eternal final results that will at last determine where you spend eternity That was the simple question I asked my dad one day nearly thirty five years ago This simple question was met with an incredible and angry response from my mother who thought that I had no right asking such a question and that it was none of my business This was basically the same response that I got from my sister when she learned that I had the temerity to ask this question of my dad This simple little question began a familial discord between my mother and me that resulted in what ended up as largely a dysfunctional family relationship for almost thirty years In addition to this underlying cause of our family dysfunction I did more than my share to advance the cause of dysfunction in our family Over the course of years our family relationships remained strained and distant largely my fault until that day when we all learned that our mom had cancer From that point on things were very different in our family The steady treatment and advance of Mom s cancer seemed to take an oddly twisted and tangled route to a result that left all of us arguably stunned and even more so surprised This is the story of that twisted and tangled trip

Smith, 2020-10-26 Tea growing was a prosperous industry in Sichuan when Wang Anshi's New Policies created a Tea Market Agency to buy up Sichuanese tea and trade it to Tibetan tribesmen for cavalry horses At first the highly autonomous agency not only acquired the needed horses but made a profit After the Junchen conquest of North China however market realities changed and the combined Tea and Horse Agency's once successful policies ruined tea farmers failed to meet quotas for horses and ran a deficit Paul J Smith details the workings of Sichuan tea farming and the tea trade examines the geopolitical factors that forced the Song to buy horses and graphically describes the difficulties of driving them more than a thousand miles through rugged mountains with only inexperienced conscripts as trail hands In this study of fiscal sociology Smith also explains how the Tea and Horse Agency transformed the Sichuan local elite which was notorious for its resistance to state power into imperial civil servants eager to tax their own region He draws on modern theories of corporate behavior to explain what made the inner workings of the Agency an extraordinary departure for the Chinese civil service and he demonstrates how the agency put into practice the most radical New Policies theories of state economic activism The Agency made entrepreneurs out of bureaucrats but ultimately became ruinously tyrannical as the system of state rewards and punishments drove its personnel to actions that crippled key sectors of the economy
