Chaudhuri, 2016-02-22 The social sciences have been heavily influenced by modernization theory focusing on issues of economic growth political development and social change in order to develop a predictive model of linear progress for developing countries following a Western prototype Under this hegemonic paradigm of development the world tends to get divided into simplistic binary oppositions between the West and the rest us and them and self and other Proposing to shift the discussion on what constitutes the Other as opposed to the Self from philosophy and cultural studies to the social sciences this book explores how the structural asymmetries existing between Western discourses and the realities of the non Western world manifest themselves in the ideas institutions and socio political practices of India and China and in how far they shape the social scientist's understanding of their discipline in general It provides a counter narrative by revealing the relativity of geographies and by showing that the conventional presentation of core elements of the Asian socio political set up as aberrations from the Western models fails to acknowledge their inherent strategic character of adapting Western concepts to meet local requirements Drawing on multiple disciplines concepts and contexts in India and China the book makes a valuable contribution to the theory and practice of politics as well as to International and Asian Studies Whose News? Ammu Joseph, Kalpana Sharma, 2006-08-04 Whose News The Media and Women's Issues 1994 quickly became an international

Visualizing Secularism and Religion Maha Yahya,2012-05-22 Over the past two decades secular politics across the globe have witnessed an increasing turn to religion based political movements such as the rise of political Islam and Hindu nationalism which have been fueling new and alternative notions of nationhood and national ideologies The rise of such movements has initiated widespread debates over the meaning efficacy and normative worth of secularism Visualizing Secularism and Religion examines the constitutive role of religion in the formation of secular national public spheres in the Middle East and South Asia arguing that in order to establish secularism as the dominant national ideology of countries such as Turkey Lebanon and

India the discourses practices and institutions of secular nation building include rather than exclude religion as a presence within the public sphere The contributors examine three fields urban space and architecture media and public rituals such as parades processions and commemorative festivals with a view to exploring how the relation between secularism religion and nationalism is displayed and performed This approach demands a reconceptualization of secularism as an array of contextually specific practices ideologies subjectivities and performances rather than as simply an abstract legal bundle of rights and policies

Gender, Culture and Human Rights Siobhán Mullally, 2006-05-26 In recent years feminist theory has increasingly defined itself in opposition to universalism and to discourses of human rights Rejecting the troubled legacies of Enlightenment thinking feminists have questioned the very premises upon which the international human rights movement is based Rather than abandoning human rights discourse however this book argues that feminism should reclaim the universal and reconstruct the theory and practice of human rights Discourse ethics and its post metaphysical defence of universalism is offered as a key to this process of reconstruction The implications of discourse ethics and the possibility of reclaiming universalism are explored in the context of the reservations debate in international human rights law and further examined in debates on women s human rights arising in Ireland India and Pakistan Each of these states shares a common constitutional heritage and in each religious cultural claims intertwined with processes of nation building have constrained the pursuit of gender equality Ultimately this book argues in favour of a dual track approach to cultural conflicts combining legal regulation with an ongoing moral political dialogue on the scope and content of human rights

Islamic Law and International Human Rights Law Anver M. Emon, Mark Ellis, Benjamin Glahn, 2012-10-11 The relationship between Islamic law and international human rights law has been the subject of considerable and heated debate in recent years The usual starting point has been to test one system by the standards of the other asking is Islamic law compatible with international human rights standards or vice versa This approach quickly ends in acrimony and accusations of misunderstanding By overlaying one set of norms on another we overlook the deeply contextual nature of how legal rules operate in a society and meaningful comparison and discussion is impossible In this volume leading experts in Islamic law and international human rights law attempt to deepen the understanding of human rights and Islam paving the way for a more meaningful debate Focusing on central areas of controversy such as freedom of speech and religion gender equality and minority rights the authors examine the contextual nature of how Islamic law and international human rights law are legitimately formed interpreted and applied within a community They examine how these fundamental interests are recognized and protected within the law and what restrictions are placed on the freedoms associated with them By examining how each system recognizes and limits fundamental freedoms this volume clears the ground for exploring the relationship between Islamic law and international human rights law on a sounder footing In doing so it offers a challenging and distinctive contribution to the literature on the subject and will be an invaluable reference for students academics and policy makers engaged in the legal and religious debates surrounding Islam and the West Grounding Security Professor Carol Weisbrod, 2013-01-28 This book examines some of the mechanisms which are currently conceived as affording individual security The idea of security includes emotional and financial components These interconnect so that such common concepts as trust in someone and care taking include both ideas of emotional and financial support State policies on security rest on perceptions of two other institutions the family and insurance both of which are subject to change At one time the extended family was seen as a major security providing institution but the contemporary nuclear family is more fragile The concept of insurance originally entailed ideas of community and mutual aid however the institution has developed in its modern private form as a profit driven entity This book addresses various uses of state power in providing security for individuals and outlines different ways in which this can be done
