H. Royal Air Force Quarterly and Commonwealth Air Forces Journal, 1944 Educating Air Forces Randall Wakelam, David Varey, 2020-12-01

Compared to armies and navies which have existed as professional fighting services for centuries the technology that makes air forces possible is much newer As a result these services have had to quickly develop methods of preparing aviators to operate in conditions ranging from peace or routine security to full scale war The first book to address the history and scope of air power professionalization through learning programs Educating Air Forces offers valuable new insight into strategy and tactics worldwide Here a group of international experts examine the philosophies policies and practices of air service educational efforts in the United States France Italy Germany Australia Canada and the UK The contributors discuss the founding successes and failures of European air force learning programs between the Great War and World War II and explore how the tense Cold War political climate influenced the creation curriculum and results of various programs They also consider how educational programs are adapting to soldiers needs and the demands of modern warfare Featuring contributions from eminent scholars in the field this volume surveys the learning approaches globally employed by air forces in the past century and evaluates their effectiveness Educating Air Forces reveals how experiential learning and formal education are not only inextricably intertwined but also necessary to cope with advances in modern warfare

The Royal Air Force in American Skies Tom Killebrew, 2015-10-15 By early 1941 the war raged in Europe and Great Britain stood alone against the aerial might of Nazi Germany Although much of the Royal Air Force's pilot training program had been relocated to Canada and other Dominion countries the need for pilots remained acute The British looked to the United States for possible assistance Passage of the Lend Lease Act in March 1941 allowed for the training of British pilots in the United States and the formation of British Flying Training Schools These unique schools were owned by American operators staffed with American civilian instructors supervised by British Royal Air Force officers utilized aircraft supplied by the U S Army Air Corps and used the RAF training syllabus Within these pages Tom Killebrew provides the first comprehensive history of all seven British Flying Training Schools located in Terrell Texas Lancaster California Miami Oklahoma Mesa Arizona Clewiston

Florida Ponca City Oklahoma and Sweetwater Texas The first British students arrived in a still neutral United States in June 1941 Many had never been in an airplane or even driven an automobile but they mastered the elements of flight attended ground school classes were introduced to the mysteries of the Link trainer and instrument flight and then ventured out on cross country exercises Students began night flying with the natural apprehension associated with taking off into a black sky aided by only a few instruments a flickering flare path and limited ground references Some students failed the periodic check flights and had to be eliminated from training while others were killed during mishaps and are buried in local cemeteries Those who finished the course became Royal Air Force pilots But the story of the British Flying Training Schools is more than the story of young men learning to fly These young British students would also forge a strong and long lasting bond of friendship with the Americans they came to know This bond would last not only during training but would continue throughout the war and still exist long after the end of the war Corporate Author Headings ,1970 Corporate Author Headings Federal Council for Science and Technology (U.S.). Committee on Scientific and Technical Information,1970 Swords, Clunks and Widowmakers Ray Stouffer,2015 Air University Periodical Index ,1961 The Canada Gazette Canada,1927 Proclamations and Orders in Council Passed Under the Authority of the War Measures Act, R.S.C. (1927) Chap. 206 Canada,1942 Air Force Magazine ,1986 Canadian Air Review ,1929 Historical Atlas of Canada: Addressing the twentieth century, 1891-1961 Geoffrey J. Matthews,1987-01-01 Uses maps to illustrate the development of Canada from the last ice sheet to the end of the eighteenth century
