East/West Mark Fram, Nancy Byrtus, Michael McClelland, Society for the Study of Architecture in Canada, 2000 Let's say you want to know which famous Canadian poet lived in the Waverley Hotel for seven years constantly changing rooms in fear of RCMP bugs Or you live at 44 Walmer and want to know what on earth they were thinking with those balconies Or you want to know what's behind or underneath that giant O hanging over Harbord at Spadina These things were troubling us too so we assembled East West A Guide to Where People Live in Downtown Toronto East West is a guided tour of old stories and fresh perspectives on the architecture and planning of housing and urban development in central Toronto including both success stories and perennial problems With specially prepared maps and over 120 photos and essays written by 65 of our best architects historians and planners exploring the history and development of neighbourhoods and of the individual buildings within them East West is a portrait of Toronto like no other East West is not your average city guide It'll take you down alleyways you've never heard of show you buildings you've never seen offer you that bit of history you've never been able to access It tells you how Toronto has tried to house the homeless over the years how the waterfront evolved or devolved depending on how you look at it and the character of different neighbourhoods has changed From Annex abodes to Rosedale residences this book will introduce you to a Toronto you only thought you knew Hopeful Realism in Urban Ministry Barry K. Morris, 2016-05-20 What pray tell does a faithful urban ministry require if not a triadic relationship of prayer justice and hope Could such a theologically conjunctive relationship of prayer justice and hope fortify urban ministry and challenge students and practitioners to ponder and practice beyond the box Frequently justice is collapsed to charity hope into wishful thinking or temporarily arrested despair and prayer a grasp at quick fix interventions An urban ministry's steadfast public and prophetic witness longs for the depth and width of this triad Via three countries decades of endeavors one chapter brainstorms urban ministry practices while another's literature survey signals crucial convictions Amid many seminal theologians are summoned to ground urban ministry intimations and implications Niebuhr on justice Moltmann on hope and Merton on contemplative prayer Evident is passion that fuels compassion in the service of justice hope that engages despair and prayer that draws from the contemplative center of it all thankful resources for long haul ministry The triad presses to illumine a concrete ministry's engagement of relentless forced option issues yet with significant networks resourcing Contrast awareness animates endurance The summary exegetes the original grace based serenity prayer Hence hope vitally balances realism's temptation to cynicism Realism saves hope from irrelevancy In Dying We Are Born Peter Bush, 2007-12-03 Deeply ingrained in Western culture and in the minds of most church leaders is the belief that there is a solution to every problem Peter bush offers a powerful challenge to this approach arguing that for new life energy and passion to arise in congregations they must die die to one way of being the church in order that a new way may rise Bush identifies two types of dying congregations Some congregations need to close their doors bringing to an end years of ministry Other congregations need to dramatically change their culture and ways of doing ministry Such change may not entail literally closing the congregation s doors but it will require people giving up deeply held understandings of the life and purpose of the congregation All congregations Bush contends even ones that see themselves as healthy need to be prepared to die to take up their cross so God can make them alive A skillful storyteller Bush shows readers why churches must confront their mortality He examines the role of the prophetic leader who proclaims both the congregation s death and its resurrection He explores spiritual practices and the habits of wonder remember and risk taking for congregations that know they are dying or need to die Only by dying Bush says will a congregation find resurrection life given by God who raises the dead to life

Toronto's Poor Bryan D. Palmer, Gaétan Héroux, 2016-11-23 Toronto s Poor reveals the long and too often forgotten history of poor people s resistance It details how people without housing people living in poverty and unemployed people have struggled to survive and secure food and shelter in the wake of the many panics downturns recessions and depressions that punctuate the years from the 1830s to the present Written by a historian of the working class and a poor people s activist this is a rebellious book that links past and present in an almost two hundred year story of struggle and resistance It is about men women and children relegated to lives of desperation by an uncaring system and how they have refused to be defeated In that refusal and in winning better conditions for themselves Toronto s poor create the possibility of a new kind of society one ordered not by acquisition and individual advance but by appreciations of collective rights and responsibilities Whitaker's Cumulative Book List ,1975
