Selected Letters of Charles Baudelaire Charles Baudelaire, 1986-02-18 Undeniably one of the modern world's greatest literary figures Charles Baudelaire 1821-67 left behind a correspondence documenting in intimate detail a life as intense in its extremes as his poetry This extensive selection of his letters many translated for the first time into English depicts a poet divided between despair and elation thoughts of suicide and intimations of immortality a man who could write to his mother We're obviously destined to love one another to end our lives as honestly and gently as possible and say in the next sentence I'm convinced that one of us will kill the other who courted and then suffered the controversy provoked by his masterpiece Les Fleurs du mal who struggled throughout his life with syphilis contracted in his youth near intolerable financial restrictions imposed by his stepfather and conflicting feelings of failure and revolt dating from his school days Writing to family friends and lovers Baudelaire reveals the incidents and passions that went into his poetry In letters to editors idols and peers Hugo Flaubert Vigny Wagner Cladel among others he elucidates the methods and concerns of his own art and criticism and comments tellingly on the arts and politics of his day In all ranging from childhood to days shortly before his death these letters comprise a complex and moving portrait of the quintessential poet and his time

The Arcades Project Walter Benjamin, 1999 Focusing on the arcades of 19th century Paris glass roofed rows of shops that were early centers of consumerism Benjamin presents a montage of quotations from and reflections on hundreds of published sources 46 illustrations Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L

O. Classe, 2000 Recovering the New Edward S. Cutler, 2003 An innovative look at the process and development of nineteenth century modernism The Writer of Modern Life Walter Benjamin, 2006 In these essays Benjamin challenges the image of Baudelaire as late Romantic dreamer and evokes instead the modern poet caught in a life or death struggle with the forces of the urban commodity capitalism that had emerged in Paris around 1850 Baudelaire, His Prose and Poetry Charles Baudelaire, 1919 Poe Poe Poe Poe Poe Poe Poe Daniel Hoffman, 1998-10-01 Poe Poe Poe Poe Poe Poe Poe is the exploration by a distinguished American poet and critic of his own lifelong fascination with the work of Edgar Allan Poe Examining Poe's achievement as poet as aesthetician as inventor of the modern detective and science fiction genres and as master of the psychological tale of terror Hoffman revels in his subject The result is a comprehensive arresting interpretation of the oeuvre and a compassionate personal portrait of its creator Announcements Kristina Mendicino, 2020-01-01 Walter Benjamin claimed that the notion of novelty took on unprecedented importance with the growth of high capitalism in the nineteenth century In this book Kristina Mendicino analyzes a selection of canonical texts that reflect profound concern with novelty and its apparent contrary the eternal return of the same including Nietzsche's Thus Spoke Zarathustra Baudelaire's lyric and prose poetry and Marx and Engels's Communist Manifesto She also addresses Eternity by the Stars by Louis Auguste Blanqui who is less well known and often underestimated in considerations of his significance for revolutionary political theory Mendicino argues that the notion of a novum cannot be understood without attentiveness to the language of announcement not least of all because the new has always been associated with a particular mode of linguistic performance Through close readings of emphatically annunciatory texts she demonstrates how the extreme possibilities of expression that they present through specific citational and rhetorical praxes render the language of announcement overdetermined and anachronistic in ways that exceed any systematic account of historical time and experience This excess in and through language is precisely what opens hitherto unheard of alternatives for conceiving of historical temporality and political possibility Pages from My Heart Larry H.
