shaping the cultural discourse of the present. Byerman demonstrates that these novels disrupt the temptation in American society to engage history only to limit its significance or to crown successful individuals while forgetting the victims.

Baby Sweet's Raymond Andrews, 1988. Bawdy and sometimes horrifying, hilarious on the way to being tragic. Raymond Andrews's Muskogean County novels tell of black life in the Deep South from the end of the First World War to the beginning of the 1960s, from the days of mules and white men with bullwhips to the moment when the pendulum began to swing. This story tells of a venture between John Morgan Jr., the dissolute heir to Appalachee's leading white family, and Baby Sweet Jackson, owner of the once vibrant Red's Cafe in Dark Town. On Independence Day 1966, the partners open Muskogean County's first bordello with two dark-skinned black women, Lana Lips and Fig, ready for the expected white clientele. Then a mysterious woman, announcing herself as the third whore, arrives and proclaims that her body will be for colored only.

Folks,Nancy Summers Folks,2021-10-21 Since the early 1970s southern fiction has been increasingly attentive to social issues including the continuing struggles for racial justice and gender equality the loss of a sense of social community and the decline of a coherent regional identity The essays in The World Is Our Home focus on writers who have explicitly addressed social and cultural issues in their fiction and drama including Dorothy Allison Horton Foote Ernest J Gaines Jill McCorkle Walker Percy Lee Smith William Styron Alice Walker and many others The contributors provide valuable insights into the transformation of southern culture over the past thirty years and probe the social and cultural divisions that persist The collection makes an important case for the centrality of social critique in contemporary southern fiction      American Icons J. Richard Gruber,1997 An illustrated biography of the famous Georgia born New York artist      How I Married Michele Gary Gildner,2021-11-17 In these fifteen personal essays Gary Gildner comes of age at a Catholic school learning Latin how the girls crossed their legs in algebra and football in the school s bomb shelter by exchanging punches with his best friend He goes to Communist Poland to teach American literature and in medias res teaches the Warsaw Sparks baseball team how to win Living in Czechoslovakia when that country is splitting in half he learns the meaning of Where the Dog is Buried and fathers a daughter Gildner writes about his Polish German family s immigrant story and his friendships with poet Richard Hugo and Raymond Andrews his college roommate and the author of Baby Sweet s and other African American novels He writes about 9 11 stealing meeting a cougar up close meeting Michele felling his barn in Idaho s Clearwater Mountains with a crowbar and boxing with Chuck Davey a fellow Michigan State Spartan and one time challenger for the World Welterweight title Essays from this collection have appeared in such venues as the New York Times Magazine The Southern Review and New Letters      American Book Publishing Record ,1988      To Be Continued Hope Apple,Merle L. Jacob,2000-10-10 Keeping track of prolific authors who write fiction series was quite challenging for even the most ardent fan until To Be Continued debuted in 1995 Noew readers will be happy that the soon to be released second edition has added 1 600 new books and 400 new series To Be Continued Second Edition maintains the first volume s successful formula that featured concise A to Z entries packed with useful information including titles publishers publication dates genre categories annotations and subject terms Among the genre categories that can be found in To Be Continued are romance science fiction crime novel horror adventure fantasy humor western war Christian fiction and others      The Scary Mason-Dixon Line Trudier Harris,2009-06-01 New Yorker James Baldwin once declared that a black man can look at a map of the United States contemplate the area south of the Mason Dixon Line and thus scare himself to death In The Scary Mason Dixon Line renowned literary scholar Trudier Harris explores why black writers whether born in Mississippi New York or elsewhere have consistently both loved and hated the South Harris explains that for these authors the South represents not so much a place or even a culture as a rite of passage Not one of them can consider himself or herself a true African American writer without confronting the idea of the South in a decisive way Harris considers native born black southerners Raymond Andrews Ernest J Gaines Edward P Jones Tayari Jones Yusef Komunyakaa Randall Kenan and Phyllis Alesia Perry and nonsouthern writers James Baldwin Sherley Anne Williams and Octavia E Butler The works Harris examines date from Baldwin s Blues for Mr Charlie 1964 to Edward P Jones s The Known World 2003 By including Komunyakaa s poems and Baldwin s play as well as male and female authors Harris demonstrates that the writers preoccupation with the South cuts across lines of genre and gender Whether their writings focus on slavery migration from the South to the North or violence on southern soil and whether they celebrate the triumph of black southern heritage over repression or castigate the South for its treatment of blacks these authors cannot escape the call of the South Indeed Harris asserts that creative engagement with the South represents a defining characteristic