Original Edition Kate Sanborn, 2020-11-22 Mr Everett once told a pathetic anecdote of Edmund Burke that in the decline of his life when living in retirement on his farm at Beaconsfield the rumour went up to London that he had gone mad and went round his park kissing his cows and horses His only son had died not long before leaving a petted horse which had been turned into the park and treated as a privileged favourite Mr Burke in his morning walks would often stop to caress the favourite animal On one occasion the horse recognised Mr Burke from a distance and coming nearer and nearer eyed him with the most pleading look of recognition and said as plainly as words could have said I have lost him too and then the poor dumb beast deliberately laid his head upon Mr Burke's bosom Overwhelmed by the tenderness of the animal expressed in the mute eloquence of holy Nature's universal language the illustrious statesman for a moment lost his self possession and
