My Grandmothers Kitchen:

From the Family Kitchen Gena Philibert Ortega, 2012-04-12 Celebrate Your Family Recipes and Heritage From Great grandma s apple pie to Mom s secret recipe stuffing food is an important ingredient in every family s history This three part keepsake recipe journal will help you celebrate your family recipes and record the precious memories those recipes hold for you whether they re hilarious anecdotes about a disastrous dish or tender reflections about time spent cooking with a loved one The foods we eat tell us so much about who we are where we live and the era we live in The same is true for the foods our ancestors ate This book will show you how to uncover historical recipes and food traditions offering insight into your ancestors everyday lives and clues to your genealogy Inside you ll find Methods for gathering family recipes Interview questions to help loved ones record their food memories Places to search for historical recipes An explanation of how immigrants influenced the American diet A look at how technology changed the way people eat A glossary of historical cooking terms Modern equivalents to historical units of measure Actual recipes from late nineteenth and early twentieth century cookbooks

Miriam's Kitchen Elizabeth Ehrlich, 1998-09-01 Like many Jewish Americans Elizabeth Ehrlich was ambivalent about her background She identified with Jewish cultural attitudes but not with the institutions she had fond memories of her Jewish grandmothers but she found their religious practices irrelevant to her life It wasn t until she entered the kitchen and world of her mother in law Miriam a Holocaust survivor that Ehrlich began to understand the importance of preserving the traditions of the past As Ehrlich looks on Miriam methodically and lovingly prepares countless kosher meals while relating the often painful stories of her life in Poland and her immigration to America These stories trigger a kind of religious awakening in Ehrlich who as she moves tentatively toward reclaiming the heritage she rejected as a young woman gains a new appreciation of life s possibilities choices and limitations

Eleven Voices Afitap Boz, Charles Francis, Marianne Crawford, 2010-02-18 Writing has been part of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at San Francisco State University since its beginning people expressing the lives theyve led or might have led or saving fragments of history in danger of vanishing forever if they dont get it written down The dream was a community of writers Courses were offered in many genres fantasy fiction poetry writing while walking neighborhoods performing monologues Four years ago continuing students asked for a convening of writers to share their work with a captive audience of other writers They wanted someone to take the responsibility of keeping them together guiding them as needed monitoring the time Susan Hoffman the Institutes original director in San Francisco became the workshops facilitator partly as a fellow writer often lapsed but one who had written a little bit of several genres and who wanted to give them what they said they needed Joan Holden and Laurence Howard who later shared the roles of facilitators provided a radically different but equally valuable perspective Susan adds I see these writers work as defining eras past present and future The stories express the past with intimacy The present is integrating ones life into a whole narrative And the challenge and possibility for the future is learning from our own historical moment as the first time in mans history when there are more people over 60 alive today than have existed ever My Grandmother's Kitchen Laura Clarke,Claire Wallace,2010-01-01 Beautiful hardback cookbook charting the life stories wisdom and secret family recipes of 19 grandmothers from different cultural backgrounds Beautifully photographed portraits of the grandmothers cooking in their kitchens with their grandchildren A range of delicious multicultural recipes each beautifully photographed Hidden Kitchens Nikki Silva,Davia Nelson,2005-10-21 A volume based on the popular NPR radio series explores how communities come together through food combining popular stories from the show with new interviews photographs and recipes from a wide array of atypical kitchens Grandma's Kitchen Jason Shulman,1985

Bioart Kitchen Lindsay Kelley,2016-03-07 What do new technologies taste like A growing number of contemporary artists are working with food live materials and scientific processes in order to explore and challenge the ways in which manipulation of biological materials informs our cooking and eating Bioart or biological art uses biotech methods to manipulate living systems from tissues to ecologies While most critiques of bioart emphasise the influences of new media digital media and genetics this book takes a bold alternative approach Bioart Kitchen explores a wide spectrum of seemingly unconnected subjects which when brought together offer a more inclusive expansive history of bioart namely home economics the feminist art of the 1970s tissue culture methodologies domestic computing and contemporary artistic engagements with biotechnology Food for Our Grandmothers Joanna Kadi,1994 Thoughtful and critical this memorable collection of essays poems and recipes by over forty Arab American and Arab Canadian feminists honors the courage and spirit of Arab women past present and future Book jacket Hey! Conversations in a Park Regina Ryan,2019 Conversations in a Park is a light hearted book of motivational musings peppered with research and wisdom from the worlds of psychology philosophy and classic literature Dr Regina Ryan argues that the chaos that accompanies motherhood should be countered by creating stolen moments throughout the day and using these with discipline and consistency to connect to your inner self through solitude daily rituals expressing creativity and learning how to condition yourself to choose one thought over another The main philosophy is to think small and in time you will find that the big has been hiding in the small all along Growing Up in the House of Doom Patt Gavin, 2007-03 Patt Gavin grew up as the third child in a family of nine mostly boys. Along with his six brothers they spent their childhood doing the things most boys do: catching animals, making messes, and terrorizing their sisters. Growing Up In The House Of Doom is a collection of stories from a time gone by when life was simpler and children actually spent time outdoors playing with other children in a real life setting. A time when children walked or rode their bikes to little league games and knew it was time to come home when the street lamps came on. Enjoy these memories of a group of boys who enjoyed their childhoods to the fullest in spite of the objections of their sisters.
