Russia in the 'eighties.' John Frederick Baddeley, 1921 My Disillusionment in Russia Emma Goldman, 2021-11-05 In My Disillusionment in Russia Emma Goldman provides a profound critique of the Bolshevik Revolution illuminating her journey from fervent idealism to stark disillusionment Written in the early 1920s the book employs a candid personal narrative style that seamlessly blends memoir with political analysis Goldman reflects on her experiences in post revolutionary Russia dissecting the disconnect between revolutionary rhetoric and the realities of oppressive governance Through eloquent prose she paints a vivid picture of the initial hopes that accompanied the revolution juxtaposed against the harsh authoritarian measures that unfolded particularly the suppression of free speech and individual liberties offering a nuanced perspective crucial for understanding the complexities of revolutionary movements Emma Goldman a prominent anarchist and feminist was deeply influenced by her experiences as an activist across Europe and America Her participation in labor movements and her commitment to social justice fueled her initial excitement about the Russian Revolution However her disillusionment stemmed from witnessing the repression of dissent within the very society that had promised liberation reflecting her lifelong advocacy for individual freedom This evolution of thought is significant in understanding the trajectory of 20th century political movements I highly recommend My Disillusionment in Russia to anyone interested in the interplay between idealism and pragmatism in revolutionary politics Goldman's powerful insights not only challenge the myths surrounding the Bolshevik Revolution but also resonate with contemporary struggles for freedom and justice making this work an essential read for scholars and activists alike Struggling Russia, 1919 My Life and Work Henry Ford, Samuel Crowther, 1922 My Life and Work is a classic autobiography of the great American business mogul Henry Ford Henry Ford July 30 1863 April 7 1947 was an American industrialist the founder of the Ford Motor Company and sponsor of the development of the assembly line technique of mass production Although Ford did not invent the automobile or the assembly line he developed and manufactured the first automobile that many middle class Americans could afford This is his story in
