The Royal Air Force: The Trenchard Years, 1918-1929 Ian M. Philpott, 2005-07-19 The inter war years between 1918 and 1939 saw the newly created Royal Air Force fighting for its very existence politically being dispatched to the remotest corners of the British Empire and its Protectorates in various policing roles and then finally engaged in a headlong rush to modernize in the face of the new German Fascist regime that was threatening British and European freedom Yet this important period in RAF history and its effect on political and military rationale during the period has never been completely documented This exhaustive and comprehensive reference is the most detailed work to be published on the subject The author gives full information on the changing structure of the Force during the period squadron operations political machinations and their effects the airplanes and their equipment the personnel technical advances in navigation and breakthroughs achieved in engine performance The book is cross referenced throughout extremely well illustrated and contains an abundance of location maps and other diagrams This book will become a Bible for anyone interested in the history of the RAF This work has been reviewed by personnel at the RAF Historical Branch who praise it

Charles à Court Repington C.M.G.,2015-11-06 Includes the First World War Illustrations Pack 73 battle plans and diagrams and 198 photos A fascinating history of the First World War seen through the eyes of a highly respected and connected War Correspondent Lieut Col Charles Court Repington was a career soldier in the British Army renowned for his service in the Sudan Burma and the Boer War he was drummed out of the service for having an affair with the wife of British official in 1902 He was well known as an excellent staff officer and remained closely tied to the comrades that he had fought and served with including the future leaders of the British Army in the First World War Cutting his teeth as a war correspondent during the Russo Japanese War of 1904 1905 he was ideally placed as the War Correspondent of the Times when war broke out in 1914 to report on the unfolding tragedy Using all of his connections and influence he visited the Western Front many times and was in intimate correspondence and contact with the senior figures of the British Army such as Sir John French Sir Douglas Haig Herbert Plumer and Horace Smith Dorrien No great respecter of private conversations or confidences he lost many friends when he wrote The First World War his work was critical well written caustic and unbiassed These classic memoirs remain as valuable and vivid as they when they were written This second volume covers the period from spring 1917 until the end of the war

The Royal Air Force: Re-Armament 1930 to 1939 Ian M. Philpott,2006-07-20 Volume II of this mammoth reference work covers the years in which the League of Nations failed because of the emerging dictatorships in Germany and Italy and the expansionist policies adopted by Japan Britain was still reeling from the consequences of World War I and the RAF was sadly far behind the other major world powers in aircraft design still relying on bi planes that were direct descendants of World War I thinking It gradually became apparent that despite UK government dithering the RAF needed to develop new aircraft engines and increase production to confront the bully boy tactics of the Axis powers As the turn of the decade approached extraordinary measures were taken to enable RAF to defend Britain s skies and this her freedom As with Volume 1 this book covers every conceivable part of the RAF s history through these pre War days It looks at the development and invention of new equipment such as radar monoplane fighters metal construction and the heavy bomber This was an era when science in aviation was rushing ahead and fortunately for Britain s freedom it laid the foundations of victory in 1 943
