

I think the biggest innovations of the twenty-first century will be the intersection of biology and technology. A new era is beginning, just like the digital one was when I was his age.

Cities Under COVID-19: A Systems Perspective Philippa Howden-Chapman, Franz Wilhelm Gatzweiler, Rachel Cooper, Isaac Luginaah, 2023-08-31 The 15 international authors of this book live in Brazil, Canada, Cameroon, China, Cuba, European Union, Finland, Gaza Strip, India, Nepal, New Zealand, Nigeria, Sri Lanka, United Kingdom and the United States of America. The authors are linked to the International Science Council's Urban Health and Wellbeing Programme. In this book, the authors analyse the management of COVID-19 which started in late 2019 in their cities. They explain their city's political, social and economic context, the dynamics of how the pandemic unfolded, drawing on quantitative and visual data and their reflections on how it was managed. The book concludes with an analysis of the similarities and differences among COVID-19 outcomes in these cities. Using a systems perspective to learn from these experiences can help all cities to improve the governance of pandemics and be better prepared for likely future ones.

International and Transnational Perspectives on Urban Systems Céline Rozenblat, Denise Pumain, Elkin Velasquez, 2018-05-08 This book reviews the recent evolutions of cities in the world according to entirely revised theoretical fundamentals of urban systems. It relies on a vision of cities sharing common dynamic features as co-evolving entities in complex systems. Systems of cities that are interdependent in their evolutions are characterized in the context of that dynamics. They are identified on various geographical scales: worldwide, regional or national. Each system exhibits peculiarities that are related to its demographic, economic and geopolitical history and that are underlined by the systematic comparison of continental and regional urban systems following a common template throughout the book. Multi-scale urban processes, whether local (one city or within national systems), systems of cities or linked to the expansion of transnational networks towards global urban systems throughout the world over the period 1950-2010, are deeply analyzed in 16 chapters. This global overview challenges urban governance for designing policies facing globalization and the subsequent ecological transition The answers which emerge from the diversity of situations in the world add some reflections on and recommendations to the urban system framework proposed in the Habitat III agenda Who's Who in Science and Engineering 2008-2009 Who's Who Marquis, Marquis Who's Who, 2007-12 Cities Enterprise and Society Frank Moulaert, Allen John Scott, 1997-01-01 This collection of essays provides a review and restatement of concepts and analytical insights about the relations between the dynamics of the production system and urban society A number of questions underline the arrangement of the book and constitute the central debates in the individual chapters These questions include how have large cities and city systems developed in the context of economic globalization and the restructuring processes of the international economy what are the restructuring strategies of firms within the urban economy how have social and political harmonization and polarization in urban society been affected by entrepreneurial strategies and what has been the response of other urban participants and in particular local authorities to economic restructuring Handbook of Proximity Relations Torre, André, Gallaud, Delphine, 2022-01-18 This Handbook is a state of the art analysis of proximity relations offering insights into its history alongside up to date scientific advances and emerging questions Its broad scope from industrial and innovation approaches through to society issues of living and working at a distance territorial development and environmental topics will ensure an in depth focus point for researchers in economics as well as geography organizational studies planning and sociology Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004

World City Network Peter J. Taylor, Ben Derudder, 2015-08-17 With the advent of multinational corporations the traditional urban service function has gone global In order to provide services to globalizing corporate clients the offices of major financial and business service firms across the world have generated networks of work It is the myriad of flows between office towers in different metropolitan centres that has produced a world city network Taylor and Derudder's unique and illuminating book provides both an update and a substantial revision of the first edition that was published in 2004 It provides a comprehensive and systematic description and analysis of the world city network as the skeleton upon which contemporary globalization has been built Through an analysis of the intra company flows of 175 leading global service firms across 526 cities in 2012 this book assesses cities in terms of their overall network connectivity the regional configurations they form and their changing position in the period 2000-12 Results are used to reflect on cities and city state relations in the context of the global ecological and economic crisis Written by two of the foremost authorities on the subject this book provides a much needed mapping of the connecting relationships between world cities and will be a valuable resource for students of urban studies geography sociology and planning Who's who in Finance and Industry 2000-2001, 1999
