Bové, 2021-01-12 It is no wonder literary criticism is so sullen It is too philosophical too much indebted to the dour Walter Benjamin wedded to aestheticized helplessness Lit crit needs new inspirations the sober cheer of Wallace Stevens the loving eye of Rembrandt romance melodrama and wit Let there be more poetry Paul Bové says and less cynicism

Vise and Shadow Peter Balakian, 2015-05-06 Peter Balakian is a renowned poet scholar and memoirist but his work as an essayist often prefigures and illuminates all three I think of vise and shadow as two dimensions of the lyric literary and visual imagination he writes in the preface to this collection which brings together essayistic writings produced over the course of twenty five years Vise as in grabbing and holding with pressure but also in the sense of the vise grip of the imagination which can yield both clarity and knowledge Consider the vise grip of some of the poems of our best lyric poets how language might be put under pressure as carbon might be put under pressure to create a diamond And shadow the second half of the title both as noun the shaded or darker portion of the picture or view or perspective partial illumination and partial darkness and as verb to shadow to trail secretly as an inseparable companion or a force that follows something with fidelity to cast a dark light on something a person an event an object a form in nature Vise and Shadow draws into conversation such disparate figures as W B Yeats Hart Crane Joan Didion Primo Levi Robert Rauschenberg Bob Dylan Elia Kazan and Arshile Gorky revealing how the lyric imagination of these artists grips experience shadows history and casts its own type of illumination creating one of the deepest kinds of human knowledge and sober truth In these elegantly written essays Balakian offers a fresh way to think about the power of poetry art and the lyrical imagination as well as history trauma and memory

In Hawthorne's Shadow Samuel Chase Coale, 2014-07-15 The world is so sad and solemn wrote Nathaniel Hawthorne that things meant in jest are liable by an overwhelming influence to become dreadful earnest gaily dressed fantasies turning to ghostly and black clad images of themselves From the radical dualism of Hawthorne s vision Samuel Coale argues springs a continuing tradition in the American novel In Hawthorne s Shadow is the first critical study to describe precisely the formal shape of Hawthorne s psychological romance and to explore his themes and images in relation to such contemporary writers as John Cheever Norman Mailer Joan Didion John Gardner Joyce Carol Oates William Styron and John Updike When viewed from this perspective certain writers particularly Cheever Mailer Oates and Gardner appear in a new and very different light leading to a considerable reevaluation of their achievement and their place in American fiction Mr Coale s long interviews and conversations with John Cheever John Gardner William Styron and others have provided insights and perspectives that make this book particularly valuable to students of contemporary American literature Coale links contemporary writers to an on going American romantic tradition represented by such earlier authors as Melville Harold Frederic Faulkner Flannery O Connor and Carson McCullers He explores the distinctly Manichean matter of much American romance linking it to America s Puritan past and to the almost schizophrenic dynamics of American culture in general Finally he reexamines the post modernist writers in light of Hawthorne s shadow and shows that however similar they may be in some ways they differ remarkably from the previous American romantic tradition Cyclopaedia of
