Sexing The Mind Nineteenth Century Fictions Of Hysteria:

Sexing the Mind Evelyne Ender, 1995 Sexing the Mind looks at scenes of hysteria in works by George Sand Gustave Flaubert George Eliot and Henry James as well as in the writings of Sigmund Freud showing how these texts represent distinctive attempts to break loose from erotic political and epistemological models of Victorian masculinity and femininity Through her approach which is both closely textual reading against the grain in psychoanalytic and feminist fashion and historical retracing in medical and literary texts the manifestations of hysteria Ender uncovers a series of discursive structures that engender the modern subject Her book probes the interplay of writing subjectivity and sexual identity and succeeds in showing how the nineteenth century view of hysteria from Sand to the early Freud displays the competing claims of male female consciousness

Sexing the Mind Evelyne Ender, 2019-06-07 In a book both brilliant and lucid Evelyne Ender explores the issue of sexual identity in the fiction criticism and psychoanalytic writings of the nineteenth century She focuses on the figure of the hysteric which she says came to represent a mind haunted by the questioning of gender

Beyond Uncle Tom's Cabin Sylvia Mayer, Monika Mueller, 2011-08-05 Ever since feminist scholarship began to reintroduce Harriet Beecher Stowe's writings to the American literary canon in the 1970s critical interest in her work has steadily increased Beyond Uncle Tom's Cabin The Writings of Harriet Beecher Stowe edited by Sylvia Mayer and Monika Mueller shows that during her long writing and publishing career Stowe was a highly prolific writer who targeted diverse audiences dealt with drastically changing economic commercial and cultural contexts and wrote in a diversity of genres

Hugo Wolf and his Mörike Songs Susan Youens, 2000-06-22 Viennese composer Hugo Wolf produced one of the most important song collections of the nineteenth century when he set to music fifty three poems by the great German poet Eduard Mörike Susan Youens reappraises this singular collaboration to shed new light on the sophisticated interplay between poetry and music in the songs Wolf is customarily described as the Poet's Composer someone who revered poetry and served it faithfully in his music Yet as Youens reveals this cliché overlooks the rich terrain in which his songs are often at cross purposes with his chosen poetry Although Wolf did much to draw the world's attention to the neglected Swabian poet his musical interpretation of the poetry was also influenced by his own life psychology and experiences This book examines selected Mörike songs in detail demonstrating that the poems and music each have their own distinctive stories which at times intersect but also diverge

Expressions of Fear from Antiquity to the Contemporary World Ana-Cristina Halichias, Maria-Luiza Dumitru Oancea, Nicolae-Andrei Popa, 2016-06-22 The volume offers a timely discussion of the feeling of fear adopting a diachronic and complex perspective taking into account its various forms including its literary mythological anthropological psychoanalytical etymological philosophical theological and historiographical representations among others It tackles the concept of fear in a range of time periods in cultural and literary history from the Archaic Period and Greco Roman Classical Antiquity to the modern and postmodern periods As such the volume marks an extremely relevant contribution to scholarship in the humanities and will be of interest to scholars professors and students as well as anyone interested in the analysis of profound human feelings

The Surplus Woman Catherine L. Dollard, 2012 The first German women's movement embraced the belief in a demographic surplus of unwed women known as the Frauenüberschuß as a central leitmotif in the campaign for reform Proponents of the female surplus held that the advances of industry and urbanization had upset traditional marriage patterns and left too many bourgeois women without a husband This book explores the ways in which the realms of literature sexology demography socialism and female activism addressed the perceived plight of unwed women Case studies of reformers including Lily Braun Ruth Br Elisabeth Gnauck K hne Helene Lange Alice Salomon Helene St öcker and Clara Zetkin demonstrate the expansive influence of the discourse surrounding a female surplus By combining the approaches of cultural social and gender history The Surplus Woman provides the first sustained analysis of the ways in which imperial Germans conceptualized anxiety about female marital status as both a product and a reflection of changing times

