Turner, 2017-03-16 The Transformation of Citizenship addresses the basic question of how we can make sense of citizenship in the twenty first century These volumes make a strong plea for a reorientation of the sociology of citizenship and address serious threats of an ongoing erosion of citizenship rights Arguing from different scientific perspectives rather than offering new conceptions of citizenship as supposedly more adequate models of rights membership and belonging they deal with both the ways citizenship is transformed and the ways it operates in the face of fundamentally transformed conditions This volume Political Economy discusses manifold consequences of a decades long enforcement of neo liberalism for the rights of citizens As neo liberalism not only means a new form of economic system it has to be conceived of as an entirely new form of global regional and national governance that radically transforms economic political and social relations in society Its consequences for citizenship as a social institution are no less than dramatic Against the background of both manifest and ideological processes the book looks at if citizenship has lost the basis it has rested upon for decades or if the institution itself is in a process of being fundamentally transformed and restructured thereby changing its meaning and the significance of citizens rights This book will appeal to academics working in the field of political theory political sociology and European studies and historical network analysis Tuscany in the Age of Empire Brian Brege, 2021-07-13 A new history explores how one of Renaissance Italy's leading cities maintained its influence in an era of global exploration, trade, and empire. The Grand Duchy of Tuscany was not an imperial power, but it did harbor global ambitions. After abortive attempts at overseas colonization and direct commercial expansion, as Brian Brege shows, Tuscany followed a different path, one that allowed it to participate in Europe's new age of empire without establishing an empire of its own. The first history of its kind, Tuscany in the Age of Empire offers a fresh appraisal of one of the foremost cities of the Italian Renaissance as it sought knowledge, fortune, and power throughout Asia, the Americas, and beyond. How did Tuscany, which could not compete directly with the growing empires of other European states, establish a global presence? First, Brege shows, Tuscany partnered with larger European powers. The duchy sought to obtain trade rights within their empires and even manage portions of other states' overseas territories. Second, Tuscans invested in cultural, intellectual, and commercial institutions at home, which attracted the knowledge and wealth generated by Europe's imperial expansions. Finally, Tuscans built effective coalitions with other regional powers in the Mediterranean and the Islamic world, which secured the duchy's access to global products and empowered the Tuscan monarchy in foreign affairs. These strategies allowed Tuscany to punch well above its weight in a world where power was equated with the sort of imperial possessions it lacked. By finding areas of common interest with stronger neighbors and forming alliances with other marginal polities, a small state was able to protect its own security while carving out a space as a diplomatic and intellectual hub in a globalizing Europe European Entry into the Pacific Dennis O. Flynn, Arturo Giráldez, 2017-09-08 World history conventionally ignores or underestimates the importance of Manila, the Manila galleons, and the Philippines as key stages in the development of trans-Pacific contact and of the world economy. Essays in this volume discuss Philippine-Asian exchanges prior to the entry of Europeans and then look at European influences and the impact of Magellan's voyage and the emergence of Manila as one of global trade's crucial linchpins during four centuries. Linkages between Latin America and China and Spanish-Japanese competition for the Chinese marketplace are important topics. Tensions and cooperation among Chinese, Japanese, Iberians, Africans, Christians, Muslims, and others on Philippine soil are also covered. This volume suggests the need for thorough re-evaluation of the Philippines' central role in terms of both Pacific history and global history as perhaps the single most important stage in the traffic that linked China and Latin America Foundations of Modern International Thought David Armitage, 2013 This insightful and wide-ranging volume traces the genesis of international intellectual thought, connecting international and global history with intellectual history The Prospect of Global History James Belich, John Darwin, Margaret Frenz, Chris Wickham, 2016 The Prospect of Global History offers a new approach to the study of history, looking at the subject across a greater chronological range and seeking perspectives from sources beyond conventional European narratives Parliaments, nations and identities in Britain and Ireland, 1660-1850 Julian Hoppit, 2013-07-19 The abolition of the Scottish and Irish Parliaments in 1707 and 1800 created a United Kingdom centred upon the Westminster legislature This text discusses what this meant for the four nations involved and how conceptions of English Irish Scottish and Welsh identities were affected French Banking and Entrepreneurialism in China and Hong Kong Hubert Bonin, 2019-06-07 Many books have addressed the economic and financial history of Hong Kong and the imperialist conflicts in the key Chinese port cities but very few books have explored French initiatives and performance in this area beyond diplomacy geopolitics or cultural issues In this book Hubert Bonin confronts arguments about the great divergence the first globalisation and forms of economic patriotism He gauges the competitive edge of French companies and banks their struggle with British domination HBSC Chartered shipping trade houses hongks and their resistance against competitors from other countries Japan Germany Netherlands Belgium USA or Russia The book delves into studies of management abroad therefore mixing broad geo economic issues with precise business history and deep banking history The connections between French interests in China and Hong Kong and the colony of Indochina are established too A second part of the book is dedicated to the case study of Hong Kong as the British colony acted as a hub for Asian and European interests at the heart of connections with mainland China and some neighbouring territories Indochina etc This is essential reading for academics interested in banking and business history the history of entrepreneurship as well as those involved in the contemporary history of China and Hong Kong in the assessment of world wide geo economic competition between European powers in Asia Great Britain and France and in the first stages of economic modernity along European models in emerging modern China The Power and Pains of Polysemy: Maritime
