Department of New York,1915 Nothing Ever Happens Here Sarah Hagger-Holt,2021-05-04 Warm and hopeful this is a touching and honest depiction of a family changing together and staying together I wonder what people would think if they could take the front off our house like a doll's house and watch us All in the same house but everyone separate No one talking but everyone thinking the same thing Will we ever be a normal family again Izzy's family is under the spotlight when her dad comes out as Danielle a trans woman Izzy is terrified her family will be torn apart Will she lose her dad Will her parents break up And what will people at school say Now all eyes are on Izzy Can she face her fears find her voice and stand up for her family and what's right That Year at Lincoln High Joseph Gollomb,1918

Now for the Disappointing Part Steven Barker,2016-11-01 True stories from the world of temporary employment for anyone terrified of being stuck in a job they hate When Steven Barker was twelve his father in pursuit of the American Dream moved the family from Canada to Connecticut having worked his way up from an IBM mailroom to landing a vice president position in a top computer factory Steven in contrast has followed the philosophy of quit everything until you find something you don't want to quit and has spent over fifteen years as a contract employee a demographic that has come to make up 2 percent of the nation's work force Now for the Disappointing Part is the first collection of essays written for the temp workers of the millennial generation those who by choice or circumstance delay or abandon plans for long term careers for the variety and anxiety of contract work Funny insightful and sometimes shocking Barker details his life moving from job to job as his contracts expire He faces abuse as an account manager at Amazon when callers assume he's in India He learns about office politics at a nonprofit And he attends an open call at UPS for holiday help The chapters explore issues ranging from financial instability to how gender and race play into the workforce to the often poor treatment temporary employees receive compared to full time employees performing the same job Throughout Barker also reveals his parallel relationships with women which like the jobs he works appear to have predetermined expiration dates Now for the Disappointing Part is more than the stories of a man who thinks life is too short to spend forty hours a week doing something you hate It will resonate with a generation of people who are struggling to find work stability and happiness and are afraid of losing all of them