Victorian Jewelry, Identity, and the Novel Jean Arnold, 2016-03-16 In this study of Victorian jewels and their representation Jean Arnold explores the role material objects play in the cultural cohesion of the West Diamonds and other gems Arnold argues symbolized the most closely held beliefs of the Victorians and thus can be considered prisms of culture Mined in the far reaches of the empire they traversed geographical space and cultural boundaries representing monetary value and evoking empire class lineage class membership gender relations and aesthetics Arnold analyzes the many roles material objects fill in Western culture and surveys the cross cultural history of the Victorian diamond uncovering how this object became both preeminent and representative of Victorian values Her close readings of Wilkie Collins's The Moonstone George Eliot's Middlemarch William Makepeace Thackeray's The Great Gogarty Diamond and Anthony Trollope's The Eustace Diamonds show gendered aesthetic economic fetishistic colonial legal and culturally symbolic interpretations of jewelry as they are enacted through narrative Taken together these divergent interpretations offer a holistic view of a material culture's affective attachment to objects As the assigned meanings of jewels turn them into symbols of power personal relationships and valued ideas human interactions with gems elicit emotional responses that bind the materialist culture together

An Ethics of Becoming Sonjeong Cho, 2014-02-04 In attempting to conceptualize feminine subjectivity beyond the familiar paradigm of dualism and within the parameters of ethics this study examines the political and intellectual identity of contemporary poststructuralist feminism and its profound resonance with the nineteenth century British female Bildungsroman Rooted in fundamental questions about the nexus between feminist theory and feminist literature genre and gender subjectivity and ethics sexuality and textuality and mimesis and politics this book aims specifically to configure feminine subjectivity in the horizon of becoming always incomplete non-identitarian performative unknowable and thus paradoxically unbecoming as it disseminates in a modality of alterity in novels by Jane Austen Charlotte Brontë and George Eliot The close reading of major novels by these women writers illuminates the artistic density and ethical depth of their writing by demonstrating that these women writers rewrite the genealogy of subjectivity and invent their own Bildungsroman as a rich narrative vehicle for the feminine

Deadly Desires Julie Lokis-Adkins, 2018-05-01 During the fin de siècle stories about hysterical women filled the air of Paris and the novels emerging during this era conveyed this hysteria and openly portrayed the symptoms of the women being treated at the Salpetiere This book examines the emergence of hysterical discourse and its influence on women's writing specifically focusing on the presentation of female sexuality in three different narratives

Exemplary Ambivalence in Late Nineteenth-Century Spanish America Elisabeth L. Austin, 2012-09-14 Exemplary Ambivalence in Late Nineteenth Century Spanish America Narrating Creole Subjectivity casts new light on the role of exemplary narrative in nineteenth century Spanish America highlighting the multiplicity of didactic writing and its dynamic relationship with readers as interpretive agents Drawing on literary and historical models of creole heterogeneity Austin's study probes the unstable social and ethnic fictions of the creole elite as they portray themselves through the flawed canvas of exemplary discourse Exemplary Ambivalence examines creole subjectivity through postcolonial and Latin American theoretical lenses to show that Spanish American creole subjects always multiple reveal their ideological ambivalence through exemplary narrative This study examines a cross section of canonical and lesser known texts written toward the end of the nineteenth century by authors across Spanish America including Eugenio Cambaceres Argentina Jos Asunci n Silva Colombia Jos Mart Cuba Clorinda Matto de Turner Peru and Juana Manuela Gorriti Argentina These texts range from realist and modernist novels to a cookbook of multiple authorship and engage issues of nationalism citizenship gender indigenous rights and liberal ideologies within the historical context of Spanish America's weakened democracies and modernizing economies at the end of the nineteenth century Austin's research fills a critical gap within studies of the nineteenth century in Spanish America as it explores the inconsistencies of exemplary texts and emphasizes the forms sources and implications of creole ideological and narrative multiplicity By recognizing the inherent ambivalence of exemplary discourse along with creole writing and reading subjectivities Exemplary Ambivalence opens fresh perspectives on canonical texts while it also engages some of the non canonical hybrid and fragmentary texts of nineteenth century reading culture
