The Changing Wildlife of Great Britain and Ireland David L. Hawksworth,2003-06-26 Periodic comprehensive overviews of the status of the diverse organisms that make up wildlife are essential to determining trends threats and future prospects Just over 25 years ago leading authorities on different kinds of wildlife came together to prepare an assessment of their status of a wide range of organisms in Great Britain and Ireland in The Changing Flora and Fauna of Britain also edited by Professor David L Hawksworth CBE Now in The Changing Wildlife of Great Britain and Ireland he has gathered together some of the original and also new contributors to review changes since that time and look to the future Contributions range from viruses diatoms fungi lichens mites and nematodes through butterflies dragonflies flies and slugs to flowering plants ferns mammals birds and fish The state of knowledge in different groups is assessed and the effectiveness of statutory and other measures taken to safeguard wildlife considered The picture is far from bleak ameliorating sulphur dioxide levels have benefited sensitive lichens and mosses in a dramatic way water quality improvement has been beneficial there have been few certain extinctions and rediscoveries of species thought to have been lost Biodiversity Action Plans have also benefited targeted species but habitat restoration and management for some is not always good for others But there are worrying trends in declining populations with an increasing number being regarded as threatened or endangered especially in agricultural areas and where woodland management has changed particular threats from introduced species and concern over the effects of climate change Some of the smaller organisms remain poorly known a situation unlikely to change as expertise in many is scant or being lost This stock check and look to the future will be a key source book to conservationists naturalists and professional biologists for many years to come Bird Life of Woodland and Forest Robert J. Fuller,2003-11-20 Describes the factors affecting the bird life of woodland and the effects of habitat management

Ratcliffe,2010-06-10 This book describes the bird life of the various upland regions of the British Isles from a ecological standpoint Habitat Creation and Repair O. L. Gilbert,Penny Anderson,1998 With increasing public awareness of environmental issues landscape managers and developers are being required to create substantial areas of naturalistic planting particularly in urban areas and to restore habitats degraded by building development or overuse This book provides the definitive guide to habitat creation and repair ranging from ethics theory and principles to the practical detail of designing habitats for wildlife The authors who have been working and teaching in the field for many years draw on a wealth of practical experience as well as an in depth knowledge of the existing widely scattered literature to provide an authoritative and accessible account of this rapidly developing subject From coastal and freshwater ecosystems to mountains forest and grasslands the book spans all of the major types of habitat to be found in the UK Oliver Gilbert and Penny Anderson give advice on deciding when habitat creation is the correct path to follow and then cover all steps from site survey through to the final design and actual realization of the scheme For each habitat the authors describe the options problems and solutions most likely to be encountered and give examples of good and bad habitat creation in practice drawn from the UK and other countries Habitat Creation and Repair is the first comprehensive guide to habitat creation to be published for several years It will be a key text for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate courses in ecology landscape architecture resource management and environmental science With habitat conservation creation and repair increasingly a priority amongst planners developers and policy makers this book will also be welcomed by professional ecologists environmental consultants resource managers and landscape architects

Wetland Management R. A. Falconer, P. Goodwin, 1994 In recent years there has been growing concern about the management of wetlands particularly in the USA and increasingly in Europe These wetlands ranging from a small harbour such as Christchurch in the UK to the large mangrove swamps of Malaysia are natural resources which require comprehensive management Whilst considerable research has been undertaken and documented on the management of wetland ecosystems little emphasis has been focused on the geomorphic hydraulic and hydrologic behaviour of wetlands and the consequent implications for practical management solutions

Birds and Forestry Mark Avery, Roderick

Leslie,2010-10-30 In this book an ornithologist and a forester have combined their skills to try and tease out the real facts behind the various arguments on forestry The conflict between forestry and nature conservation has become a major environmental issue in Britain in the 1980s The planting of large tracts of land with exotic conifers and the resulting disturbance of existing plant and animal communities has polarized the debate each camp believing that it has the most rational view But the interactions involved are complex Which bird species are really threatened How can we judge the relative value of bird species ousted by plantations and the new species which colonize them How can the need for forest products be reconciled with the demands of conservationists This fascinating book tackles these issues in a forthright manner It represents a significant step towards achieving the sort of prudent land planning that will really improve our beleaguered countryside Jacket painting by Philip Snow Foreword by David Bellamy Scottish Birds ,2001 Agri-environmental Policy in the European Union Henry Buller,Geoff Wilson,Andrea Holl,2017-11-01 This title was first published in 2000 This volume provides a detailed examination of agri environmental policy within ten European states Individual chapters consider the agricultural and environmental policy contexts within each state and examine the range and significance of agri environmental policy proposed in addition to their spatial and territorial impact their policy making implications and their consequences for the structures institutions and actors of national farming policy both across and within national borders Drawing from ten national profiles and the data sets provided the book provides a comparative analysis of implementation trends filling a gap in the literature on this topic Taking European legislation as its starting point the comparative section of the book examines how Member States have responded to EU imperatives in their budgetary commitments in their implementation strategies and in the policy outputs that result The study identifies similarities across European nations in the territorial and agricultural focus of agri environmental policy and draws attention to the alternative Bioacoustics ,1994 The Dalesman ,1989
