Zones of Instability Imre Szeman, 2004-12-01 Attempts by writers and intellectuals in former colonies to create unique national cultures are often thwarted by a context of global modernity which discourages particularity and uniqueness In describing unstable social and political cultures such third world intellectuals often find themselves torn between the competing literary requirements of the local culture of the colony and the cosmopolitan world culture introduced by Western civilization In Zones of Instability Imre Szeman examines the complex relationship between literature and politics by exploring the production of nationalist literature in the former British empire Taking as his case studies the regions of the British Caribbean Nigeria and Canada Szeman analyzes the work of authors for whom the idea of thenation and literature are inexorably entwined such as Chinua Achebe Wole Soyinka C L R James Frantz Fanon and V S Naipaul Szeman focuses on literature created in the two decades after World War II decades in which the future prospects for many colonies went from extreme political optimism to extreme political disappointment He finds that the nation can be read as that space in which literature is thought to be able to conjoin two things that history has separated the writer and the people

Transnational Literature of Resistance Salam Darwazah Mir, 2024-06-13 Fills a gap in comparative studies interrogating strategies of Empire in dominating the Indigenous and linking two modern cultures from the Global South Transnational Literature of Resistance compares and contrasts resistance literatures from Guyana a British exploitation colony and Palestine a settler colony at a specific historical moment Salam Darwazah Mir contests the provinciality and Eurocentric focus of comparative literature delivers the discipline's universal objectives and expands the discipline's practice by comparing two literatures and histories from the Global South Mir situates the literatures within their wider historical and literary heritage a move that links the two countries from within the colonial imperial framework She argues that the British invasion of the protectorate of British Guiana in 1953 and the founding of the settler colony in Palestine in 1948 with imperial Britain at the helm are colonial acts to strengthen and sustain Empire The two colonial projects are evidence of the protean nature of Empire that evolves reinvents itself and reconstructs new comparable plays and strategies of controlling the Global South Within this context the emergence of poetry of resistance in both countries at this historical juncture is part and parcel of other forms of resistance during decolonization linking the formerly colonized and the presently colonized people in the Global South It is examined from within the framework of postcolonial theory as Mir reads poetry as the voice of the people in their demands for freedom equality and national independence Resistance poetry is thus born out of the need to assert identity redress invisibility and erasure reclaim national space and land and reconstruct the history of the Indigenous The History of British Women's Writing, 1920-1945 M. Joannou, 2016-01-03 Featuring sixteen contributions from recognized authorities in their respective fields this superb new mapping of women's writing ranges from feminine middlebrow novels to Virginia Woolf's modernist aesthetics from women's literary journalism to crime fiction and from West End drama to the literature of Scotland Ireland and Wales

Gender, Place, and Identity of South Asian Women Pourya Asl, Moussa, 2022-04-08 In the past century South Asia underwent fundamental cultural social and political changes as many countries progressed from colonial dominations through nationalist movements to independence These transformations have been intricately bound up with the spatiality of social life in the region drawing further attention to the significance of social spaces within transformative politics and identity formations Gender Place and Identity of South Asian Women studies contemporary literature of South Asian women with a focus on gender place and identity It contributes to the debate on gender identity and equality spatial and social justice women empowerment marginalization and anti discrimination measures Covering topics such as partition memory narrative spatial mobility and diasporic women's lives this book is an essential resource for students and educators of higher education researchers activists government officials business leaders academicians feminist organizations sociologists and researchers Transcultural English Studies Frank Schulze-Engler, Sissy Helff, 2009 What is most strikingly new about the transcultural is its sudden ubiquity Following in the wake of previous concepts in cultural and literary studies such as creolization hybridity and syncretism and signalling a family relationship to terms such as transnationality translocality and transmigration transcultural terminology has unobtrusively but powerfully edged its way into contemporary theoretical and critical discourse The four sections of this volume denote major areas where transcultural questions and problematics have come to the fore theories of culture and literature that have sought to account for the complexity of culture in a world increasingly characterized by globalization transnationalization and interdependence realities of individual and collective life worlds shaped by the ubiquity of phenomena and experiences relating to transnational connections and the blurring of cultural boundaries fictions in literature and other media that explore these realities negotiate the fuzzy edges of ethnic or national cultures and participate in the creation of transnational public spheres as well as transcultural imaginations and memories and finally pedagogy and didactics where earlier models of teaching other cultures are faced with the challenge of coming to terms with cultural complexity both in what is being taught and in the people it is taught to and where target cultures have become elusive The idea of locating culture and literature exclusively in the context of ethnicities or nations is rapidly losing plausibility throughout an English speaking world that has long since been multi rather than monolingual Exploring the prospects and contours of Transcultural English Studies thus reflects a set of common challenges and predicaments that in recent years have increasingly moved centre stage not only in the New Literatures in English but also in British and American studies

Contradictory Indianness Atreyee Phukan, 2022-07-15 Introduction Indenture creolization and literary imaginary Passage and poetics in Totaram Sanadhyia and LalBihari Sharma Repatriation and the Indian problem in Ismith Khan s The Jumbie bird 1960 The trope of the ricefield in Harold Sonny Ladoo s No pain like this body 1972 En Gendering indenture in Shani Mootoo s Cereus blooms at night 1992

Poems at the Edge of Differences Renate Papke, 2008 This study consists of two parts The first part offers an overview of feminism s theory of differences The second part deals with the textual analysis of poems about mothering by women from India the Caribbean and Africa Literary criticism has dealt with the representation of mothering in prose texts The exploration of lyrical texts has not yet come Since the late 1970s the acknowledgement of and the commitment to difference has been foundational for feminist theory and activism This investigation promotes a differentiated locational feminism Friedman The comprehensive theoretical discussion of feminism s different concepts of gender race ethnicity and mothering builds the foundation for the main part the presentation and analysis of the poems The issue of mothering foregrounds the communicative aspect of women s experience and wants to bridge the gap between theory and practice This study however does not intend to specify mothering as a universal and unique feminine characteristic It underlines a metaphorical use and discusses the concepts of nurturing maternal practice and social parenthood Regarding the extensive material this study understands itself as an explorative not concluding investigation placed at the intersections of gender studies postcolonial and classical literary studies Most of all it aims at initiating a dialogue and interchange between scholars and students in the Western and the Third World
