Shakespeare Bacon And The Great Unknown 1912:

Shakespeare, Bacon, and the Great Unknown Andrew Lang, 2020-09-28 The theory that Francis Bacon was in the main the author of Shakespeare's plays has now been for fifty years before the learned world Its advocates have met with less support than they had reason to expect Their methods their logic and their hypotheses closely resemble those applied by many British and foreign scholars to Homer and by critics of the very Highest School to Holy Writ Yet the Baconian theory is universally rejected in England by the professors and historians of English literature and generally by students who have no profession save that of Letters The Baconians however do not lack the countenance and assistance of highly distinguished persons whose names are famous where those of mere men of letters are unknown and in circles where the title of Professor is not duly respected The partisans of Bacon aver or one of them avers that Lord Penzance Lord Beaconsfield Lord Palmerston Judge Webb Judge Holmes of Kentucky U S Prince Bismarck John Bright and innumerable most thoughtful scholars eminent in many walks of life and especially in the legal profession have been Baconians or at least opposed to Will Shakspeare's authorship To these names of scholars I must add that of my late friend Samuel Clemens D Litt of Oxford better known to many as Mark Twain Dr Clemens was indeed no mean literary critic witness his epoch making study of Prof Dowden's Life of Shelley while his researches into the biography of Jeanne d Arc were most conscientious With the deepest respect for the political wisdom and literary taste of Lord Palmerston Prince Bismarck Lord Beaconsfield and the late Mr John Bright and with every desire to humble myself before the judicial verdicts of Judges Holmes Webb and Lord Penzance with sincere admiration of my late friend Dr Clemens I cannot regard them as in the first place and professionally trained students of literary history They were no more specially trained students of Elizabethan literature than myself they were amateurs in this province as I am an amateur who differ from all of them in opinion Difference of opinion concerning points of literary history ought not to make our angry passions rise Yet this controversy has been extremely bitter I abstain from quoting the sweetmeats in Captain MacTurk's phrase which have been exchanged by the combatants Charges of ignorance and monomania have been answered by charges of forgery lying scandalous literary dishonesty and even inaccuracy Now no mortal is infallibly accurate but we are all sane and indifferent honest There have been forgeries in matters Shakespearean alas but not in connection with the Baconian controversy Monthly Bulletin James V.