of African American writing A singular work by one of the foremost literary scholars writing today The Scary Mason Dixon Line superbly demonstrates how history and memory continue to figure powerfully in African American literary creativity The Oxford Handbook of the Literature of the U.S. South Fred Hobson, Barbara Ladd, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of the Literature of the U S South brings together contemporary views of the literature of the region in a series of chapters employing critical tools not traditionally used in approaching Southern literature It assumes ideas of the South global multicultural plural more Souths than South that would not have been embraced two or three decades ago and it similarly expands the idea of literature itself Representative of the current range of activity in the field of Southern literary studies it challenges earlier views of antebellum Southern literature as well as in its discussions of twentieth century writing questions the assumption that the Southern Renaissance of the 1920s 1930s and 1940s was the supreme epoch of Southern expression that writing to which all that had come before had led and by which all that came afterward was judged As well as canonical Southern writers it examines Native American literature Latina o literature Asian American as well as African American literatures Caribbean studies sexuality studies the relationship of literature to film and a number of other topics which are relatively new to the field The Cambridge Companion to the African American Novel Maryemma Graham, 2004-04-15 The Cambridge Companion to the African American Novel presents new essays covering the one hundred and fifty year history of the African American novel Experts in the field from the US and Europe address some of the major issues in the genre passing the Protest novel the Blues novel and womanism among others The essays are full of fresh insights for students into the symbolic aesthetic and political function of canonical and non canonical fiction Chapters examine works by Ralph Ellison Leon Forrest Toni Morrison Ishmael Reed Alice Walker John Edgar Wideman and many others They reflect a range of critical methods intended to prompt new and experienced readers to consider the African American novel as a cultural and literary act of extraordinary significance This volume including a chronology and guide to further reading is an important resource for students and teachers alike The Power of the Porch Trudier Harris,1996 In ways that are highly individual says Harris yet still within a shared oral tradition Zora Neale Hurston Gloria Naylor and Randall Kenan skillfully use storytelling techniques to define their audiences reach out and draw them in and fill them with anticipation Considering how such dynamics come into play in Hurston s Mules and Men Naylor s Mama Day and Kenan s Let the Dead Bury Their Dead Harris shows how the power of the porch resides in readers as well who in giving themselves over to a story confer it on the writer Against this background of give and take anticipation and fulfillment Harris considers Zora Neale Hurston s special challenges as a black woman writer in the thirties and how her various roles as an anthropologist folklorist and novelist intermingle in her work In Gloria Naylor s writing Harris finds particularly satisfying themes and characters A New York native Naylor came to a knowledge of the South through her parents and during her stay on the Sea Islands she wrote Mama Day A southerner by birth Randall Kenan is particularly adept in getting his readers to accept aspects of African American culture that their rational minds might have wanted to reject Although Kenan is set apart from Hurston and Naylor by his alliances with a new generation of writers intent upon broaching certain taboo subjects in his case gay life in small southern towns Kenan s Tims Creek is as rife with the otherworldly and the fantastic as Hurston s New Orleans and Naylor s Willow Springs Ebony, 1980-09 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine

Southern Writers Joseph M. Flora,Amber Vogel,2006-06-21 This new edition of Southern Writers assumes its distinguished predecessor s place as the essential reference on literary artists of the American South Broadly expanded and thoroughly revised it boasts 604 entries nearly double the earlier edition s written by 264 scholars For every figure major and minor from the venerable and canonical to the fresh and innovative a biographical sketch and chronological list of published works provide comprehensive concise up to date information Here in one convenient source are the South s novelists and short story writers poets and dramatists memoirists and essayists journalists scholars and biographers from the colonial period to the twenty first century What constitutes a southern writer is always a matter for debate Editors Joseph M Flora and Amber Vogel have used a generous definition that turns on having a significant connection to the region in either a personal or literary sense New to this volume are younger writers who have emerged in the quarter century since the dictionary s original publication as well as older talents previously unknown or unacknowledged For almost every writer found in the previous edition a new biography has been commissioned Drawn from the very best minds on southern literature and covering the full spectrum of its practitioners Southern Writers is an indispensable reference book for anyone intrigued by the subject
